STATE HORTICULTURISTS.

At the annual meeting of the State Horticultural society, which was held in Portland this week, many subjects of great interest to fruit growers were discussed. One of the most important matters which came up for consideration was that pertaining to state legislation. The report of this committee was heard and a number of recommendations to the legislature submitted to the society for action. Two bills providing for the better protection against infectious fruits were read, and, upon motion, it was decided to submit them to the legislature during the present session. There are two bills, one:

"An act to prevent the sale, gift, or distribution, planting and transportation of infected fruits or trees, plants, cuttings, grafts, seeds, scions or other material, and to prescribe penalties therefor." The bill specifies the varieties of fruits, etc., provides for the punishment of any person acting contrary to the law. Section 2 of the bill provides that "fruit of any kind, all trees, plants, cuttings, grafts, buds, seeds, pits, scions or other transportable material of any kind, grown in any foreign country, or in any of the United States or territories, or in the state of Oregon, infested by any insect or insects or their germs, or by any fungi, blight or other diseases known to be injurious to fruit or fruit trees, or to other trees and liable to spread contagion, is hereby prohibited from being offered for sale, gift, distribution, planting or transportation, until the same shall be thoroughly disinfected in such manner as may be required by the state board of horticulture and to the satisfaction of some member thereof or of an inspector of fruit pests."

The power vested in the state board to act in such matters is provided for in "An act to define certain powers and duties of the state board of horticulture, to amend an act entitled 'An act to create a state board of horticulture,' and to appropriate money therefor." The bill provides for the creation of power in the state board of horticulture to appoint an "inspector of fruit pests," his term of office, salary, duties, etc.; provides for the dissemination of knowledge concerning contagious diseases affecting fruit by the issuance of horticultural literature at the expense of the state by the society; vesting the society or its authorized agent with power to enforce quarantine against any infected orchard, nursery, etc.; and contains a number of provisions for the enforcement of the law, the salaries of the inspector and commissioner, and an increase of the state appropriations.

They are playing foot ball still in some of the smaller towns. The spirit of adventure carries some men to extremes.

The Capital Journal thinks that the convict contract labor scheme is to drop out to the legislature about the eleventh hour with a bill to secure their services at thirty cents a day.

The various gentlemen who are about to get themselves elected to the United States senate by state legislatures are rated higher, as a rule, by the commercial agencies than they are by fame.

Smallpox has broken out among the natives in Alaska, and it is feared it will become epidemic. The Puget sound board of health will quarantine against Alaskan ports until all danger of contagion is past.

The silver men who voted to defeat Harrison will get very little comfort from Cleveland's administration. John G. Carlisle, who is expected to be secretary of the treasury, says the country has enough silver now, and he is in favor of stopping its coinage.

The News states that George McAllister, owner of the Mayflower mine, Ochoco, says that the tunnel has now penetrated over 200 feet into the bedrock and the prospect is better as they advance. Mr. McAllister thinks that before another 100 feet of tunnel is completed they will have struck the main ledge of the Ochoco mining district.

Interest in the subject of road improvement shows no signs of declining; on the contrary, it appears to be on the increase everywhere. The work of the national league of good roads is beginning to bear fruit. Organizations are being perfected throughout the several states, the interest of prominent men is being enlisted on the subject, and in a variety of ways information bearing on the subject, is being disseminated. In the meantime state and local organizations are doing their share of the work, and that community which does not make a will be one of variable "moss

It disappears—the worst forms of catarrh, with the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. It's mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties effect a perfect and permanent cure, no matter how bad the case, or of how long standing. It's a remedy that succeeds where everything else has failed. Thousands of such cases can be pointed out. That's the reason its proprietors back their faith in it with money. They offer $500 reward for a case of catarrh which they cannot cure. It's a medicine that allows them to take such a risk. Doesn't common sense lead you to take such a medicine? "An advertising fake," you say. Funny, isn't it, how some people prefer sickness to health when the remedy is positive and the guarantee absolute. Wise men don't put money back of "fakes." And "faking" doesn't pay.

WINANS

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large sightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil, pure cold water and shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort and for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is also unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse power in its rushing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
