The Quickest Way to Cure a Cold. De you wish to know the quickest way to cure a cold? We will tell you. To cure a cold quickly, it must be treated before the cold has become settled in the before the cold has become settled in the system. The first symptoms of a cold is a dry, loud cough and sneezing. The cough is soon followed by watery expectoration and the sneezing by a profuse watery discharge from the nose. In severe cases there is a thin white coating on the tongue. What to do? It is only necessary to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in double does every hour. That will greatly lessen the severity of the cold and in many cases will effectually counteract it, and cure what would have been a severe cold within one or two days time. Try it and be convinced 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

HOW WING LEARNED.

Dainty Flora, Just Home from School, Tried to Teach the Willing Coolie. Our charming, dainty little Flore had just retured from her eastern "finishing school" and had fetched a great many ideas of elegance in her wise little head

"Mamma, why do you not have Wing attend the door instead of the house-maid?" she said. "I think it much nicet to have a man when we can just as well." "Because he cannot be taught," said mamina. "Jessie does it very nicely." "Why, I am sure I can teach him."

said the all important.

"Very well—you may," said wise mainma, quietly. Wing was immediately put into training. The whole matter was first explained to him; then Miss Flora took a card at haphazard from the hall table, went outside and rang the bell. Wing opened the door just a little crack and peeked cautiously out. N. B. This is the way they all do. He was instructed to open it farther. Being Miss Flora, and not a stranger, he complied and opened it as far as she indicated, taking his bearings by the pattern of the hall carpet just how far this was. Then she presented the card, told him how to show her into the drawing room. This performance was gone through several times; the door was opened each time just exactly so far, as was indicated the first time. She was shown into the drawing room exactly in the same place, and after politely saluting the impro-vised guest, Wing returned with the card. Little Lady Flora was delighted with her success, and thought some naughty. disrespectful things about old fogyism and the like. Wing was complimented and told that in the evening some gentlemen would call and he must do exactly as he had been shown. Wing was in earnest; he meant to do it or die, and put the card carefully up his sleeve. The fateful evening came. The doorbell rang. Fair Flora flew to the head of the stairs and listened. the stairs and listened. Wing came stealing carefully through the hall to the door and opened it a little crack.

"What you want?" he said to the party outside. "You got um ticket? You no come in you no got um ticket." he said firmly.

There was a little smothered sound of something outside the door. Wing, waiting, held it just two inches open. In a couple of seconds, which seemed an hour to the little listening party crouching at the head of the stairs two bits of white pasteboard were handed in from the outer darkness.

Wing held them up a moment, then "You wait-I see um," and shut the door in their faces. He rushed hastily to the gaslight, drew the "lesson" card from some hidden depths of his raiment, compared the two new ones carefully with it, flew back and reopened the door. "You no got um light ticket; you no come in here," he said, proud of having done exactly the right thing and of his having detected the bogus imitation counterfeit passport to the pres-ence of the all beautiful, when to his astonishment she flew past him like a swift winged bird and opened that door with a sort of wild eyed despair and invited those pretenders with the forged "tickets" to enter her sacred presence! The matter was too deep for him; he retired disgusted to his kitchen not to be again recalled. Jessie now waits at the door .- Milwaukee Sentinel. Where Tobacco Is Raised.

Lancaster county, it appears, still stands at the head of all the tobacco growing counties in the United States with her 19,217,800 pounds grown in the eason of 1889. Four other counties-Christian and Henderson, in Kentucky; Dane, in Wisconsin, and Pittsylvania county, in Virginia, grow over 10,000,000 each. There are seventeen other counties that grow from 5,000,000 to 10,000, 000 pounds each. Lancaster county's product in 1889, as all know, was sold at exceedingly low prices—about the low-est in our history—and even then pro-duced the growers $1,349,090. The nearest approach to this by any other in-dividual county was $886,840 by Hart-ford county, Conn. The product of Lancaster county, in fact, fetched more money than that of the entire state of money than that of the entire state of Connecticut or of Wisconsin or of New York and Massachusetts combined .-Philadelphia Ledger.

O. D. TAYLOR, The Dalles, Or

72 Washington, St., Portlan

Wasco County, The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city. ITS TERRITORY. It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market. The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here. The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future. The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products. ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.
