TRIBUTES TO MR. HAYES.

A Washington special of yesterday says Senator Brice spoke very feelingly of Mr. Hayes, whom he well knew. He said: "I will, at the proper time, pay my tribute to the worth of Mr. Hayes as a man, citizen and public official. As a democrat, I criticized with much heat and great feeling the conduct and course of affairs by which he became president, but the warmth, kindness, fairness and tenderness of the ex-president were such that I have never been able to feel any sense of resentment against him individually. I can now see that his administration as president softened the asperities growing out of the civil war and led to that perfect union blessings of which we are now enjoying."

Senator Sherman was perhaps more intimately associated with ex-president Hayes than any other senator, and, as a member of his cabinet, was officially associated with the administration. He was deeply moved, and said after the senate adjourned at his motion: "I knew him as well perhaps, as any one can know another. He was always fair and just to friend and foe. He sometimes failed to say no when it would have been better for him to have done so, because his disposition was to oblige every one. The south should feel profoundly grateful to him, for with infinite courage he extended to the white men of that section the opportunity to reorganize their states at a time when they had been bitterly unjust to him. The death of Hayes comes to me like a sudden blow, but I believe he was as well prepared for death as human nature will permit us to be."

Many distinguished people are arriving and are to arrive in Fremont to participate in the funeral services. Gov. McKinley and members of the state legislature will arrive today. Fully 10,000 strangers are expected to be present from all parts of the country. Many business houses closed yesterday and today. A special committee of citizens arranged to take care of the unusual throngs for that quiet town, and meals will be served in the parlors of the churches. Halls and other public places and private residences have been placed at the disposal of the committees for the accommodation of visitors. It has been decided, at the urgent request of the citizens, to forego the funeral at the house and conduct the services at the Methodist church. The ceremonies will take place at 2 p. m.

The United States department of agriculture furnishes the following final estimates for 1892: "The corn crop of 1892 is estimated at 1,628,464,000 bushels, grown on 70,626,658 acres, valued on the farm at $642,146,630. The average yield per acre is 23.1 bushels and the average price 39.3 cents per bushel. The record of acreage by states has been thoroughly revised in accordance with all available data, including national and state census enumerations, correcting discrepancies of recent and previous annual comparisons of acreage. The crop of corn is short, exceeded in quantity seven times in the last ten years, but slightly larger than in 1883, 1887, and 1890. The area is considerably reduced, the reduction being heaviest in the great corn-producing region, though offset in part by increase in the Atlantic states, and throughout the entire cotton belt. In the valleys of the Ohio and Missouri planting was retarded and limited by heavy rains which prevented plowing. The wheat crop is slightly above an average one in yield per acre, and in volume was only exceeded in 1891, though the crops of 1880 and 1889 nearly equaled it. The area is estimated at 38,554,430 acres, producing 615,949,000 bushels, valued on the farm at $322,111,881. The yield per acre is 13.4 bushels and the value per bushel 62.4 cents. In the revision of acreage changes are made in some states in which the decline of the past twelve years has been heavier than had been reported. The crop is reported in measured bushels. The average weight of the measured bushel will be determined later, but it is probable that the aggregate crop will be equivalent to nearly 500,000,000 commercial bushels. The estimated crop of oats is 661,035,000 bushels, grown on 27,063,835 acres, and valued on the farm at $209,253,611. The average yield per acre is 24.4 bushels and the average price 31.7 cents per bushel. The increase in oats production during the past decade has been a striking feature in American agriculture."

While the people of the United States are clamoring for restrictive legislation to shut out immigration, the Canadian government is opening its gates still wider and endeavoring to entice European immigrants to its shores. It is therefore with uncomprehending disappointment that the dominion authorities announce that their plans to attract immigration from Germany and Sweden have been balked, those governments having notified them that Canadian immigration commissioners will not be allowed to carry on active work in their country. Shut out of Germany and Sweden, the Canadian immigration agents will turn their attention to the United States and the British Isles. Farmers in Great Britain will be offered assisted passage, and lecturers will travel through the United States for the purpose of exciting interest in the resources of the dominion. Within the past ten years the Canadian government has expended $10,000,000 in immigration work abroad. It is making special efforts now to enlarge the population of Manitoba and the northwest territories. Emissaries have invaded even the unequalled Inland Empire, and have been successful to the extent of exciting a small emigration to Alberta. As for the Slokan and Kootenai mining districts, Americans have taken them, without waiting for an invitation.

Snow and Sleet in Georgia.
Augusta, Ga., Jan. 19.—The snow last night turned into sleet and rain and the streets are three or four inches deep in slush. Business is almost suspended and the tremendous weight of snow on the roofs causing leakage.

Crandall & Burget are now settled in their new store in the Michelbach brick on Union street, next door to Floyd & Shown's. Call around.

The explosion of a bomb is not more sudden or unlooked for than the attack of some malignant disease which would not occur were the blood in order. To impure blood is due a great variety of ills that make life a burden.

All the year round, you may rely upon Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery to purify the blood and invigorate the system. It's not like the sarsaparillas, that are said to be good for the blood in March, April and May. The "Discovery" works equally well at all times, and in all cases of blood-taints, or humors, no matter what their name or nature. It's the cheapest blood-purifier, sold through druggists, because you only pay for the good you get. Your money is returned if it doesn't benefit or cure you. Can you ask more?

"Is life worth living?" "That depends on the liver." Dr. Pierce's Pellets are the best Liver Pills.
