A VIGOROUS KICK.
Plain Talk to Mr. Ben Harrison And Charley Foster, Sec.
FRED J. GRANT'S LATEST UPROAR.
If His Presence Was so Much Needed in Europe, Ship Him at Once.
HE IS NOT WANTED IN OLYMPIA.
Scandalous Work Must Stop Else The Washington Republican Party be Disrupted.

OLYMPIA, Jan. 24.—The following dispatch was today sent to President Harrison and Secretary Foster by Turners managers: On the 22d day of last December, you sent to the United States Senate the name of Fredrick J. Grant, of Seattle, for envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to Bolivia. Special haste was made by the senate, which went into executive session, the judiciary committee having agreed not to insist on an examination into the requirements of the candidate. Haste was made in confirming the appointment due to the fact that had it been delayed Mr. Grant could not have entered upon his duties before January 4, to which date congress on the 22d of December had adjourned.
The Associated Press dispatches of that date said: 'Mr. Grant will qualify at once and proceed to Bolivia, by way of England, where some matters involving the three governments must be settled as soon as possible.' The Telegram goes on to tell how Grant, instead of going to Bolivia, is at Olympia, and deplores the unusual spectacle of a diplomatic minister of the government acting as manager in a senatorial contest. The dispatch closes: "You are looked upon as a model chief executive of the nation, and have it in your power to stop such scandalous proceedings. Will you do it? and save the republicans in this state from total disruption?"

ONE SENATOR CHOSEN.
Topeka's Double Header - Olympia's Scandal - Nebraska Cautious.
PORTLAND, Jan. 25.—[Special.]—Reports from Topeka show that when both the house and senate met at noon to ballot for United States senator, the situation was very complicated. The populists and democrats had not even decided on a caucus nominee. The first ballot in the republican house resulted: Ady, rep., 62; four others scattering. The populist house voted as follows: Breidenthal, pop., 17; Coburn, 11; Doster, pop., 13; Martin, fusion-dem., 9; King, pop., 3; others scattering among 14 candidates. In the senate the vote was as follows: Ady 15, Doster 10, Breidenthal 6, Martin 6, others scattering; no choice.
Lincoln reports are to the effect that in order to be sure the statutes are complied with the legislature yesterday took two ballots for United States senator. Each body balloted in its own House by common consent to avoid a possibility of future trouble. The joint ballot was taken at noon without change from yesterday in the relative strength of the candidates. Power received 55, Pad-dock 25, Myers 13, Boyd 3, Ryan 2, remainder scattering.
It is thought, since the caucus last night, that John MaFon, a democrat and a lawyer of Topeka, who was nominated by the populist caucus for senator on the fourteenth ballot will be elected, as members of the populist house and populist senators, as well as the democrats, will support him.
A Carson dispatch announces that Hon. Wm. M. Stewart was re-elected to the United States senate by the Nevada legislature yesterday. He was the silver party candidate and received the unanimous vote. Ex-Congressman Bartine was the republican candidate.
The "kodac" party have not yet elected Allen at Olympia. Vote today about the same as yesterday. Same in Helena; Same on Bismarck. Wyoming makes a start with 16 candidates!
There is still no choice in Madison. The last ballot stands: Mitchell, 30; Bragg, 29; Knight 16. Two Mitchell and one Knight men were absent.
West Va. has elected Chas. J. Faulkner to succeed himself, and ex-Senator Johnson N. Camden to fill the unexpired term of the late senator Kenas.
Roger Q. Mills has been returned from Texas.

FEBRUARY WEATHER FORECAST.
U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Weather Bureau, Portland, Or., Jan. 24, '93.
The chief of weather bureau directs the publication of the following data, compiled from the record of observations for the month of February, taken at this station for a period of 20 years. It is believed that the facts thus set forth will prove of interest to the public, as well as the special student, showing as they do the average and extreme conditions of the more important meteorological elements and the range within which such variations may be expected to keep during any corresponding month.
TEMPERATURE. Mean or normal temperature, 41.4°. The warmest February was that of 1855, with an average of 47.4°. The coldest February was that of 1887, with an average of 32.0°. The highest temperature during any February was 65° on the 28th, 1884. The lowest temperature during any February was 7° on the 5th, 1883.
PRECIPITATION (rain and melted snow.) Average for the month, 6.68 inches. Average number of days with .01 of an inch or more, 17. The greatest monthly precipitation was 13.36 inches in 1881. The least monthly precipitation was 1.07 inches in 1889. The greatest amount of precipitation recorded in any 24 consecutive hours was 3.81 inches on the 1st, 1890.
CLOUDS AND WEATHER. Average number of cloudy days, 3. Average number of partly cloudy days, 8. Average number of cloudy days, 17.
WIND. The prevailing winds have been from the south. The highest velocity of the wind during any February was from the south 30 miles on the 12th, 1891.

THE C. B. & Q. ROAD.
Something Additional About its Connection With the Oregon Pacific.
Galesburg, Ill., Daily Mail.
A prominent man said today that within two years trains would be running over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy road to Portland. The road is graded from Merino, Wyo., to the Idaho line, and will be extended to Boise next year. From Boise the road will run west to the Snake river where a spur will be run up to connect with the Hunt system in Washington, while the main line will run west and connect with the Oregon Pacific. Burlington's coming to the coast, however does not depend upon its purchase of the Oregon Pacific. If the Burlington does not purchase the Hunt system, it will be built through Washington, connecting with Tacoma, Lake Park and Columbia river, surveys for the extension of which are now being made in Cascade mountains. This line is considered the Burlington interest and will give this road an outlet to Puget sound.
Very Wise Step.
Union Journal. The Oregon legislature shows great wisdom in appointing a committee to visit the Walls Walla jute mill, investigate its cost, value to the state, so far as earning capacity and as a means of the healthy employment of convicts is concerned. Oregon could well afford to appropriate $200,000 or $250,000 for a jute mill establishment, which would furnish employment for 400 men, save the farmers of the state a cent on each sack used in the state's grain fields and would at the same time earn at least five per cent. on the investment.

Would be Popular.
Seattle Telegraph. If some member of the present legislature wants to do something that will gain the applause of every man, woman and child in the state, let him move a resolution to the effect that the legislature memorialize congress, praying for a constitutional amendment to provide for the direct election of United States senators by popular vote.

LEMAR'S SUCCESSOR.
Speculation Among The Leading Politicians as to McComas.
NO NOMINATION EXPECTED SOON.
It Might Lead to Complication, Antagonism, And Final Defeat.

Other News.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—[Special.]—The sudden and unexpected death of Hon. L. Lamar, associate justice of the supreme court, at his home in Macon, Ga., on the 23d, has already caused much speculation as to his successor. In a conversation on the subject last evening Congressman Moore of Texas, said:
"The particular person who will be chosen is not considered so much as the question whether Harrison will make a nomination to fill the vacancy or leave the matter open for President-elect Cleveland's action. It is certain in view of the attitude of certain democratic senators toward the nomination of McComas, to be judge of the court of the district of Columbia, that a nomination by Harrison would be antagonized to the end of the session, and defeated if possible. In view of that fact, it is probable the president will not care to provoke a bitter controversy and will take no action; but it can be said he will come to no determination upon the matter, and will not consider it even for several days at least, should he decide to make a nomination. The probabilities are a member of the United States judiciary within Justice Lamar's old circuit will be honored by the appointment. This circuit embraces Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas."
Work in Salem.
SALEM, Jan. 25.—[Special.]—There is nothing of importance to send you. Bills still coming in by the bushel. Senate has passed the following: Relating to liens; to fix salaries of county treasurers; relating to sheriffs of Baker and Malheur. To appropriate money for a bridge across the north fork of the John Day river, failed to pass. For branding cattle; referred to federal relations committee.

What Eastern Oregon Wants.
Fendleton Tribune. There are two measures before the Oregon legislature which should be most heartily supported by every eastern Oregonian. The one is the repeal of the mortgage indebtedness clause in the taxation law. The other is the portage railway bill.
