

To Our Friends and Patrons.

WE HAVE rather neglected our Advertising of late, not because we had nothing to sell; but we had nothing especially new to offer, and preferred to wait until we could say something of interest. We are, and have been for some time, busily engaged in placing our orders for Spring and Summer Goods and feel justified in announcing that we shall have the FINEST ASSORTMENT and the BEST GOODS in all our lines that has ever been seen in The Dalles. We have secured some genuine novelties in the Dry Goods Department, and the ladies will certainly consult their best interests by deferring their purchases until after their arrival, of which we shall give you due notice. Keep both eyes on this space and we will certainly surprise you, not only with the goods, but the prices at which we shall sell them. We mean business and propose to have your patronage, if LOW PRICES and the BEST GOODS will accomplish it. Yours Respectfully,

PEASE & MAYS.

LOCAL BREVITIES.
JAN. 27, 1893

Leave your order for cord wood at Maier & Benton's.

Miss Gertrude Meyers, arrived on the yesterday noon train from Portland, and will return next Monday.

Carpets and furniture at reduced rates at Crandall & Burget's, next door to Floyd & Shown's drug store.

Mr. Thomas A. Edison wants her husband to take luncheon with her she to drive down to his laboratory for a, for unless reminded, Mr. Edison thinks of his meals.

The entire width of the Columbia river, frozen over today opposite this city, some distance above the Regulator narrows to a point about opposite the shoe factory.

Mr. A. R. Wilcox has returned to the Oven, from his sojourn for his health in Portland, during which time he has nearly regained his former strength.

At the time Shakespeare wrote his plays there were not in all the world as many English-speaking people as there are now in New York and New Jersey. There are more than 100,000,000 people speaking English.

Chelan Indian prophesies that it will be at least a month yet before winter begins to break up. What he bases his predictions on is not stated, but inhabitants of that section are hoping he will prove a false prophet.

Secretary Noble has ordered that Mt. Maier and its adjoining lands on the western slope, be withdrawn from settlement, and Senator Squire expects the Mount Rainier forest reservation to be made by proclamation tomorrow.

San Francisco has a new candidate for public favor in a very handsome publication entitled Town Talk. The copy before us is a gem, both in its matter and make-up, while the printing is of the highest style of the "art preservative."

The new machinery ordered for the steamer City of Ellensburg last fall is delayed en route, and is just now being placed in position. She will be only boat on the river with two boilers and two smokestacks, and will resemble the Mississippi river steamers in every respect.

The Telegram says: "The senate is taking very kindly to Eastern Oregon's wishes. First, Blackman's bill for bridge over the John Day river was defeated, and now the same fate befalls the portage bill. If that section had more senators it would be more fortunate." Not such as Dodson, let it be hoped.

Portland weather yesterday, beat the Chicago weather of last Sunday where it was so cold that firemen were frozen to sidewalks at a fire. In the consolidated city yesterday it is said the weather was so cold that conversations couldn't be carried on the telephone, the words freezing on the wires and dropping off into the streets, to the present danger of passing pedestrians.

The flag on the Court House is at half mast in respect to the memory of Hon. Jas. G. Blaine.

Wm. Henderson, who was to have been hanged at Oregon City this week for murder, has been granted a stay of execution pending an appeal for a new trial. He was convicted of stabbing to death Cyrus Sutor over a game of cards in a saloon in Canby last summer. He is reasonably certain of at least three months longer of life.

The E. O. Salem correspondent says: The democratic members of the Oregon legislature, excepting two or three, have signed a petition to President Cleveland to have John P. Irish—formerly editor of a Southern Pacific railroad organ and the gentleman who led the Oregon democracy four years ago to an 8,000 defeat—appointed as secretary of the interior.

Hon. Van B. DeLashmutt sends to the Oregonian a number of onions of extraordinary size and strength, raised on his Witch Hazel farm, in Washington county, merely to show that it can produce other things as well as record-breaking colts. The onions, several of which weigh five pounds each, were grown on beaver-dam land, which Mr. DeLashmutt states is the best dam land in the world. He should take to raising roasting-geese and sage to go along with the onions.

It is probable, says a Salem correspondent, that the committee appointed to visit the Walla Walla penitentiary, to inspect the jute mill there, will report in favor of establishing a similar institution in the Oregon penitentiary. A member of the committee told your correspondent that the evidence was strongly in favor of such action. Jute bags, he says, cost the state four and one-half cents, and are sold within the state of Washington for six and one-fourth cents, while in Umatilla county, just across the line, similar bags sold for from eight to ten cents apiece, and the same in the Willamette valley. The plant of a mill capable of employing 300 men will cost about $115,000, with water power; if steam power is necessary, about $10,000 more. This is beside the cost of the building.

The Demorest medal contest, Wednesday evening at the court house, greeted a full house. The contestants' Misses Martha Schooling, Stella Harvey, Rachel Morgan, Jennie Russell, Ruth Fisher and Daisy Alloway fairly excelled in their work. The medal was awarded by the judges, Messrs. W. H. Wilson, Dr. Schneider and Mrs. C. J. Crandall, to Miss Jennie Russell. An enjoyable feature of the evening was the solo by Miss Myrtle Michell, accompanied by Mrs. Patterson. The programme passed very pleasantly and at the close three little boys "got up and laughed" a dismissal to the audience.

People living twenty-five miles southwest of Pendleton have just taken courage last week, possibly from the hope of an open river, and are threshing wheat that grew in 1891, and '92; think of that! Threshing wheat two years old in mid-winter. The East Oregonian is our authority, and M. L. Fix and his son are the threshers. They have been at it two weeks, and expected to keep at it two weeks longer. Mr. Fix says he averages about 200 bushels of grain a day. He has threshed several crops of wheat grown in 1891. The wheat is of fairly good quality and the yield is satisfactory, considering the possibility of shipping it. But now, should the RALBY bill be defeated these threshers may turn their attention to fixing the senators who fixed them on the 26th at Salem.

Judge Turner, candidate for the senate from the state of Washington, was one of Grant's immovable "306" at Chicago in 1880. Turner evidently has staying qualities. We were with him at Chicago, and know him well.

The Telegram says the road question can stand all the agitation and discussion it gets in the legislature. It is a popular issue, and some important law must be passed at this session. The people want good roads, and the lawmakers must provide a way to secure them.

A Washington dispatch to-day states that Senator Dolph yesterday saw the president regarding his bill extending the time for payment on railroad lands, but the president would not act until the secretary of the interior had approved the bill. The latter was then called upon for an immediate report, and the bill will probably be approved to-morrow.

Many a business man cuts down his newspaper advertising just at the wrong time. It is not the return from judicious advertising which brings success? It is the cumulative effect. Watch the business of two firms, one a live persistent, aggressive advertiser, the other, negligent. Which becomes the leading merchant in a few years? Buy a space in your paper, make it interesting and don't begrudge the money. Advertising in a live paper pays. The paper can live without your advertisement better than you can live without its effect.

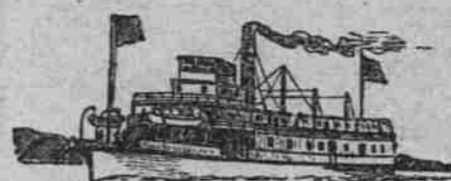

The storm of yesterday was a widespread one. It extended all over Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming and the Dakotas. In some places assuming the dignity of a blizzard. At Umatilla the wind blew from the north-east at the rate of forty miles an hour, accompanied with a light fall of snow. On the coast, down by the deep sea, snow fell and over at Tatoosh Island the wind blew 75 miles an hour. At Tacoma and Olympia the snow was three inches deep, and at Eugene City it was eight inches. At Sisson the snow was the deepest, measuring two feet. Rain or snow fell at nearly every point on the coast from San Francisco to the extreme northern telegraphic range.

Senator Vandenberg did not vote for the Raley bill, but he is the author of a rather unique bill himself. He proposes to do away with the publication of an itemized account of county expenses in the newspapers, and, as a substitute, the itemized accounts of the monthly expenditures are to be printed in long primer type on cloth posters to be stuck up in all postoffices, on the street corner dry goods boxes, and other long-ing places. For downright simplicity and utter impracticability this bill stands preeminent. But what can be expected from men who would cast the shackles of monopoly about the necks of 175,000 free born people by his "intelligent" vote as a senator from the classic regions of southern Oregon? It is said that he is a "merchant" at home. Probably he has a whittling constituency whose only ambition is a soft pine box to sit on and a jack knife to cut it into fragments, cloth posters and all.

Aluminum horseshoes have been tried in one of the cavalry regiments. A number of horses were shod on one fore foot and hind foot with this metal, ordinary iron shoes being used on the other feet. At the end of six weeks, during which time the animals had been moving on a hard and stony road, it was found that the aluminum shoe had worn much better than those of iron, and not one of the former had gone to pieces.

Life Without the News.

Baker City Dem. Once upon a time a certain man got mad at the editor and stopped his paper. The next week he sold his corn at 26 cents below market price. Then his property for taxes because he didn't read the sheriff's sale. He was arrested and fined $8 for hunting on Sunday, and he paid $300 for a lot of forged notes that had been advertised for two weeks, and the public cautioned not to negotiate for them. He then paid a big Irishman with a foot on him like a forge hammer, to kick him all the way down to a newspaper office, where he paid four years subscription in advance and made the editor sign an agreement to knock him down and rob him if he ever ordered his paper stopped again. Such is life without a newspaper.

Examination of Teachers.

Notice is hereby given that for the purpose of making an examination of all persons who may offer themselves as candidates for teachers of the schools of this county, the county school superintendent thereof will hold a public examination at all places in The Dalles beginning Thursday, January 30th, and ending Feb. 2nd 1892, at 1 o'clock, p. m. All teachers eligible for the state certificates, state diplomas and life diplomas must make application at the quarterly examinations. Dated this January 27th, 1892.

Mr. De Style—How does it happen that our daughters are going around without a chaperon?

Mrs. De Style—I've dropped the silly custom. It doesn't work well on this side of the water.

"Why not?"
"The young men seem rather afraid of chaperons."—New York Weekly

A Rubber Insole.

Persons with tender feet will be interested in an insole for boots and shoes. It is made of hollow india rubber, inflated with air or gas under pressure, the external protective covering being canvas, silk or other similar material. Inserted in the shoe it relieves the pressure of the leather against the tender parts of the foot.—Shoe and Leather Facts.

Maggie Among the Greeks.

With the ancient Greeks the maggie was supposed to possess the soul of a gossiping woman, and we all know how unlucky it is to meet an odd number of the species in Ireland.—Irish Times.

In Belgium no person is allowed to vote unless he is a taxpayer to the amount of forty francs a year. This law makes the voters only twenty-two out of every thousand of population.

The Kentish plover, like the stone curlew or thicknee, is being rapidly exterminated in the county from which it derives its name by collectors and so called "naturalists."

Let every enfeebled woman know it! There's a medicine that'll cure her, and the proof's positive! Here's the proof—if it doesn't do you good within reasonable time, report the fact to its makers and get your money back without a word—but you won't do it! The remedy is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—and it has proved itself the right remedy in nearly every case of female weakness. It is not a miracle. It won't cure everything—but it has done more to build-up, enfeebled and broken-down women than any other medicine known. Where's the woman who's not ready for it? All that we've to do is to get the news to her. The medicine will do the rest. Wanted—women. First to know it. Second to use it. Third to be cured by it. The one comes of the other.
