THE LAST SHALL BE FIRST.

Who would not haste to do some mighty thing, if safe occasion gave it to his hand.

Knowing that at its close his name would ring, Coupled with praises, through a grateful land? Who would not haste to do some mighty thing, if safe occasion gave it to his hand.

But ah! how seldom comes the trumpet call. That stirs the pulse and fills the veins with flame.

When victory asks for effort, once for all. And smiling fortune points a way to fame Along some path of honor free from blame.

To one, the call to do great deeds speaks loud. To one, amid a vast unhonored crowd.

Far otherwise the common lot of man. Our hourly toil but seeks the means to live. Our dull monotonous labor knows no plan. Save that which stern necessity doth give.

Our earnings fill an ever leaking sieve. Our task fulfilled, another still succeeds. And brief neglect brings overgrowth of weeds.

What wonder, then, if suffering men repine And hopelessness gives way to mad despair? Some murmur at, yea, curse, the scheme divine That placed them there where the saws of fretting care

Across their brows a deepening channel wear. For them no springtime speaks of hope renewed. But changeless wintry skies above them brood.

Oh, fools and blind! This world is not the goal. But shapes us for a larger world to come. The vilest slave that keeps a patient soul Shall yet rank higher than the sensual drone Who seeks to please his worthless self alone.

If humblest toil be hardest, yet be sure. He most shall merit who can most endure.

About Chewing Gum.

"The chewing gum trade may be said to be holding its own," said the young man with light clothes and an iron jaw

"I have a factory in Salem, O., and employ more people than ever before. We pay a cent a box to girls for wrapping

They make from two to three dollars a week at it. The output of Chicago is about $1,500 a day for every week day of the year. That is nearly half a million dollars a year expended in that city alone for gum. Most of this goes west.

There are a number of manufacturers in the east also. I presume, about $1,000,000 a year, at least, is spent in chewing gum, counting only manufacturers prices. As we sell to the jobbers at thirty-five cents a box and the retailer gets one dollar a box, you can figure up the difference and see just about what the public invests in chewing gum. It must be something near $2,500,000 a year at the lowest estimate. Divide this into five cent and one cent sticks and we are obliged to conclude that a good many jaws are on the move besides ours." -New York Herald

Rainmaking by Faith.

Some forty years ago, on a cloudless Sabbath morning, the president of Oberlin college, Professor Phinney, walked briskly to the chapel - there had been a distressing drought - and began the service with an extremely fervent prayer for rain. The prayer was long, and before it was finished the skies began to darken, and almost before the congregation was dismissed a copious rain began to fall. The suggestive fact in this relation is that President Phinney had been observed during the morning to give very watchful attention to the barometer. -H. Chandler in Science.

Rain Without Clouds.

We have it on the authority of Sir J. C. Ross that in the south Atlantic it rained on one occasion for over an hour when the sky was entirely free from clouds. In the Mauritius and other parts of the southern hemisphere this is not a rare occurrence; but in Europe it is, and the greatest known length of its duration was ten minutes at Constantinople. -All the Year Round.

Origin of Two Weller Stories.

Many of Dickens' stories referred to events much spoken of at the time. The story of the marbles was doubtless founded on a tale then current, and the tragedy of the man who killed himself after eating muffins was an elaboration of the account of the suicide of the Hon. Mr. Damer, who destroyed himself after a surfeit of crumpets. -Notes and Queries.

The eldest son of Emperor William has inherited his father's talkativeness. He makes military addresses to his little brothers at table. He is not yet ten

The importance of the nitrate beds of Chili is shown from the fact that the output last year was valued at $30,000,000.

THE DALLES,

Wasco County, Oregon,

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.

It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.

The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.

It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.

Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.
