of same to Maier & Bentons. The Quickest Way to Cure a Cold. Do you wish to know the quickest way to cure a cold? We will tell you. To cure a cold quickly, it must be treated before the cold has become settled in the before the cold has become settled in the mystem. The first symptoms of a cold is a dry, loud cough and sneezing. The cough is soon followed by watery expectoration and the sneezing by a profuse watery discharge from the nose. In severe cases there is a thin white coating on the tongue. What to do? It is only necessary to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in double does every hour. That will greatly lessen the severity of the cold and in many cases will effectually counteract it, and cure what would ally counteract it, and cure what would have been a severe cold within one or two days time. Try it and be convinced 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggiste.

A Phase of City Life.

Crossus in a luxurious chair gazed languidly through a plate glass window upon a snow whitened thoroughfare, filled with urban humanity hurrying to the thousand avenues through which the fleeting hours escape. The panorama rolled noiselessly and monotonously by, until there was projected upon the indifferent gaze of the watcher a bent and decrepit form, which shuffled over the flagstones in strange contrast with the brisk and certain step of the strolling class that frequented that avenue. The figure was that of a woman clad in rags and tatters, and when her halting steps reached the lamppost in-front of the rich man's palace, she hesitated, looked feebly about, and finally seated herself upon the edge of the flagstone sidewalk. The tattered figure made a grotesque outline against the snow incrusted street, and the watcher in his crimson chair looked upon it with languid interest.

From a mass of rags she produced a frail and soiled camp stool, and after THE DALLES, - OREGON setting this upon the pavement undid a red handkerchief and from its folds took two sticks of candy and a ball of popcorn. The tawdry and slender stock was tenderly placed upon the stool and the patient wait for customers began. They did not come. Instead there appeared a liveried servant from the big house who ordered the woman to move on, but tempered the roughness of the command with the gift of a piece of silver from his own pocket. The sight had grated upon the nerves of the master of the house, reminding him that poverty was not yet so old and obsolete as to have lost its sting.—New York Times.

Swiss Diamonds.

According to M. Daubree, the well known French mineralogist, the diamond issues from the infragranitic regions of the earth's crust where periodot is prevalent, for it arrives at the surface along with that mineral and certain serpentine masses which result from the transformation of the latter. The imitation of this gem has reached great perfection. A material named strass, after its German discoverer, which is made from rock crystal, boracic acid and caustic potash purified by alcohol, is now used for the artificial gems. They are mostly made in Switzerland —Good News

Self Concelt versus Self Coulidence. While conceit may produce a negatively agreeable effect it cannot be called a positive charm. We do not think a person more charming because of his conceit, and we do not encourage it in those who are dear to us. A parent represses rather than stimulates it in his child, and a person who should plainly and laboriously cultivate it would not be in peril of canonization. It is doubt greatness. A great man, indeed, may have the self confidence that springs from the consciousness of power; but consciousness of power is very different from conceit of it. The one is a fact: the other a fancy. -George William Curtis in Harper's.

A Youngster's Wish. The African explorer Paul B. du Chaillu was explaining to a very small boy the various inconveniences of life in the equatorial forest. "It's dreadful, Dickie," said he, "to think there are benighted trices who do not know what soap is, and who do not wash from one year's end to the other." Dickie was pensive for a moment; then, "I wish," said be. "I was a 'nighted tribe.

THE DALLES, OREGON.

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY. It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market. The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cas-cades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here. The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.

The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products. ITS WEALTH. It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is geattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these
