A Jilted Artist's Suicide.

Paul Canon, artist, journalist, member of a half dozen clubs and looked upon as St. Joseph, Mo., as a rival to James Whitcomb Riley, walked into Levin's gun store and asked to look at some revolvers. Selecting a weapon of .38-caliber Canon inquired if the price included cartridges. On being told that it did he requested the storekeeper to load it for him. Taking the weapon in his hand Canon said: "Are you sure this gun will shoot straight?" "If it doesn't you needn't pay for it," replied the dealer. "It looks like a good weapon," said Canon, "but I'd like to bet you the cigars I couldn't hit a mark six inches away." "I'll take you," quickly replied the dealer. "All right, here goes," said Canon and before the horrified shopkeeper could interfere Canon had placed the pistol to his temple and sent a bullet through his brain. On his person was found a note addressed simply to "Adelaide." It said: "DEAR GIRL—You have wedded wealth and I am wedded to death. Which is the happier? PAUL." It told the whole story. A short time ago the announcement of his engagement to one of the most beautiful girls in the city was made. A wealthier suitor appeared on the scene and she had heartlessly jilted him.—Cor. The Kite Not to Prevail.

It would seem evident to any one who has been watching passing events and expressions of precedence that the popular track of the future will be the regulation mile track with quarter mile turns, quarter mile stretches, railroad curves and grades, made of good, elastic soil, and on a level plane. All of the "solid comforts" of trotting races are with this form of track, because spectators can see what is going on, and the danger to horses and drivers is reduced to a minimum. There is no use of thinking or talking about the trotting turf remaining a popular resort for the recreation loving public unless trotting races are conducted on a track and in such a manner that spectators can get something for their money.—Turf, Field and Farm

The Quickest Way to Cure a Cold.

Do you wish to know the quickest way to cure a cold? We will tell you. To cure a cold quickly, it must be treated before the cold has become settled in the system. The first symptoms of a cold is a dry, loud cough and sneezing. The cough is soon followed by watery expectation and the sneezing by a profuse watery discharge from the nose. In severe cases there is a thin white coating on the tongue. What to do? It is only necessary to take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in double dose every hour. That will greatly lessen the severity of the cold and in many cases will effectually counteract it, and cure what would have been a severe cold within one or two days time. Try it and be convinced 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Returned the Papers.

A well known gentleman in this city moved into a house that had been previously occupied by another gentleman who was a subscriber to one of the evening papers. The carrier of course continued leaving the paper for a space of a year, never having been notified of the change. The collector recently went around to collect for the paper, the bill being made out in the name of the gentleman who had subscribed. When the collector presented the bill the gentleman of the house said: "Why, my dear sir, that man has not lived here for over a year. You are at the wrong house."

"Well, has not the carrier been leaving you a copy of the paper all the time?"

"Yes, sir. But I did not subscribe, and I told the boy to quit leaving it. But he never did so."

"You have received the paper every day, haven't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then you ought to pay for it."

"Well, excuse me a moment," and the gentleman went into the house. Returning in a moment he lugged out a stack of newspapers half as tall as himself. "Here are your papers, sir; I have no use for them."

He had read them and carefully filed them away until the bill should be presented.

The collector sent a transfer wagon to haul away a year's accumulation of papers, the pay for which he failed to get, because one man returned them and the man never received them.—Chatanooga Times.

THE DALLES, Wasco County, Oregon. The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city. ITS TERRITORY. It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles. The Largest Wool Market. The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here. The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year. ITS PRODUCTS. The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future. The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places to overflowing with their products. ITS WEALTH. It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon. Its situation is unsurpassed. Its climate delightful. Its possibilities incalculable. Its resources unlimited. And on these corner stones she stands.
