NOT AN ACCEPTABLE MOVE.

If the appointment of Judge Jackson te the place made vacant by the death of Judge Lamar should be confirmed, it will make the court stand five republicans to three democrats, with two mem-Bers of the court, one over 74 and the other over 72, sure to retire within a year or two. In this case, this demoerat appointed by Harrison would prowide the democratic majority for the court, thus putting at peril all the legislation growing out of the war and delivering the court over to the control of men believing in free trade, southern ideas and prejudices, and opposed to the system of pensions to Union soldiers. The republican senators who opposed the appointment will probably try to prevent the confirmation, and it appears to be a strong probability that they may succeed, unless advantage is being taken of the custom of "senatorial courtesy," which discountenances delay in action on the nomination of an exsenator. The matter will be forced to the front with promptness. If confirmation is secured promptly, it is expected that the president will nominate Judge W. O. Bradley, of Kentucky, to succeed Judge Jackson on the circuit bench. The responsibility for the failure to nominate a republican is said to lie with twelve republicans in the senate who were determined to oppose any nomination proposed by the president. It was at first his intention to nominate either Judge Emory Speer or Judge Pardee. On making inquiries among the republican senators, as to which would be the most apt to secure ready confirmation, he discovered there were about twelve republican senators who would oppose any confirmation, partly on account of their personal antagonism to the president and partly on account of their desire to bring other matters to the front in the senate.

An Illinois farmer named Kost, living near Bethel, last month took a notion into his head to test the relative onalities of wheat and corn as fat-producers in hogs. He weighed twenty shoats recently and placed a value upon them of six cents a pound. He fed them on wheat for seven days, keeping accurate account of the amount consumed, reweighed the hogs noted the gain and then put them upon a diet of corn for a similar length of time, keeping a like accurate account of corn consumed. He weighed the hogs for the third and last time and footed up the results. He noted that the gain for the week the animals fed on corn netted him 75 cents a bushel for the product consumed, while during the week they were fed on the wheat diet the gain was such as to give him 80 cents for each bushel of ladies $1.00. wheat fed. If these deductions should prove true in all cases as it did in Mr. Kost's, there is no use in farmers selling wheat at from 50 to 60 cents a bushel when by feeding it to the present highpriced hogs they can realize 80 cents, and more, per bushel.

Mr. Raley, in presenting his bill for the construction of the portage railway at the dalles of Columbia, did not support the bill with the strong arguments that he presented two years ago, probably, says the Oregonian, for the reason that he did not think it necessary to repeat what he said so fully then; but it was necessary, as the sequel showed, for by many senators the subject had not been considered more than superficially, if at all. But now, since the vote has been reconsidered and the bill Carries the U. S. Mail, Passengers and Express taken from the table, it is hoped that Mr. Raley and other friends of the measure will use in its behalf the arguments Stages from Eastern and Southern Orwhich they are so well prepared to advance. The bill ought to pass. Western Oregon ought to join hands with Also makes close connection at The Dalles with trains from Portland and all eastern points. Eastern Oregon in this matter so important to both.

There will be an important gathering of populists at Washington February 22. Four organizations will assemble at that time, the bimetallists, the industrial legion, the industrial allianca and the reform press association. An effort will be made to amalgamate the branches of the peoples party with Four organizations will assemble at that a view to effective work in the way of securing desired legislation during Cleveland's administration. It is believed that, in view of the strong showing in the last campaign they can make both the old parties recognize their claims; if not it will clear the way for an effective campaign in 1896. Delegates will be present from every state and territory in the Union.

A few days since in the United States senate on motion of Mr. Sherman the senate went into executive session for the purpose of discussing French and Swedish extradition treaties. Incidentally the Hawaiian matter came up and was debated. There is almost a ananiinfous feeling in favor of interference, but a difference of opinion as to whether annexation or a protectorate is best. concurrent resolution from the legistature of Oregon requesting the senators from that state to use all honorable means to secure annexation of the Hawaiian islands to the United States was presented and referred.
