To Our Friends and Patrons.

WE HAVE rather neglected our Advertising of late, not because we had nothing to sell; but we had nothing especially new to offer, and preferred to wait until we could say something of interest. We are, and have been for some time, busily engaged in placing our orders for Spring and Summer Goods and feel justified in announcing that we shall have the FINEST ASSORTMENT and the BEST GOODS in all our lines that has ever been seen in The Dalles. We have secured some genuine novelties in the Dry Goods Department, and the ladies will certainly consult their best interests by deferring their purchases until after their arrival, of which we shall give you due notice. Keep both eyes on this space and we will certainly surprise you, not only with the goods, but the prices at which we shall sell them. We mean business and propose to have your patronage, if LOW PRICES and the BEST GOODS will accomplish it. Yours Respectfully,

PEASE & MAYS.

The 28th and 29th ult. witnessed a gale and a half at Wapinitia.
Another snow plow has been sent for today and we may be happy yet.
A Wapinitia letter of yesterday says the snow there is 23 inches deep.
The best spellers of Juniper flat are to have a match this evening.
Call and see our $24.80 Britannica encyclopedia.
What makes success? Hard work. What makes wealth? Advertising.
The great prospects of our city are all summed up in that one word—Location.
Mr. A. A. Whitney of Portland, is in the city among the delayed passengers.
"Belly deep to a horse" the measurement of the snow given to us by a Wapinitia man.
The snow on Dutch flat is from two to four feet deep. In some places it is drifted very much.
Mr. C. W. Emerson of 15-Mile is in the city. He reports everything in good shape in his section.
Five cents a day will get you the encyclopedia. We see the Oregonian and go them 50 per cent. better.
Mr. Pat Brown of 10-Mile is in the city today and reports good health and plenty of snow in his neighborhood.
A dance is to be given this evening at Grises place on Wapinitia if the young people don't get frostbitten.
Mr. Sol Durbin, one of the snowbound passengers by the U. P., is in the city today. Mr. Durbin is one of Oregon's early pioneers.
Mr. Ohas. Allison is cutting and putting up ice from the Stoddeman pond that is ten inches in thickness, and as clear as ice can be.
Today the sky is almost clear of clouds and the maximum temperature was 30°. The average depth of snow in this locality is nine inches.
In the Oak Grove section and at Wamic, reports say the snow is eighteen inches deep. Stock are in good condition having plenty of feed.
The young people about Milt Norris' ranch on Juniper Flat spent the time very pleasantly at a social dance on the 26th. Music was furnished by the Kesner & Menefee band. A splendid supper was provided. About forty couples were present.
One of the band of steers which crossed the ice yesterday went through and failed to come to the feed rack last night. The ice was very much like the beautiful snow poems, "too thin" in places.
Attorneys J. B. Story and H. H. Riddell returned from Grant last evening, where they were engaged in getting some testimony taken before a referee, in reference to an action pending there. They report everything as being very dull and but little business being done. All are waiting for the long delayed chinook to open business once more.

The snow has left Portland in anything but a fine fix.

Sam Dullar of Wamac died on the 4th inst. he was a prominent citizen, a grand-uncle veteran, about 50 years of age, and leaves a large family to mourn his death.

We are under obligations to Mr. E. H. French for a copy of the Berkeleyan. Its table of contents is very interesting. Mr. Ed. Mays of this city, one of Berkeley students, appears as associate editor. We gladly chip in.

Mr. W. J. Roberts of Colfax, came down on the morning passenger. Mr. Roberts came on a summons that his father had died in Los Angeles on Monday eve and the remains would be brought to this city for interment.

The young people of Grant enjoy their social gatherings during the long winter, and make the time pass merrily. A merry company met last evening in the hall next the Dispatch office and spent the evening in dancing. It was a very enjoyable affair, and until the "wee sma" hours the music gave inspiration to the jolly dancers.

A number of persons are in town for the purpose of attending the quarterly teachers examination which was to commence today. But owing to the delayed trains, County Superintendent Shelly was unable to arrive in time, and those who are desirous of attending the examination are compelled to wait until such time as the contrary elements will permit Mr. Shelly to arrive.

L. L. Greenley an insane man was brought in this morning by T. W. Glavey and Wm. Greenley, from Kingsley. He was examined by Dr. Shackelford this afternoon and pronounced insane, whereupon Judge Blakeley committed him to the asylum. Greenley is a man twenty-nine years of age and has been idiotic ever since his birth; his insanity being due to hereditary causes. He at times becomes violent and seems seized with a desire to kill those about him. He has suffered from attacks of epilepsy since childhood, and has required constant watching for years. He was placed in the county jail for safety until such time as he can be taken to the asylum.

To Be Trusted.

Speaking of trustworthy thermometers, what is the matter with the Columbia river? When it registers such a degree of ice as it has not registered since 1862, the record must be allowed to stand. The ordinary objections that the thermometer is unreliable, or has hung in a draft, don't go.

Answered.

Mr. Editor—A few evenings since I was enjoying the sleigh riding with my best girl. I took a stone foot warmer with me. It was about 10x14 in size. It came near causing the breaking off of our engagement. The thermometer was about at zero. I attempted to put my feet on the warmer beside the girl (to whom I am engaged) when she kicked. Was I doing anything improper?
ENGAGED.
Because you are engaged to the young lady does not give you more privileges than if you were not. On a stone 10x14 there would be no room for your feet after those of the young lady are on it, especially if she is from the Willamette valley. They may be "ducks" of feet, but we doubt if the stone was large enough for her feet alone. Would advise you to get a larger stone or not attempt the same thing again.

Arlington Safe Robbery.

The Record gives on account of the robbing of Coffin Bros.' safe at Arlington on Monday of last week, but fails to print the name of the offender. We do not know the reason why the Record kept the name a secret. We trust the editor of the Record was not implicated. But laying jokes aside, the only rule to go by is for a newspaper to show no partiality in such matters. If a paper keeps the name back in one case, it will be impertinent to in others and have no end of trouble. It is no more than the readers of the Record ought to expect for that paper to give the name in such a case as this, after the complaint is made and the party bound over. It is not libelous, and seldom ever does harm to publish the facts of judicial criminal proceedings, without comment.

The danger lies in and injury results from publishing rumored suspicions, tintured with malice, and connecting names of persons with that sort of slander. But the public have a right to the name and charge sworn to in court, and a newspaper has the right to give them, and to publish the complaint, if he choose, or a copy of the proceedings, or any fact connected with the court as a part of the proceedings. The rule for newspapers in such matters is that the publication should not be done with malice, and that the paper is liable for the truth of all assertions it makes that are not strictly matters of record.

Following is the account given by the Record: "The safe of the well known firm of Coffin Bros., was robbed of about one hundred dollars on Monday last. The facts are about as follows: Stanley Coffin left the safe party open and went skating. During his absence a young man who was formerly in their employ came in the store, went to the safe and took out the money, the party in charge, not thinking anything about the matter. When Stanley returned he missed the money and made inquiry, and was informed who had been in. A warrant was sworn out, and Marshall Carlisle soon had the party. He acknowledged the theft and returned nearly all the money. He was taken before Justice Zeigler and placed under $150 bonds, to appear before the next grand jury. We suppose his bondsmen have the money to lose, as we think it very doubtful if the thief will be in the country when the grand jury convenes."

The Delights of Boyhood.

I'd like to be a boy again without a woe or care, with freckles scattered on my face and hayseed in my hair; I'd like to rise at 4 o'clock and do a hundred chores, and saw the wood and feed the hogs and lock the stable doors; and herd the hens and watch the bees and take the mules to drink, and teach the turkeys how to swim so that they wouldn't sink; and milk about a hundred cows and bring in wood to burn, and stand out in the sun all day and churn, and churn, and churn; and wear my brother's cast-off clothes and walk four miles to school, and get a licking every day for breaking some old rule, and then get home again at night and do the chores once more, and milk the cows and feed the hogs and carry mules galore; and then crawl wearily upstairs to seek my little bed, and hear dad say: "That worthless boy! He isn't worth his bread!" I'd like to be a boy again; a boy has so much fun; his life is just one round of mirth from rise to set of sun; I guess there's nothing pleasanter than closing stable doors, and herding hens, and chasing bees, and doing evening chores.

OREGON LEGISLATURE.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St. Sharpsburg, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, that it cured his wife who was threatened with pneumonia after an attack of "la grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cookeport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for lung troubles. Nothing like it. Try it. Activity of North American Volcanos.

Scientific American. Padernal peak, situated in the wilds of Rio Arriba county, New Mexico, is reported as now in a violent state of eruption, and is belching forth sulphurous fumes and lava at intervals of about three hours, each lasting about thirty minutes. This has been going on since the last week in December. The entire top of the mountain, which was almost square and about a mile in extent, is stated to be blown off, and the lava pouring down the sides has already filled up the valley for about half a mile on each side. A considerable portion of a ruined city of the ancient cliff dwellers will be covered with the slag should the eruptions continue. Padernal peak is one of the most prominent landmarks of the territory. The Mexicans say that it burst forth in violent eruption in 1820 and did not cease for nearly a year afterward. It has lain dormant until the present time. The rumbling noise and lurid light can be plainly heard and seen at Sierra Amarilla, seventy miles distant, and an army of people from there are now at Ariguin to witness the impressive sight. An earthquake shock felt at Orizaba, Mexico, recently, greatly frightened the people living in the vicinity of the Orizaba volcano. The town of Orizaba lies about seventy miles by rail southwest of Vera Cruz and about twenty-five miles south of Mount Orizaba, the snow-capped peak of which is said by some to be 17,380 feet above sea level, and by others to be the highest peak in North America. The residents of Colima, the capital of the Mexican state of that name on the Pacific coast, also feel a nervous apprehension regarding the volcano of Colima, which, reaching a height of about 12,000 feet, looms skyward about thirty miles northeast of the capital. Every night a lurid light illuminates the sky above the mountain, and it is feared that this portends a serious eruption.
