SATURDAY, - - - FEB. 18, 1893

The sad news comes from Kentucky that in the recent contest in the legislature of that state over the choice of a successor to Mr. Carlisle in the United States senate, the Hon. Henry Watterson was once more compelled to march through a slaughter-house to an open grave.

General Compson is accredited with securing two appropriations for the Oregon National Guard at the hands of this legislature. The Gullikson bill, giving them $40,000, has passed both houses over the governor's veto. The Ford bill, to give the National Guard $60,000, in lieu of the mill tax, also passed both houses. That gives the state militia a cool hundred thousand dollars to operate with the coming two years. The governor cannot well veto the Ford bill without restoring the mill tax of both the militia and state university, and adding considerably to what they will now receive. Ford claims there was an understanding that if he would increase the sum carried in his bill from $15,000 to $30,000 a year, the governor's veto of the Gullikson bill should be sustained. But Gullikson and his friends went back on that and the result is a double appropriation through combinations. When the matter came before the House, of passing the Gullikson bill over the veto Ford denounced it as being in bad faith and an outrage on the tax payers of this state.

A Mother's Death.

A pitiful story comes from Cathlamet, Wash.: Last Monday evening Mrs. Cardinell, living a few miles out in the country, went to the spring to get a pail of water. While stooping over she lost her balance and fell headlong into the spring. The water was only about two feet deep, but the hole was so very small that the woman was unable to extricate herself. The children, who had accompanied her, saw their mother's predicament and grasped her feet and tugged away with desperation, but they did not possess strength equal to the occasion, and after exhausting themselves, they abandoned the attempt and distractedly returned home, not knowing what to do. Next morning the eldest girl decided to walk to Cathlamet and secure assistance. After trudging through the deep snow some distance her strength gave out, and becoming frightened she returned home. So from Monday until Saturday the three little ones remained in the house, with the dead body of their mother a short distance away. The cold provisions that were left were soon exhausted, and not knowing how to cook or provide for themselves the children were in a pitiful plight when found by their father. He arrived just in time to save himself from being childless as well as a widower.

Mr. C. F. Davis, editor of the Bloomfield, Iowa, Farmer, says: "I can recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to all sufferers with colds and croup. I have used it in my family for the past two years and have found it the best I ever used for the purposes for which it was intended. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists."

An unusual offer—the one that's made by the proprietors of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Unusual, but made in good faith. It's a reward of $500 for an incurable case of Catarrh. If you have one, the money's for you. But you can't know whether you have one, till you've tried Dr. Sage's Remedy. What's incurable by any other means, yields to that. By its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties, it cures the worst cases, no matter of how long standing. That's the reason the money can be offered. There's a risk about it, to be sure. But it's so small that the proprietors are willing to take it. The symptoms of catarrh are, headache, obstruction of nose, discharges falling into throat, sometimes profuse, watery, and acrid, at others, thick, tenacious, mucous, purulent, bloody, putrid and offensive; eyes weak, ringing in ears, deafness; offensive breath; small and taste impaired, and general debility. Only a few of these symptoms likely to be present at once.

WINANS

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood River, with large slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil, pure cold water and shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort and for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is also unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 120 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse power in its dashing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing facilities will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.

See me on the ground, or address me at Hood River, Wasco County, Oregon.
