

To Our Friends and Patrons.

WE HAVE rather neglected our Advertising of late, not because we had nothing to sell; but we had nothing especially new to offer, and preferred to wait until we could say something of interest. We are, and have been for some time, busily engaged in placing our orders for Spring and Summer Goods and feel justified in announcing that we shall have the FINEST ASSORTMENT and the BEST GOODS in all our lines that has ever been seen in The Dalles. We have secured some genuine novelties in the Dry Goods Department, and the ladies will certainly consult their best interests by deferring their purchases until after their arrival, of which we shall give you due notice. Keep both eyes on this space and we will certainly surprise you, not only with the goods, but the prices at which we shall sell them. We mean business, and propose to have your patronage, if LOW PRICES and the BEST GOODS will accomplish it. Yours Respectfully,

PEASE & MAYS.

FEBRUARY FANCIES.

Chatty Sayings and Doings of Local and General Import.

There was a musician who tried to get a girl to marry. When he asked her to marry, she said: "The fellow would really not tell me. A young lady sat on the quay. As proper as proper could be busy. When a current of air carried off her back hair, she only said: "Good gracious may."

The river is now clearing rapidly. The Washington legislature have refused to adopt the rhododendron as the state flower.

Duke Taffe has succeeded in putting up 3,000 tons of sea ice as there is in the whole northwest.

The wife of Leo Peterson, editor of the Portland Commercial Review, died of consumption last week.

The usual Lenten services will be held in the Catholic church on every Wednesday and Friday evening during Lent.

Daniel Durbin, whose death by poison was reported in Saturday's paper, is a brother of Sol Durbin, a well-known farmer of this vicinity.

The Union Pacific have recently put on twenty-four new Pullman cars, besides a large number of chair cars. The first train of the new cars passed through yesterday.

"Jg xpo xbon hppe qijupt, hp up Jissjot, if jt aif nbo zip ofwis tmmqf." Translated into the English language, means if you want first class photos go to Herrin, gallery over the postoffice.

Princess Victoria Kawekini Kaulani Lunaliio Kalaninuihahilopalapa is the name of the daughter of the dethroned Hawaiian Queen. When she becomes a citizen of the United States, she will become plain, sensible "Calico Annie."

Mr. McGill, a farmer of Oak Ridge, returned to his home yesterday. He arrived here with eighty-seven head of fat cattle from the valley. After feeding at Salmon's stock yards they will be driven home and turned out on the range.

A large crowd gathered to see the Regulator launched yesterday. It was accomplished about 1 o'clock, and she nestled into the water with a rapid glide, reposing upon the bosom of the Columbia like a "fat duck upon the pearly edges of prosperity."

Several Umatilla county farmers are still holding grain harvested in 1891. One has 6,000 bushels on hand. An offer of 91 cents per bushel was made for the wheat after the harvest of that year, and was declined by the farmer, who believed that the price would reach $1.

A shipment of building rock from the quarry near Baker city will soon be made to Salt Lake City to be tested for structural purposes. Salt Lake visitors recently there became favorably impressed with the stone and are of the opinion that an extensive industry can be created and a remunerative one to the projectors.

A pleasant party gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kinney on Saturday evening. Mr. J. Garrell and Miss L. Spencer won lady and gentleman's first prize for best tiddledewink players and Mr. J. Spencer and Miss L. Farmer carried off the booby prizes. A candy pull was then indulged in, at which all enjoyed themselves without exception.

M. E. Bilyeu and other residents of Scio, while hunting for coon during the recent snow storm, cut down a large tree, which among other things, was found to contain besides the coveted coon, seven or eight flying squirrels and a lot of honey, the product of a swarm of bees that had selected the tree for a home.

That the cholera will visit us next summer is almost a certainty. It is beginning its campaign early at various European points and it seems almost impossible to prevent its entry into the United States. The first preventive is cleanliness, and every American citizen should begin at once a vigorous warfare upon dirt of all kinds.

They have a man in the Washington legislature who knows how to express himself. In explaining his vote he indulged in this climax: "You may hang Puget Sound on a tall tree to dry, you may place Mount Rainier on a nail keg, unbuckle the belly-band of eternity, but you will never get me to vote for a man I do not believe entitled to a free seat in this house."

Anderson's Trophies.
M. J. Anderson, of Dufur, a prominent member of the "third house," returned from Salem yesterday. The laurel crown of victory sets serenely on his brow. He also brought with him a fine lot of Mongolian pheasants, California quail and Oregon mountain quail, which he proposes to turn loose on the range near Dufur, and as the New York alderman said, "let nature take her course."

The Stock Industry.
The report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture just issued, upon comparative numbers and values of farm animals, based on returns of January, 1893, shows an increase of horses, mules, and sheep, no material change in the number of milk cows, a decrease in oxen and other cattle, and a very heavy reduction in the number of swine, amounting to about 12 per cent. The estimated present numbers of domestic animals on farms, ranches, and the public range are as follows: Horses, 16,206,802; mules, 2,331,128; cows, 16,424,087; other cattle, 35,954,198; sheep, 47,273,553; swine, 46,064,807. The increase in mules is slight. The apparent increase in sheep exceeds two millions, a continuation of the movement which commenced in 1889, by which numbers have increased nearly five millions in four years.

Joseph V. Dory, of Warsaw, Ill., was troubled with rheumatism and tried a number of different remedies, but says none of them seemed to do him any good; but finally he got hold of one that speedily cured him. He was much pleased with it, and felt sure that others similarly afflicted would like to know what the remedy was that cured him. He states for the benefit of the public that it is called Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

GOT HIS MAN.

How Deputy Sheriff Phirman Got Around Kansas Laws.

Deputy Sheriff Phirman arrived with his prisoner, D. S. Allison, Saturday evening. He experienced considerable difficulty in securing him on account of the difference in the statutes between Kansas and Oregon relating to arrests. According to Oregon law a man may be arrested if the complaint reads: "The above charge is true, as I verily believe." But by the Kansas law it must be sworn to as an unchallenged fact. The prisoner, Allison, was in custody of Sheriff I. T. Ault, on a telegram from Sheriff Ward, and how to get him out of Kansas was the question. Deputy Phirman went to Topeka, where he secured a requisition from the governor of Oregon and returned with it to Wichita. In the meantime Allison had been discharged on a writ of habeas corpus, but Ault, who was waiting till Phirman could arrive, had him rearrested on a trumped-up charge, and in this condition of affairs Phirman arrived. He was released to Phirman by the sheriff. Allison was to have a hearing at 2 o'clock, and his attorney notified Phirman to produce the prisoner at the hour set. Mr. Phirman replied that the prisoner was not in his possession and he had better serve the summons upon Ault. Presumably he did so, but it must have been too late, for Phirman secured a hack, and with two deputies, went out three miles away, where the train stops at an unimportant point, sending for his grip at the hotel. Long before 2 o'clock Phirman was speeding westward with his prisoner, and had passed the confines of the state before they could be stopped.

Cal Hale.

Condon Globe.

Cal Hale's witnesses arrived home Saturday from Ellensburg. Geo. Zachary accompanied them; the case against him having been dismissed by the prosecution, as there was no convicting evidence against him. The jury in Tom Kimsey's case "hung" for two days, and the judge finally postponed his trial until the 27th, when he'll have to "run the gauntlet" again. Hale will get a new trial. His friends in this county were about to raise a subscription with which to employ Hon. A. S. Bennett, of The Dalles for the defense, but learning that Hon. J. C. Leasure of Pendleton had already been employed for that purpose, they dropped the matter. Cal's friends think it was a put-up job to convict him, and that with another trial he will come out O. K. We hope so.

Church Nuisances.

It is a great annoyance to those who want to hear the minister to have their attention distracted by whispering in the back seats, and by parties who come in late and go out early. They should know that such conduct is a gross breach of etiquette, and even if they have not been trained in etiquette, they should realize that they exhibit a prodigious amount of thoughtlessness and selfishness in spoiling the enjoyment of a whole churchful of people on account of their petty gossip. It is probable, though, that the nuisance will continue, for all we might say to the contrary, for such people are not enlightened enough to read THE CHRONICLE.

The Western Queen.

The ferry boat was launched today. The boat has been replanked on the sides and rakes. New aprons have been put in, as well as new sheathing and she has been repaired throughout. She is now good for four or five years to come without another stroke of work being done on it unless through some unforeseen accident.

DEED.

CHRONICLE. ENCYCLOPEDIA

FORGER WILLIAMS.

A New Fact Brought to Light From Portland.

Nothing has yet been heard of Williams, the old man who forged a check for $100 on Moody's bank about ten days ago. It has just been brought to light, also, that he seduced $50 in Portland on some other racket previous to his coming to The Dalles.

Williams while here boarded at the Columbia house and through his age and apparent infirmities got into the good graces of J. J. Edwards, a well-known rancher of this vicinity. Both were in the bank at the time, and Williams produced a draft on a Wallace, Idaho, bank. He referred to Edwards for identification, who said he knew the man and that his name was Williams. On this statement he drew the money and took the next train east. Edwards will not be held responsible for the loss.
