FEBRUARY FANCIES.

Crispy Sayings and Doings of Local and General Import.

For her he swore he'd wade through fire, Or swim the widest river, In deserts roam, in jungles sleep, Or suffer pain forever, He'd tunnel mountains high today, And bridge the sea tomorrow; And when she wanted coal brought in He drew the line with sorrow.

The snow has nearly gone. There is also a notable depreciation of mud.

Be careful how you lend anything these days. It will stay Lent for several weeks.

We understand that a new saddle and harness shop will shortly be opened in the East End.

Word has been received that the Regulator and Dalles City both reached the Cascades O K today.

The month of January was remarkable for having two life-size full moons, and February will be quite as remarkable by having no full moon at all.

Wild flowers are in bloom and tell us that spring will soon be here. The Nielsen children found some of the "Indian potatoes" at Mr. Klindt's yesterday.

The prospects are good for considerable building with the opening of spring. Some fine residences are in contemplation, besides one or two store buildings.

It has been suggested that the February term of court should commence with the last Monday of February, instead of the second, as at present. A saving of jury fees could also be figured.

The party last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. Chrisman was a most enjoyable affair. The guests were entertained during the evening in various ways, and left with the memory of having passed a very pleasant time.

Oregon machine-dried prunes that last year brought in the markets 8 1/2c are now selling for 11c. The Oregon prune is fast gaining reputation as a superior article of commerce and the rise is attributed to this fact solely.

A deal has just been consummated, whereby A. M. Cherry disposes of all his buildings and business to W. R. Parker, proprietor of the Umatilla house at Umatilla, possession to be given on March 1.

A squaw was observed in the East End the other day carrying a cook stove. About a dozen feet behind her trudged her brave, carrying the lidlifter and a popcorn ball. Civilization can do little for the red man.

A petition and remonstrance is being circulated relative to consolidating the east and west precincts of The Dalles. As it stands now, the east precinct is not represented by a justice of the peace, and all cases are tried before Justice Schutt.

The E. O. reports that the people's party are organizing a company for the purpose of establishing a solid newspaper, to be devoted to the interests of the party in the state. It will be published in Eastern Oregon, and the company will have a capital of not less than $50,000.

The Indians are happy now, says a

Umatilla correspondent of the E. O. You may see them in squads of dozens, hurrying toward the rapids of the Umatilla river, carrying long poles, spears, etc. Salmon have appeared in the river and the siwash won't rest day or night while they are running.

Some of the ladies observed the birthday of Washington yesterday by dressing in the costume of Martha Washington, and the reporter couldn't repress the secret observation that if the style of 120 years ago were to come into vogue again, it would be much more sensible than hoop skirts, and be vastly more attractive.

Anniversary Party at Mr. Klindt's.

At the home of Mr. Henry Klindt, in the suburbs, Washington's birthday was celebrated in a very pleasant manner, it being also the anniversary of the 63d birthday of the host. The guests enjoyed a very pleasant drive to the residence, whither they were taken in carriages. A sumptuous dinner was served in the afternoon, and the health of the host and hostess was drank in wine from the vintage of Mr. Cushing. After the repast, the guests adjourned to the parlors, where cards were in order till the carriages were announced. Those present were Mr and Mrs Klindt, Judge and Mrs Liebe, Mr and Mrs Nielsen, Mr and Mrs Cushing, Mrs Brooks, Miss Klindt, Miss Dora Nielsen, Mr Albert Klindt and Mr Walter Klindt.

A Washington Frolic.

A very pleasant affair was the surprise party across the river last night at Mr. and Mrs. William Brune's. Music, games, dancing and a superb lunch all contributed to an evening's enjoyment, which was too quickly terminated by the relentless hands of the clock as they indicated that a new day had been born and was quite healthy. It was a genuine surprise party, unquestionably, for on arriving, Mr. Brune was found to have retired, but this fact only served to make the occasion merrier, by reason of good-natured badinage on the host's exemplary habits. Those present were: Miss Pauline Buchler, Miss Louise Payette, Miss Bessy Miller, Miss Wanda Skibbe, Mrs. Byers, Joseph H. Wodica, W F Hill, Chas Frank, Al Mooes, A Woisky, Mr and Mrs F W L Shible.

The Whist Club.

Last evening was one of the most pleasant in the history of the Union whist club. The host and hostess for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Hobson, who arranged matters very nicely. Ten tables were filled with players, and twenty-five hands of drive whist were played. The first prize, an elegant vase, was won by Mrs. H. Glenn. As soon as the whist was over Dr. Logan assumed the duties of host and treated the club to an elegant banquet, for which the evening playing had prepared the appetites of the players. Among those present were Mr and Mrs Crossen, Mr and Mrs W Lord, Mr and Mrs W Hobson, Mr and Mrs Hostetter, Judge and Mrs Blakeley, Mr and Mrs Houghton, Mr and Mrs H Glenn, Mr and Mrs W H Wilson, Judge and Mrs A S Bennett, Judge and Mrs Bradshaw, Mr and Mrs G P Morgan, Mr and Mrs E C Poase, Senator and Mrs Hilton, Mr and Mrs L E Crowe, Dr and Mrs Rinehart, Mrs Beall, Dr H Logan, Mr Rinehart.

THE INLAND STAR.

The Sturdy Little Boat Comes Out Unscathed.

When the ice was bearing down so heavily on the little boat Inland Star, the report was current that she had cracked from bow to stern. Now that the ice has gone down it is shown that her hull is as sound as ever. The test is probably the most severe to which she could be subjected, as it is estimated that the force against her was equal to a 100 ton pressure. Mr. Kennedy, the builder and captain of the boat, has been about two years in constructing her.

With no previous knowledge of boat building, and rejecting all advice from those claiming a knowledge in the art, he has constructed a miniature steamer which, as far as strength is concerned, is able to buffet the storms of the ocean. Her equipment is now complete and she will be launched in about a week. The only effect of the squeeze she has recently had was to break the propeller wheel (which Mr. Kennedy thinks was broken before) and loosen some of the caulking. The captain expects to go below before the close of the week, to secure the necessary papers allowing her to do business on the river.

PERSONAL MENTION.

J. O. Mack leaves this afternoon for Portland.

Mr. Ordway, of Chenoweth, was in town today.

Mr. Swift, son of A. J. Swift of Wamic, is in the city.

W. M. Granie of Grants, well known in The Dalles, is at the Umatilla.

S. L. Brooks took a trip to the Cascades this morning on the Regulator.

L. A. Estab, of the new real estate firm, goes to Wallawa county tonight to attend court at that place.

Engineer Charles Johnston and wife, of Albina, returned to The Dalles last night, intending to make this place their future home.

Mr. Will Gordon, who has been attending the Forest Grove university, is in the city for his health, and is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Kame.

Louis Davenport, of Mosier, is in town today. The many old-time friends of the judge will be grieved to learn that four of his family, the children, are all sick in bed.

Notice.

The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Co. will resume business on Thursday, February 23d, making tri-weekly trips between The Dalles and Portland. The Regulator will leave The Dalles at 7 a. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays, connecting with the Dalles City at Cascade Locks for Portland. The Dalles City will leave Portland on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, connecting with the Regulator at Cascade Locks for The Dalles. The company will run their steamers as above for a few weeks, after which daily trips will be made.

MOSIER MUSINGS.

Crime Now Stalks Abroad There Unchallenged.

From our Regular Correspondent.]

Merchant Flaherty is still wearing an 8-pound smile over the arrival of a fine baby girl last week.

Many are running short of feed for their stock and some are entirely out. Nearly every local freight train from The Dalles has a shipment of baled hay aboard for some of our people.

F. J. Creed, our strawberry king, expects very large returns from the coming season's crop. Mr. Creed has demonstrated that Mosier can grow berries equally early, and as good in every respect as the famous Hood River berry which command such large prices at the first of the season.

The snow has nearly all gone. The outlook for the fruit crop is very flattering and those who have orchards in bearing rejoice exceedingly. The immigrant who has been here long enough to have young orchards planted, is happy in the belief that the snow fall will stimulate the trees into a lively growth. In fact about the only one whom the heavy fall of snow did not help is the last year's immigrant, who has been playing freeze-out all winter in a box house. However, those who are opening up fruit farms have shed their winter whiskers and with axe and mactock are making way with the native tree, to be replaced by the apple, prune and peach, which give a revenue for the space they occupy and which never fail in this section.

The supreme court of Mosier convened at the new school house on the 6th inst., to try one of our citizens for an assault with his deadly fist upon one, Mr. — for not shutting up his mouth when requested to do so. The defendant was arrested, duly arraigned and asked for a change of venue on the ground that the court was prejudiced. The clerk, Mr. —, said there was no change of "avenue" from that court, and advised the prisoner to plead guilty and assured him that the court would make the penalty as light as possible under the statutes, which would be two years in the pen. and $500 fine, together with the costs of the court. The court then took a recess until "day after tomorrow at 2 o'clock." Although the time was rather indefinite, it probably did arrive, for on the 10th inst. the prisoner was again arrested and arraigned before the court. The counsel for the defense insisted on having the case sent to the nearest justice, Hood River. The court said there were not many men living at Hood River, and they might be all dead, and decided to send the case to The Dalles, where the prosecuting witness had more friends. This reason, if not brilliant, surely has the simplicity that is supposed to go with honesty. The case was finally put off until the snow goes off, and crime stalks at large unchallenged in Mosier. Whaleback Building on the Pacific.

A large force of men are at work on the new whaleback steamer Everett, building at Everett, Washington. The contract has already been let to the Frontier Iron Works, of Detroit, Mich., for the construction of the engines for the Everett. They will develop between five and six thousand horse power. The Everett is to be a passenger and freight vessel, combined. Sixty staterooms will be put in on the upper deck for the accommodation of passengers. It has not been decided yet what route the Everett will be put on, but it is probable that she will be put on the regular run between Everett and San Francisco. She is being built large enough so she can make the run to Japan or China, her tonnage being 4,500.

A Temporary Embarrassment.

Baker Democrat.

The stringency in the lumber market that has so long prevailed, together with dull times generally, has forced the Baker City Consolidated Lumber Company into temporary liquidation. The fact was made known yesterday and caused quite a ripple of excitement in business circles. An assignment will take place today, but who will be selected as the assignee is not yet known. The principal creditors of the concern are the two banks of this city. It is stated that the liabilities will foot up near $25,000 with assets much more than that amount, and when once available creditors will get their claims paid in full.

Tried to Wreck a Car.

A dastardly attempt was made last night to wreck the 8:30 electric car near the old tannery. R. B. Smart was driving at a fair pace with several passengers inside, when he got on to the long trestle. Half way over it an iron rail, 13 feet long, was stretched across the track and the car smashed into it with a jerk, which sent the two front wheels completely off the track and almost precipitated the car into the river below. The authorities are confident that they know who the perpetrators are, and summary steps will be taken to apprehend and punish them.

Remarkable, Indeed.

We published recently the remarkable literary announcement of an edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica, for $20.00, the genuine, illustrated, large type, cloth bound work. A sample volume can now be seen at this office; it is certainly the most astonishing bargain ever offered in the book world. We propose to order a set, and if any of our friends want to join us they can do so, and save a little in trouble and expense. See the advertisement elsewhere and come in and see the book. There is an installment plan for securing the work on payment of only five cents a day, or $1.00 every twenty days.
