FRIDAY, FEB. 24, 1893

The New York "Homestead" publishes a complete exhibit of the world's supply and demand of hops for the current season ending August 31, 1893. The exact shortage of the world's supply is 3,500,000 pounds, which must be made up by the consumption of old stock. There has been enough on hand for the purpose. There is an estimated shortage of 6,000,000 pounds in the English supply, and England has yet to secure hops to meet the demand before the end of the season. It is noteworthy that while every effort is made to keep the price of American hops below 25 cents per pound, foreign hops have been imported at a cost of 39 cents in addition to the duty, thus showing American brewers are willing to pay fully 55 cents for foreign hops, while they begrudge 25 cents for American hops, which are infinitely superior to the imported article, which are mostly cheap Russian growth, repacked in Germany and labeled as choice Bavarian hops, especially for the export trade. The output of beer in this country was increased by 500,000 barrels during the first four months of the present season.

It is now known to be a fact that there will be a new freight schedule adopted by the Union Pacific system east from Portland over the Pacific division. This will go into effect on the 26th. Portland sees that something must be done to hold her trade with Eastern Oregon, and has succeeded in accomplishing the adoption of this new schedule. It is not positively known what reduction is to be made.

What Pendleton now wants, says the Tribune, is a new freight schedule from the east and she and Walla Walla can get it if concerted action is taken. There is no reason why Spokane can have her freight delivered twenty cents on a hundred cheaper over the Union Pacific system than Pendleton and Walla Walla, and the two latter cities ought to rise up in their might and show this company what virtue there is in the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The Dallas Transcript nurses its sore spot in the following language: "Raley's portage railway bill should have passed, as it was one of merit, inasmuch as it was providing for an outlet of the products of a vast section east of the cascades. In the matter of appropriations nineteen-twentieths comes to the Willamette valley; and if our consins across the mountains make a big kick because of this discrimination, some day, we webfooters may not be surprised." The Chronicle does not know how hard a knock it will take to surprise "webfooters," but if losing the Monmouth appropriation, the Willamette canal, and several other things dear to the heart of those mist-benighted denizens would jog their understanding a little, it is possible they could be surprised two years from now.

So far, Oregon has furnished six victims for the mortuary record of those frozen to death during the winter, says a valley exchange. But those who have thus lost their lives were indiscreet hunters whose love for the sport led them up into the deep fastnesses of mountain forests, where unexpectedly they have encountered blinding snow storms and a colder atmosphere. Losing their way, they perished as might be expected. At no time during the winter has the thermometer fell below 10 degrees above zero in the Willamette valley.

The appointment of Judge Gresham by Cleveland is probably the first case on record where a president has crossed parties in the selection of his cabinet. The fact will please the great majority of the American people, though, for they will recognize that Cleveland is not bound to any man or set of men, political or otherwise, and proposes to be captain of the ship in all that the word implies.

A Cordial Reception.
Early one morning, recently, I called to see a gentleman who had not yet left his bed. I was met at the door by a woman whose sleeves were rolled up, who wore an ample apron upon which were various spots of flour and whose face was not entirely free from similar spots. It was "bake day," but she did not embarrass me by any reference to the fact or any apology as to her appearance. She asked me into the parlor and after sending one of the children upstairs to notify the father of my presence, re-entered the parlor and chatted until her husband appeared about various topics in an entertaining, easy manner, quite as though she had been expecting and was all fixed up to receive me. It was simply delightful and my great grief is that I have no sufficient excuse to make another early morning call at the same home.—Detroit Free Press.

A Way of Cooking Rodents.
The negro slaves of Jamaica used to regard rats as a dainty, their masters not providing them with any other meat. Their method of cooking the toothsome rodents was to impale each one on a long wooden skewer, after cleaning the animal and cutting off the tail, turning it briskly around over a fire until the hair was all burned off. Then it was scraped until free from fur, and finally the end of the skewer was stuck into the ground, inclined toward the fire, until it was toasted dry and crisp, thus being made ready for the meal.—Washington Star.

A Train of Elevator Cars.
From an elevator point of view the new Masonic temple building in Chicago will be the most important in the world. It will have twenty-four cars built in a circular shaft having a 250 foot rise. There will be express elevators, way and freight trains. The first will go to the top floor without stopping, while the others will stop either at every floor, or at the fifth, tenth, fifteenth and so on. They will not run at full speed, probably because passengers do not like the sensation of flying.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

A Solid Silver Dinner Service.
Probably the most magnificent complimentary present ever received by a European sovereign is the emperor of Austria's silver wedding gift to the czar. It consists of a dinner service of solid silver, superbly wrought and chased, each piece bearing an imperial eagle. The service is for twenty-four persons, and there are 280 pieces.—London Truth.

Cotton Seed Oil Generates Fire.
The recent losses by fire in the cargo of ships carrying cotton has shown that cotton seed oil, when held in the cotton on the outside of the bale, rapidly oxidizes and generates spontaneous combustion.—New York Journal.

Even in Japan the desire for higher education is evidenced by the number of Japanese students in our colleges and their alumnae. Only in Germany, Austria, Hungary and Turkey are the women excluded from university study.

An alloy which adheres firmly to glass and can therefore be used for joining up glass tubing is said to be made by adding 5 per cent. of copper to 95 per cent. of tin. The tin is first melted and the copper added subsequently.

Slate land was once so little valued that the tract upon which the famous Chapman quarry in Pennsylvania is situated was sold for a pint of liquor. Its subsequent owners have taken millions of dollars from it.

"It makes me tired!
People ask me—is marriage a failure? Of course 'tain't; 'spose I don't know my biz—what am I here for?" If the women only keep healthy they keep in good spirits and cupid is in demand. Let every enfeebled woman know this—there's a remedy that'll cure her, the proof's positive.
Here's the proof—if it doesn't do you good within reasonable time, report the fact to its makers and get your money back without a word—but you won't do it!
The remedy is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription—and it has proved itself the right remedy in nearly every case of female weakness. It is not a miracle. It won't cure everything—but it has done more to build up enfeebled and broken-down women than any other medicine known.

WINANS

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil, pure cold water and shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort and for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is also unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse power in its dashing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.
