CRUSHED TO DEATH
Seven People Instantly Killed by a Falling Wall.

SEVERAL OTHERS BADLY INJURED
A Hungarian Village Engulfed in the Raging Waters and Fleeing Inhabitants Drowned.

CHICAGO, Feb. 28.—The lives of seven people were instantly crushed out in their sleep this morning, one other person fatally hurt, and two more dangerously. Shortly after midnight a heavy wind sprang up, increasing to a gale, then almost to a hurricane. At Halstead and Nineteenth streets stood the store wall of John York's dry-goods house, recently gutted by fire. Part of the walls were left standing, and on these the proprietor began to rebuild. The walls, which had reached a height of five stories, were still green and insufficiently braced. They gave way before the tornado, and fell with a deafening crash about 1:30 o'clock this morning on the two-story structure adjoining, occupied as a dwelling by the family of John Schmidt, a saloon-keeper, and William Kunz, a jeweler. The great mass of bricks and mortar crushed the structure like an eggshell and the occupants with it.

Drowned in the Floods.

VIENNA, Feb. 28.—A terrible calamity has overtaken the village of Gergely, near Paks, Hungary. Owing to a sudden rise in the Danube, its 1,600 inhabitants were forced to flee from their mud huts to the church and school. The advancing waters finally compelled them to flee from these refuges or be drowned in them. When they turned out again, the flood surged nearly to their waists. The children and infirm were assisted by the stronger as they struggled along toward Paks, with the waters continually rising. First one, a mother with five children, gave up, sank and perished in the flood. Those were followed by many others, the number of whom is unknown, and the survivors reached Paks in an exhausted, pitiable plight. No doubt the number drowned is very large. The people of Paks are deeply concerned for their own safety, as the Danube is 20 feet above normal.

A Blizzard in Wisconsin.

HUDSON, Wis., Feb. 28.—The severest storm in many years visited this section last night. Twenty-two inches of snow fell, followed by a cutting wind from the northwest. All trains on the northeast and south divisions of the Omaha road are blocked within a few miles of this city. The last train out of here at 5 o'clock last night has not yet reached the first station, 12 miles distant. The public schools are closed, and business is practically suspended. The snow is piled on the principal streets in drifts 10 to 15 feet high.

Cold Weather in the East.

ST. PAUL, Feb. 28.—The weather is clear, but the drifted snow obstructs all kinds of traffic. Street-cars stopped running during the night and did not resume till late this morning. The same state of affairs exists throughout the northwest. The snow is two feet deep on a level in many places, and badly drifted in others. Railroad traffic is about at a standstill. Redwing and Stillwater are cut off from the outside world.

The Dreaded Scourge.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 28.—The five cases of smallpox which have been mentioned in the columns of the Telegram for the past few days are doing well under the care of Dr. Wheeler, and no new developments of the dreaded disease are reported. Agnes Bradley, who with Genevieve Lonwie is at the pesthouse, is reported well on the road to recovery, while the latter was in a more serious condition today. All precautions are being taken for the suppression of the disease, and no additional cases are expected.

The War is Over.

TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 28.—The populist house in a body, 54 in number, marched into representative hall this morning, headed by the populist speaker, Dunsmore, followed by the populist sergeant-at-arms carrying the United States flag. They were quietly received, the demonstration in the galleries being suppressed. An hour was then spent in drawing for seats.

Still Tied up at Olympia.

OLYMPIA, Feb. 28.—The 84th joint ballot was as follows: There were 105 votes cast—Allen 47, Turner 22, Griggs 25, Van Patton 9, Dunbar 1, Sharpstein

1. The 55th ballot was the same, except McMannus of Snohomish voted for State Senator McCroskey, of Whitman.

No Change in Montana.

HELENA, Mont., Feb. 28.—Senatorial ballot: No significant change; no choice.

Forcing the Pacific Mail.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—It is announced as a fact by the friends of the North American Navigation Company that a contract had been made by that company and the Panama railway for the carrying trade between Panama and San Francisco, Colon and New York. The Pacific Mail Company is thus completely defeated, and the prediction is made that the new combination will cut freight rates via the Isthmus and, by forming a competing line to the transcontinental roads, will force down the latter's freight rates. The contract is said to have been signed yesterday, and was probably due to the general impression that the investigation of the Panama scandal would, as far as this country is concerned, be finished. The commission, it is anticipated, will make a report to the effect that, while some of the money sent to the United States probably was used corruptly, it is impossible to trace it. Since the chief fear of the Panama railway was thus disposed of, there remained no reason why it should not continue in its refusal to make a contract with the Pacific Mail Company and turn to the navigation company association, with which it would be advantageous. It is understood that by the terms of the agreement the contract will be rendered void the moment the North American Navigation Company enters into the transcontinental pool. The Pacific Mail is ready to sell out to the North American Navigation, it is understood.

Sentenced for Life.

PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 28.—Frank Ohlegschlager, the murderer of William H. Woolridge, was sentenced to the penitentiary for life this morning by Judge Stearns.

Human nature asserted itself again in the presence of a large crowd of spectators, who were drawn to the courtroom for the sole purpose of hearing sentence pronounced and observing its effect upon the miserable wretch to whom it applied. When asked if he had anything to say as to why sentence should not be passed, Ohlegschlager replied: "Nothing," and when the judgment of the court fell upon his ears his eyes filled with tears, and, apparently, for the first time the murderer realized all that had happened. He walked out of the courtroom with head bowed and face highly flushed, and will be taken to the penitentiary on this evening's train.

Joseph V. Dory, of Warsaw, Ill., was troubled with rheumatism and tried a number of different remedies, but says none of them seemed to do him any good; but finally he got hold of one that speedily cured him. He was much pleased with it, and felt sure that others similarly afflicted would like to know what the remedy was that cured him. He states for the benefit of the public that it is called Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

Mr. Albert Favorite, of Arkansas City, Kan., wishes to give our readers the benefit of his experience with colds. He says: "I contracted a cold early last spring that settled on my lungs, and had hardly recovered from it when I caught another that hung on all summer and left me with a hacking cough which I thought I never would get rid of. I had used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy some fourteen years ago with much success, and concluded to try it again. When I got through with one bottle my cough had left me, and I have not suffered with a cough or cold since. I have recommended it to others, and all speak well of it." 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

McKinley Does Not Want Charity.

CLEVELAND, O., Feb. 28.—Governor McKinley has written a letter to the Leader, which has been receiving voluntary contributions to the fund to help the governor out of his financial difficulties, saying that, while these generous offers of assistance have touched him deeply, he cannot accept them.

Ripsey is Still Alive.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 28.—Mackay continues to make rapid strides toward recovery. His wound is healing nicely and he will probably be able to be out in a week or ten days. Ripsey, his aged assailant, is still alive.

Delightful Anticipation.
Klamath Star.

Steve Lowe was in from Olene yesterday. As soon as spring opens Mr. Lowe will start his shingle mill and run it for greater results than ever. The country everywhere is rapidly settling up, and shingles will be called for with a louder and perhaps a sweeter voice. The voice of a sweet lady settler calling for shingles to cover her roof would thrill Steve through and through. He has on hand now about 25,000 shingles, and will probably move the mill to a point somewhere near the Falls, on the Fort road.

Shiloh's cure, the Great Cough and Croup Cure, is for sale by Snipes & Kinersly. Pocket size contains twenty-five doses, only 25c. Children love it.

Hearts of Judges.

Ex-Judge Reardon says that all lawyers have hearts of mercy until they become judges. In the superior court, during the brief term he served, he always refused criminal cases, because the mother of the young man was sure to come around and show the gray hairs under her aged bonnet. Judge Reardon says that on two occasions he saw Judge Levy weaken under the effect of an old western bonnet trembling with stuffed roses. The first time was in a case of grand larceny, and the old lady who called asked the judge for a pass to the Episcopal home. She said that her son Fred had declared his intention to steal because he couldn't "get work," and whatever he had stolen was for her sake and because he "couldn't get work."

"Why," said Reardon, "when the old woman finished her story, Levy was crying as bitterly as she and the young criminal went to the house of correction with the smallest sentence he could get. "Next year the same fellow came up on an outrageous charge of robbery, and the ancient lady turned up as usual with a full set of tears. She shed them freely, but the judge was familiar with her tactics and the young man went over to San Quentin.

"The old lady was very ungrateful, for she rose in her night and cried: "Say, judge, you used to have a kind heart!"—San Francisco Examiner.

Dainty in Her Tastes.

The female wasp spends the winter in a torpid condition, and when spring arrives she hunts up some sort of sheltered spot appropriate for a nest. Having selected the retreat she proceeds to lay within it the foundation of a home. For this object earth will not serve her turn. The substance of which the walls and chambers of the house are to be composed must be none other than the finest paper, made of wood pulp, mixed with a sort of sizing, worked to a paste and finely spread in sheets.—Naturalist.

Kitchen Economy

Actual tests show the Royal Baking Powder to be 27 per cent. stronger than any other brand on the market. If another baking powder is forced upon you by the grocer, see that you are charged the correspondingly lower price.

Bread, biscuit, cakes and muffins are not known in most delicate and perfect quality where Royal Baking Powder is not used.
