IDAHO DIAMONDS.

The New York World, which of course cannot be said to favor Idaho diamonds from a local prejudice, thus speaks of them: "One of the Tiffany experts and others recently pronounced against the alleged diamonds from the Idaho fields, but Herman Vreisländer, an experienced diamond cleaver from Amsterdam, who is now in an office at No. 51 Maiden lane, disagrees with them. About three weeks ago he received from a correspondent in Boise City three stones which he says are genuine diamonds. Mr. Vreisländer says: 'About January 13th, when the papers were full of stories of diamonds found in Idaho, I wrote to all the persons with whom I had previously corresponded on the subject, giving references and asking for samples. Eventually I received a package containing three small stones, with a letter saying they were found on the sender's own property. The stones are fine diamonds, aggregating in weight 1-9-16 carats, and are unlike any others that I have ever seen. In color they resemble somewhat the Jagerstein stones, but, in my opinion, are superior to them, their delicate aquamarine tint indicating that on polishing they will possess a finer whiteness than the bluer African stones.'

"The remarkable feature of these Idaho stones is their peculiar shape. They are what are known in Holland as 'packwatjes,' otherwise stones with blunt edges. Now, while such stones are found in most diamond mines, the specimens are rare. This peculiarity makes it improbable that these diamonds have come from anywhere except Idaho."

ABOUT THE BILLS.

Senator Butler's dower bill amends the existing statutes by giving a widow one-half instead of one-third of the estate or inheritance; one half instead of one-third of the residue from the satisfaction of a mortgage after her husband's death; one-half of the rents on the estate she lives on after his death; one-half of the means earnings of the estate when she has to sue other heirs for it.

Senate bill 205 provides that where a will is admitted to probate, in addition to having it recorded in the county where it is admitted to probate, the executor or administrator with the will or a certified copy annexed, must be recorded in every county in which the testator left any real property in the record of deeds of such counties. The act contains the emergency clause.

A bill of Senator Denny's amends the code relative to the distribution or personal property of an estate. The existing law provides that the husband of an intestate shall inherit the whole of her property, issue or no issue. The new law gives, in case of issue, half the property to the survivor, either husband or widow, and all of it in case of no issue.

Senator Hayes' bill, authorizing county courts to offer rewards for fugitives, provides that a reward, not to exceed $1,000, shall be offered by the county court for the arrest of any fugitive from justice charged with a felony. If the sheriff of the county apprehends the criminal he can either receive the reward of his regular fees, as he may elect.

Senate bill No. 128, introduced by Senator Cross, repeals with an emergency clause, section 2,795 of the code, which provided that the sheriff must post up three written or printed handbills in each precinct in his county to the effect that he or a deputy would be at the precinct's voting-place at a certain time for collecting taxes.

Senate bill 209 provides that a person meeting with an accident upon a public highway or bridge, in consequence of the poor condition of the same, shall be entitled to recover damages from the county to the extent of $1,000, by an action in the circuit court of the county in which the accident occurred.

The Waldenses, descendants of the famous sect, so cruelly persecuted for centuries on account of their religious opinions, who still inhabit the mountain district of the Italian side of the Cottian Alps, are preparing to emigrate to the United States. Their chief business, clothmaking, has become so depressed, even with their frugality, that it is difficult for them to live. They are sending agents to the United States to make inquiries looking to settlement there. It is estimated that fully 2,000 of them will emigrate in the spring. They are a hardy, energetic people, and to a remarkable degree the virtues of their ancestors.

Worn-out, "run-down," feeble women, need Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It builds them up. It's a powerful, restorative tonic, or strength-giver—free from alcohol and injurious drugs. The entire system is renewed and invigorated. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, gives refreshing sleep, and restores flesh and strength. As a soothing nerve, it allays and subdues hysteria, spasms, and all the nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease. It's the only guaranteed medicine for women. It does what is promised—or it asks nothing. It gives satisfaction, in every case, or the money paid for it is refunded.

That's the way its makers prove their faith in it. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.

WINANS

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large sightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil, pure cold water and shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort, and for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is also unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse power in its dashing streams and water-falls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.

TITLE PERFECT. See me on the ground, or address me at Hood River, Wasco County, Oregon.
