MARCH MELANGE.

Stray Bits of News Gathered From All Sources.

There is a man the printer loves, And he is wondrous wise; Whene'er he writes the printer man, He dottieth all his i's.

And after he has dotted them With carefulness and ease, He punctuates each paragraph And crosses all his t's.

Upon one side alone he writes, And never rolls his leaves, And from the man of ink a smile And mark "insert" receives.

Cleveland lost an X today.

"Uncle" Ferris is sporting a Cleveland hat today.

Flags are numerous floating over the city in honor of today's inauguration.

The Inland Star today received a coat of tar. It will be launched Tuesday.

The river has reached zero mark. There is a great deal of ice floating down.

The trifling trouble over a lantern at Mosier caused a loss to Wasco county of over $200.

The McIrvine place on Chenoweth was sold yesterday to John H. Prall, of Nebraska, for $10,000.

It is reported that the Southern Pacific Ry. Co. is about to put on an hourly train between Portland and Oregon City.

Work is progressing rapidly on the new dock at the foot of Court street. It is fast being enclosed and will now be finished in a very few days.

A deep well is digging at Beaverton. The contractor has gone down already 300 feet and the bottom of the well is already below the surface of the ocean.

The proposed Keeley institution at La Grande, has gone glimmering. The La Grande people, who promised a cash subscription of $2,000, are just that much winner.

There is said to be more snow on the west slope of the Cascades than there has been for years. This will necessarily cause much delay in opening the roads across the mountains.

A child was born in California recently with sixteen perfect fingers. It was first proposed to educate him for a freight brakeman, but now that the car coupler is coming he will be used to practically demonstrate the dangers of a busy saw.

The following letter was received today from Minneapolis: "Enclosed please find 10 cents, for which please send me one or two copies of your paper. I am thinking of emigrating to Oregon, and newspapers are a pretty good index of the thrift and enterprise of the people."

President Harrison retires today with the good wishes of the whole nation. He has made a clean record, and the national verdict will be: "Well done, good and faithful servant." The relinquishment of the white house and its burdens will bring its share of relief to compensate him for his defeat at the polls, while his person will be safer from the crank's bullet, and his peace of mind from the alarmists who make up their deficiency in number by their loud braying upon impending calamity.

Inauguration in The Dalles.

It is doubtful if the ceremonies at Washington were as enjoyable as that participated in by a party of ladies at Mrs. G. P. Morgan's. Though perhaps not entirely in honor of the day, the event was generally merrily discussed and a count taken of the political views of the party; but all wished well to the coming administration, even if the majority of votes would have been for the Republican side. After a dainty lunch the party separated, expressing thanks to the hostess for the pleasant afternoon. Those present were Mesdames Wallace, D. M. French, Brooks, Garrison, Rice, Condon, Gibbons, Cushing, Moody, Wilson, Doherty of Antelope, Rinehart, Landreth, Barrett, Blakeley, Donnell, Paterson, Michell, Marden, Schutz, Curtis.

All Over a Lantern.

His honor, Justice Schutz, with a jury, were busied yesterday afternoon in the trial of an assault and battery case that was brought up on a change of venue from Mosier. The defendant, R. A. Powers, was charged with assaulting and striking one Deitchmiller in an altercation over a lantern. Mr. Deitchmiller stated that he was knocked down by the force of the blow and damaged in the face. But the jury concluded, after digesting all the evidence produced, that it was a case of strike or get struck with Mr. Powers, and accordingly brought in a verdict of not guilty.

CASCADE NOTES.

A Much-Needed Improvement Begun in the River.

CASCADE LOCKS, March 3rd, 1893.

Editor CHRONICLE:

The snow on the lower levels has about all disappeared.

Dr. H. A. Leavins is still confined to his bed, with illness.

The Steamer Dalles City, in approaching the rapids today, on the lower falls, made three attempts to get over. There seems to be two bad stages of water, in this swift part of the river which are the two extremes of high and low water lines.

The government today started to remove the rocks in the Columbia at a point on the Washington side, immediately opposite the portage wharf boat, which is a much needed improvement, permitting the boats hereafter to keep nearer the Washington side and remain in the eddies, thereby avoiding the stiff current.

The government office in charge of the locks delivered the plant over to the contractors March 1st. Notwithstanding former reports, there has been nothing done here so far, and the long rested employes are awaiting anxiously to get to work again. We do not look for any great force of men, to be put in at the start, outside of getting out stone, and arranging the plant in readiness until after high water.

OCCASIONAL.

An Estray Bay Mare.

Came to my place last fall a bay mare about five years old, with small white spot on right side, also white spot on left hip, star in the forehead, with some dim brand on left shoulder, weight about eight hundred pounds. Owner can have the same by proving property and paying costs. V. J. KELLY, 15-Mile creek.

GOOD OUT OF EVIL.

Mr. Herbring Will Endeavor to Make Up His Loss.

The new advertisement of H. Herbring on the second page will repay a careful perusal. He first quotes the reports of The Dalles papers concerning his recent suit in court, drawing therefrom the deduction that he must sell more goods than ever to recoup his loss, and to accomplish this proposes to lower prices to attract trade. There is good business strategy in this maneuver indicative of the Yankee, though one who knows Mr. Herbring would assign to him, last of all, a strain of that kind of blood.

As regards his suit before the circuit court, he has the sympathy of all who know the facts in the case. He was not only defeated out of money, justly due him for goods sold, but is out damages and costs besides. This result is accomplished through some evolution of the intricate machinery of American (English) law, termed, for short, a technicality, whereby the most ridiculous abortion will issue from the female with the scales and the handkerchief over her eyes. The dot of an i or the cross of a t on some irrelevant bit of paper has more to do in determining a case nowadays than a host of credible witnesses.

Mr. Herbring will recover his loss in the natural course of business, but he may never again have the same respect for justice, when entrusted to the tender mercies of skilled lawyers.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mr. Emery Oliver left last night for Portland.

Dr. Leavins, of Cascade Locks, is reported very ill.

Mrs. P. E. Michell, of Columbus, is visiting relatives in the city.

Mr. Grant Mays was a passenger on the morning train for Portland.

A. A. Whitney, travelling agent for D. M. Osborne & Co. is in the city.

Miss Lora Morris, of Wallowa, is a guest at the home of Judge Blakeley.

Messrs. R. F. Gibbons and O. Kinerly are in Portland today and will attend the presidential inauguration celebration.

Mr. Wm. Adams, of Nansene, gave this office a pleasant cat today. He reports the ground too wet for the plow in his section.

Mrs. Helm and daughter Miss Adnah, came in from Nansene yesterday afternoon on their way to Albany, where they intend remaining for an indefinite length of time.

We were pleased to meet Hon. S. M. Gilmore of Rockland, on the streets today. Although Mr. Gilmore has been suffering from a long siege of illness, he has so far recovered as to look like himself again.

H. Heppner, of the town bearing his name, is in the city. He was in a reminiscent mood last night, and seemed to enjoy telling of the old days when he managed a freight calcade between this point and Boise.

J. H. Cradlebaugh came up today. He was first accused of coming up in reference to the meeting of the Sun stockholders today, but it was afterwards learned that he is after the "local" work on the new paper at North Dalles.

CITY COUNCIL.

Question as to Who Shall Pay for Repairing a Sewer.

RESULT OF ERROR IN A DEED

The Establishment of a Board of Health Urged by Councilman C. E. Haight.

The regular meeting of the council convened last night at the city hall, present Mayor Mays and Aldermen Haight, Wood, Joles, Kreft and Lauer. Mrs. W. N. Wiley's petition for a reduction of $3,000 taxes was referred to the judiciary committee. Mr. Pitman asked the privilege of laying a water pipe from Mill creek to his residence through an alley which has never been opened up and will not be for many years. Granted.

A letter addressed to the board of trade from an incubator man in Nebraska, asking about the chances to sell his merchandise, was read and dismissed without comment.

Reading of recorder's report of vagabonds, beggars and drunks. Then followed treasurer's and city assessor's reports; adopted.

Sidewalks on three lots near Norman's ordered laid, and a grade ordered to be surveyed.

The question of the sewer between Second and Third, and Madison and Jefferson streets next came up. Here the wooden sewer placed there years ago, has rotted out, causing that part of it beyond, one of terra cotta, to be valueless. The question arose as to what property should be assessed to pay for it. The mayor was of the opinion that the equity of the case would affect only those contiguous to the proposed repair, and in this he was sustained by the council. A motion prevailed that an ordinance be immediately drawn up to provide for its repair, and an estimate made of its cost and that when the council adjourn it should be till tonight, so that there will be no further delay, as the question is important.

A petition from Mrs. Fish was read asking for a rebate of taxes. Councilman Joles stated that the description in the deed to the property in question read so many chains from a certain pine tree east, when it should read west, and that a man hunted three weeks for her property once without success. The petition was granted.

Regular monthly reading of bills. Mr. Haight then spoke of the expedience of organizing a board of health for the better sanitary protection of our citizens, especially in view of the probable advent of cholera. He said many towns were already acting upon the matter and so should The Dalles. He pointed out places reeking with filth and read an ordinance relating to its prevention which had never been enforced. He urged either its repeal or its enforcement. Councilman Kreft, in confirmation, told of other filthy alleys, one of which he said was "knee deep." He said that according to an ordinance, the marshal was the proper officer to report such cases; the people owed a greater duty in informing the marshal of such places, when it would become his duty to see that the provisions were enforced. The mayor said that, as the hour was growing late, the subject would come up the following evening for further discussion.

Dancing Party.

The Mignonette club last evening gave another of its enjoyable entertainments. About twenty couples were present. The time passed merrily; all seemed to have a pleasant time. The party broke up about twelve o'clock.

There's a good deal of guarantee business in the store keeping of today. It's too excessive. Or too reluctant. Half the time it means nothing. Words—only words.

This offer to refund the money, or to pay a reward, is made under the hope that you won't want your money back, and that you won't claim the reward. Of course.

So, whoever is honest in making it, and works—not on his own reputation alone, but through the local dealer, whom you know, must have something he has faith in back of the guarantee. The business wouldn't stand a year without it.

What is lacking is confidence. Back of that, what is lacking is that clear honesty which is above the "average practice."

Dr. Pierce's medicines are guaranteed to accomplish what they are intended to do, and their makers give the money back if the result isn't apparent.

Doesn't it strike you that a medicine which the makers have so much confidence in, is the medicine for you.

Stockholders' Meeting.

THE DALLES, Or., March 3, 1893. Notice is hereby given that there will be a stockholders' meeting of The Dalles, Portland & Astoria Navigation Co. at The Chronicle hall on Tuesday, April 4th, 1893, at 2 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of electing seven directors, and transacting such other business as may properly come before said meeting. By order of the President, S. L. Brooks, Sec'y.

An Important Ordinance.

"No person shall permit to accumulate in any yard any stagnant water, refuse, vegetables, decaying substance, garbage, filth of any kind, nor suffer such yard or lot to remain in such a condition as to cause an offensive odor, or thereby to become a public nuisance. Any one shall be fined, upon conviction, not less than $10 nor more than $100, or imprisoned in the county jail not less than five nor more than thirty days."

The above is the skeleton of an ordinance which, if enforced, might save the lives of several hundred of our citizens in the event of the appearance of cholera this summer. It is probable that the council will tonight appoint a board of health, as the discussion at last night's session led up to that end, the lateness of the hour preventing further discussion. If this is done, the city should be turned over to them in as good condition as possible. The marshal is authorized to enforce the ordinance, upon the proper complaint of any person; but there has been manifest a reluctance or carelessness on the part of citizens, which is wrong. There would be little sickness in The Dalles if there was no pollution to favor it.
