Many people wonder why a man like Mr. Thurber should accept a position as private secretary of the president. He was one of the ablest and most prominent lawyers of Detroit, and his income was fully five to six times greater than will be his salary. Recently Mr. Thurber was asked to explain his acceptance. Without a moment's hesitancy he replied that he would rather leave a record for his children than be called upon to accept this office by President Cleveland, and that he had discharged his duties faithfully, than to leave them a great fortune. This is indeed a lofty sentiment from one who occupies a position which is too often not regarded of much importance. But what is the real responsibility of a private secretary? In short, there is no man nearer to the president than he. There is no cabinet member that will be so often called upon to lend advice, and no friend that will know so much about the motives of the president in taking this and that step which may concern the whole nation. By comparison it might be stated that the private secretary of Chancellor Bismarck is commonly credited with having drawn up the imperial German constitution. The president has not half the time to personally consider most important phases of different grave issues, and to a large degree this is left to his private secretary. Mr. Thurber, though the name of his position may not be high sounding, occupies a place equal to any other in personal responsibility to his chief under the new administration.—Telegram.

While at intervals a religious question arises in one or another of the Protestant churches which threatens to disrupt the church, the Catholics are at times agitated as violently. A question has just come up in New York which affects one of the oldest customs of the church, and which will be a great present trouble or if not remedied, a continued annoyance. It is in relation to celibacy of the priesthood. In some quarters of the globe the priests are permitted to marry, and with their emigration to America they come in conflict at once with the sentiment of the church. With the arrival of the first married priest in America came trouble, and shortly afterward the bishops within that diocese urged the propaganda to do something that would prevent the complication which would inevitably arise, but without sufficient success to induce them to take any action in the matter. The bishops will now turn to Monsignore Satolli and try to induce him to sustain the custom of the church, even to the extent of dismissing the married priests. As their numbers are not few in the Oriental part of the world, who if dismissed, could and would do a great deal of damage to the church, it follows that trouble is in store for the Catholics.

Mr. Cleveland does not propose to be hurried in the matter of making appointments, and whatever significance may be gathered from other utterances, it is shown that he is at least decided on this proposition. The office-seekers now at Washington are in fear and trembling, and the majority dare not approach his democratic highness. The great army of them, with their importunities, cannot help but be a great bore, but it would be as well for the lesser ones to wait a little while, and give Mr. Cleveland a chance to dispose of other more important business and in the meantime strengthen their fences as much as possible for it is evident that the administration is to be business throughout.

Seattle marine men say that there are not now in commission near the number of steamers and towing crafts that there were two and three years ago. Since the advent of the railroads, which have cut into the business, down Sound steaming has not paid as it did at one time. There was a time when probably seventy-five or eighty steamers and tow boats and sailing vessels radiated from Seattle to various points.

Secretary of the Treasury Carlisle has taken possession of his office after courties between him and ex-Secretary Foster. When he assumed charge the treasury had on hand $1,250,000 free gold, and a net balance of $25,500,000, of which $11,500,000 is in national bank deposits, and $11,000,000 in subsidiary coin, and $500,000 in minor coins.

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.
Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism; but it can be done, if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen by the following from James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ill: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right today; and would insist on every one who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

A Queer Pair of Eyes.
I labor under the peculiar inconvenience of having a right eye of normal power and a shortsighted left eye. The numerals on the face of a clock five-eighths of an inch high are visible to the right eye twelve feet distant, but in order to discern them as clearly with my left eye I require to bring that organ of vision as near to the figures as eight inches. On looking at my gold chain hanging on my breast in daylight and with both eyes, the chain colored yellow and toward the left is perceived by the right eye, while a steady blue chain, another, yet the same, is perceived about one inch to the right and a little higher up. By artificial light the same phenomenon presents itself, but the difference of color is not so apparent; the yellow to the right is only dimmer.

Again, when a page is being read with the shortsighted eye there appears, about an inch to the left, part of the same column, small, and the black under artificial light, like weak purple. The right hand side of this ghostlike column is lost to the right eye, being commingled with the larger, darker letters seen by the shortsighted left, which cover it like the more recent writing on a palimpsest. Middle life was reached before the discovery was made. These experiences must be gone through with intent, for objects generally being perceived altogether with the right eye, all that the left seems good for is to supply a little more light. The perception of the difference of color is as good with the one eye as the other, and the shortsighted eye can read smaller type.—Nature.

A Good Lung Exercise.
Hold head up, shoulders back and chest out; inflate the lungs slowly through the nose until they are brimful; hold until you have counted ten, without opening your lips; exhale quickly fill your lungs as nearly empty of the bad air as it is possible to get them. Repeat same exercise, trying to hold the lungs full while counting twenty. Try it again and see if you can hold your breath half a minute. Finish with three or four deep, long drawn inspirations.—Nature.

The Wrong Prescription.
A Connecticut woman sent her little son to the drug store for paragonic and licorice, and the youngster somewhat startled the clerk by requesting a fifteen cent pair of garters and a necktie.—Pharmaceutical Era.

Keep out disease by keeping in healthy action the liver, stomach and bowels. There's a pleasant and a sure way of doing it. It's with Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They're the best Liver Pill ever made, and a prompt and effective remedy for Sick Headache, Bilious Headache, Constipation, Indigestion, Bilious Attacks, and all derangements of the stomach, liver and bowels. They cleanse and renovate the system, quietly but thoroughly. They regulate the system, too—they don't upset it, like the old-fashioned pills. These are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. One "Pellet" a dose. They're the easiest to take, and the mildest in operation—the smallest in size, but the most efficient in their work. They're the cheapest pill you can buy, because they're guaranteed to give satisfaction, or your money is returned. You only pay for the good you get. Can you ask more? That's the peculiar plan all Dr. Pierce's medicines are sold on.

EXTRACTS FROM THE DAILY PRESS:

From the Daily Chronicle of Feb. 18th.
Of Interest to Merchants.

The suit of A. S. Collins and Mrs. A. S. Collins against H. Herbring of this city, which was to come before the jury yesterday morning, was again postponed. This suit against one of our oldest and best-known dry goods merchants creates considerable comment in commercial circles. It appears that Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Collins obtained under false pretenses and promises at the end of the year 1891, goods to the amount of $50.80 from the defendant; but instead of paying the bill, as agreed, they shortly afterwards left the city by night and moved to California. Last spring Mr. Herbring learned that all their household goods, etc., were in the hands of the sheriff of Wasco county, and consequently placed a second attachment upon the goods held by the sheriff. A portion of these goods were sold last December by the sheriff of Wasco county, as no compromise could be obtained by defendant. And now come the plaintiffs and sue through their attorney, Judge A. S. Bennett, the defendant for the sum of $175.00. We will watch this suit when it comes before the jury, as we think it is one of great interest to storekeepers.

From the Daily Times-Mountaineer of Feb. 24th.
Razor-Edged Technicalities.

The case of A. S. Collins vs. H. Herbring was on trial in the Circuit Court today, and the jury empaneled were E. W. Trout, Geo. Jolee, A. Bettington, Jr., Geo. W. Miller, S. B. Adams, James Harper, W. C. Hansell, John Wood. Argument was had this morning on a motion to non-suit, made by defendant's counsel, which was taken under advisement until afternoon, when the Judge overruled the motion. The facts appear to be that the plaintiff left this city owing Mr.

Herbring, and he attached property for the debt. After the sale of the attached property the defendant attempts to set aside the sale and sue Mr. Herbring for damages, claiming that the proceedings were not technically legal. The razor-edge technicalities of law, we presume, will always remain, but it works great hardships on creditors, in many instances, to be barred from collecting their just claims from the commission of a clerical error or the misinterpretation of a dubious statutory provision.

From the Daily Chronicle of Feb. 25th.
The suit of A. S. Collins and Mrs. A. S. Collins vs. H. Herbring came to a termination yesterday afternoon, the jury rendering a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs. Mr. Herbring considers his defeat as a fait accompli, and is now more than ever convinced that he has to stick to his old rule and motto—to sell dry goods cheap and for cash only.
