MARCH MELANGE.

Stray Bits of News Gathered From All Sources.

As fashion's fads now daily thrive
The ermine may well revive;
And when it does 'twill take the earth
And whoop it up for all it's worth.

D. C. Ireland has taken editorial charge of the Wasco County Sun.

A handsome cigar Indian has been placed in front of The Dalles cigar factory.

A light rain began falling here about noon today and is continuing as we go to press.

A letter from Kerr & Buckley says that their loss of sheep during the winter has been exceedingly small.

Sam Thurman is building a fish wheel. Had the ice lasted until the 1st of March he would have built two.

The county court adjourned today till the first Monday in April, at which time they will receive the delinquent tax list.

The Regulator made an attempt last night to pull the scow Wasco into the river, without success, so deeply was it embedded in the sand. A new hawser broke in two in the attempt.

Everyone is invited to stop in at the stores of Pease & Mays and A. M. Williams & Co. today and tomorrow and partake of a cup of coffee, made delicious by St. Charles Evaporated cream.

A rivalry between hotel runners at Pendleton yesterday resulted in Boyce, a transfer house man, striking Downey, of the Eagle hotel, the force of the blow rendering the latter unconscious for a time.

Work will soon be commenced at the Cascades. This chestnut is not learned from "a prominent citizen at the Cascades," but from the fact that four liquor licenses have just been granted at the mountain town.

Denver has offered the government $1,000,000 in gold for natural currency and Chicago has followed suit with an offer of $500,000. This ought to be gratefully received, even if these banks are a little short on $5 and $10 bills.

James Wheelhouse was appointed sheep inspector February 11th, 1892, by the county commissioners for a term of two years. Last month the present board elected Wm. Lee to succeed Mr. Wheelhouse. As his term has not yet expired Mr. Wheelhouse refuses to vacate. Goldendale Sentinel.

The towns of Baker City, Union, La Grande and Pendleton, are exerting every energy at their command to secure the location of the Eastern Oregon branch of the state insane asylum, and the people of these places are getting things in tangible form to present their propositions for favorable consideration by Governor Penoyer.

A genuine border hero was observed on the streets this morning, a youth with a downy upper lip and sinister eye. He wore a pair of new buckskin pants, with a fringe of the same down the sides and a broad white hat. He was minus a bowie and his trusty rifle, and probably this was the only reason that a stalwart Indian, whom he was sizing up, did not bite the dust at once.

The little two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Rush had a very narrow escape from poisoning one day last week, says the Elgin Recorder. It appears that she got hold of some matches, ate the heads off of them and before the parents became aware of the fact the child was in a precarious condition.

David B. Hill, of New York, is in about as bad a predicament as if he did not have Tammany at his back at all. The president has overcome every obstacle by sheer force of his own personality, and notwithstanding the dignity of his position is in that happy frame of mind depicted in the village blacksmith, "he owes no man anything."

Hepner, Baker City, Pendleton and La Grande are all strenuously working for the new asylum. Committees have been appointed, mass meetings held, and inducements offered of various kinds on the part of all of them. Has The Dalles lost all heart in the matter? Now is the time to work for that end, or forever after hold your peace.

On His Muscles.

Colonel Frank J. Parker, editor of the Walla Walla Statesman, and L. C. Gilliam, a prominent republican of Walla Walla, had a short but rattling fight in the lobby of the Hotel Spokane Tuesday, according to the Tribune. Parker and Gilliam have always been the best of friends. They were engaged in conversation, when Gilliam referred to the inauguration of "the stuffed prophet." "What's that?" demanded Parker. Gilliam repeated the statement, when Parker exclaimed, "Grover Cleveland is now president of the United States, and you can't insult him in my presence," and grabbed a newspaper which Gilliam was reading and tore it up. Gilliam seized Parker and hurled him half way across the room. Parker was back in an instant and landed a vicious right-hand blow on Gilliam's eye. At this point bystanders parted the combatants. The affair was suppressed by the local papers.

Rich Strikes Reported.

A rumored strike in the Red Jacket mine and gold nuggets in the Flagstaff at Cornucopia has been put in circulation. In the Red Jacket the ore is so rich that gold can be picked out by the handful and in the Flagstaff the tunnel has been barred and a guard placed thereon to keep persons from knowing of the hidden wealth contained therein. The former mine is owned by the Eastern Oregon Gold Company and the latter was recently purchased by a Mr. Wilcox, of Denver, for the neat sum of $10,000.

Rheumatism Quickly Cured.

Three days is a very short time in which to cure a bad case of rheumatism; but it can be done, if the proper treatment is adopted, as will be seen by the following from James Lambert, of New Brunswick, Ill: "I was badly afflicted with rheumatism in the hips and legs, when I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It cured me in three days. I am all right today; and would insist on every one who is afflicted with that terrible disease to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm and get well at once." 50¢ bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

Karl's Clover Root, the new blood purifier, gives freshness and clearness to the complexion and cures constipation. 25c., 50c. and $1.00. Sold by Snipes & Kinnersly, druggists.

COUNTY COURT.

Five Liquor Licenses Granted--Right of Way and Other Matters.

Liquor licenses were granted today to Badder & McKinsey, John Sullivan, Ad Bergeron and Watt & Callahan, Cascade Locks; A. W. Branner, Nansene; the petition for license of Antone Gueler, 8-Mile, not granted.

Petition of A. Buchler and others for justice of the peace in East End precinct granted and L. S. Davis appointed justice.

A. J. Brigham appointed justice of the peace at Dufur, Vice D. E. Thomas resigned.

Petition of Geo. W. Rowland and others for right of way for telephone line between The Dalles and Antelope granted.

Petition granted for right of way for the Dufur, Kingsley, Tygh Valley and Wamic Telephone Co.

Genuine Old Violin.

W. E. Fowler, of the First National, has in his possession in this city what is said to be a genuine old violin. He has had it tested by experts, all of whom pronounce it genuine. We had the pleasure of examining this instrument yesterday, and while inspecting it, the ninety-nine years of its existence, when brought to the realization of we poor mortals, can but make us feel how little indeed we are. The violin was made in 1794 by Perry, at Dublin, Ireland, and though not of a standard make, like the old Cremonas, is by far sweeter than the instruments of the present age, which quality makes it valuable. The violin is not for sale, as it was a present to Mr. Fowler several years ago by some friend or relative.

A Tramp's Experience.

As the west-bound train drew up at the depot last evening a tramp was seen to uncoil himself from a brake-beam of the forward coach, fall to the track, and with an effort drag himself to the platform. Recovering sufficiently to speak, the man stated that to escape the rain and piercing wind he had forced his head and shoulders forward under the brake rod, burying his face in his hands. On attempting to resume an upright position he was prevented by the brake rod bolt catching in his coat, the cramped position, small space occupied and the rapid motion of the train making an effort to extricate himself impossible. The man was almost unconscious on reaching Pendleton, through the blood rushing to his brain. When last seen, however, Mr. "Hobo" was hovering around the head of the train, with his eye on the "blind baggage."

Eggs for Setting.

Without a Senator.

OLYMPIA, March 9.—At 12:25 today Lieutenant-Governor Luce—rapped sharply on the desk and made the stereotyped announcement: "The 101st joint ballot showed the following result, and further that no election for United States senator having occurred, this joint convention is now dissolved." The hall was crowded almost to a point of suffocation, and during roll-call an almost breathless silence reigned. There was no change in the 100th ballot, or anything to distinguish it from a score of its predecessors. John B. Allen and George Turner were answered from the various portions of the hall with a degree of vindictive stubbornness that time has not softened. In the 101st ballot Sallee of King, who circulated the caucus call last evening and was scored by a Seattle paper this morning for so doing, rose when his name was called and in a vehement manner denounced the paper in question, and then voted for Allen. There were no other changes and the vote resulted Allen 50, Turner, 23, Shaw 15, Van Patten 9, Griggs 8, Drum 2.

When the result was announced a sigh of relief, followed by a round of applause, went up, and the famous deadlock had become a part of the history of the Evergreen state. The senate filed back to their chamber and the house resumed its duties.

Hill's Humiliation and Despair.

NEW YORK, March 9.—[Commercial Advertiser's Washington special]—Hill's call on Cleveland today, and the latter's appointment of Maxwell, tells in two sentences the humiliation and despair of the senator—humiliation that he is compelled to bow to a man who has constantly defeated him in and out of his own state, and despair because his bitterest political enemy has been placed in a position most likely to work him the greatest harm. With Maxwell as the "headman" of the postoffice department, one of the Hill machines in New York is doomed.

The President's Visitors.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—Political circles are agog over the fact that Senator David B. Hill spent nearly an hour in private consultation with President Cleveland at the White House this morning. When Mr. Hill entered the president's room word was sent that Mr. Cleveland was very busy and could not see any visitors for some time. The interview, of course, was strictly of a private character, but from the fact it had been previously arranged and from its length, there can be little doubt that it was more than of a mere official-social character. When Mr. Hill had finished with the president, he lost no time in leaving the White House.

Want Office in Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 8.—The candidates pressing for Washington's places are: Marshal, F. Thogan, Spokane; Stephen Judson, of Tacoma, and E. Maloney, of Whatcom. District attorney, Gilman and Sniveley, of Seattle. Collector of customs, W. H. Talbot, of Seattle; Sanders and Tibbles, of Port Townsend. Surveyor-general, Warner, of Whitman county.

Joseph V. Dory, of Warsaw, Ill., was troubled with rheumatism and tried a number of different remedies, but says none of them seemed to do him any good; but finally he got hold of one that speedily cured him. He was much pleased with it, and felt sure that others similarly afflicted would like to know what the remedy was that cured him. He states for the benefit of the public that it is called Chamberlain's Pain Balm. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, Druggists.

Shade and ornamental trees, flowering shrubs and vines, hedge plants, etc., cheap at Mission Gardens.

"Golden Medical Discovery" cures

those diseases which come from blood impurities—scrofula, and skin diseases, sores and swellings.

But does it? It's put up by the thousands of gallons, and sold to hundreds of thousands. Can it cure as well as though it had been compounded just for you?

Its makers say that thousands of people who have had Tetters and Salt-rheum, Eczema and Erysipelas, Carbuncles and Sore Eyes, Flick Neck and Enlarged Glands, are well today because they used it.

Suppose that this is so. Suppose that a quick-witted man was far-seeing enough to know that to cleanse the blood was to cleanse the life. Suppose that by many experiments, and after many failures, he discovered this golden key to health and that his faith in it for you is so strong that you can go to your druggist, buy a bottle, and if it doesn't help you, you can get your money returned—cheerfully. Will you try it? The remedy to have faith in, is the remedy the makers themselves have faith in.

Proposals for Bids.

Sealed bids will be received at the office of Crandall & Burget until noon March 20th, 1893, for the superstructure of a proposed dwelling to be built for W. L. Bradshaw on the northeast corner of Washington and Fourth streets, The Dalles, Or., according to the plans and specifications prepared by C. J. Crandall.

Bids will also be received at the same time and place for the mason work of the above mentioned building. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of Crandall & Burget.

The right is reserved to reject any and all bids.
