HARRISON'S NICETY OF SPEECH.

There is a difference in men. If any one does not think so, let him take the stilted inauguration speech of President Cleveland and compare its language with that little speech delivered by ex-President Harrison when his friends gathered to receive him in Indianapolis on his return from Washington. There is not a high-flown word in the whole of it, and yet it is as graceful as a beautiful painting, as simply magnificent as the air of "God Save the Queen." Then there is something about it that sets one's thoughts going; for instance, the following sentence: "Not the rising and the setting of the sun, but our experiences, gives the true sense of duration." A million of men have tried to express the same thought. Not one of them has ever expressed it exactly before. Not one has used less than twice that number of words in trying to express it. The whole speech, while simply a response to words of welcome, was complete. Through it all there is not the slightest sign of disappointment, and the tone of it gives particular emphasis to the closing words, wherein he says: "I left you with but one certainty, and I return with that certainty, that I had no other motive in my heart than the honor of the flag, the sacredness of the constitution and the prosperity of all our people." In whatever else General Harrison may be weak or wrong, certain it is that he has no equal in our country in delivering impromptu and perfectly appropriate speeches, no matter what the occasion may be. If he has established one thing more than any other in the nearly five years since he became the most prominent figure in the United States, it is that there never was anything so misapprehensive as the idea that his head was not big enough for his grandfather's hat. That grandfather, in the days of his greatest glory, was but a pigmy, compared to the grandson.—Salt Lake Tribune.

Holman, chairman of the house committee, in the remarks which he is preparing for publication in the Congressional Record, concerning the appropriations of the 52d congress, shows the appropriations of the session just closed amount to $519,221,861. From this point of view, the appropriations of the 51st congress aggregated $1,035,686,921, and those of the 52d congress amount to $1,025,822,029, or $8,864,892 less than those of the 51st congress. Holman will present statements of the appropriations made by the 52d congress as charged against it under permanent appropriations in accordance with the requirements of laws enacted by the 51st congress. These include sums aggregating in all $154,172,040. Judge Holman states if these appropriations had not been made as required the total appropriations of the 52d congress would show a reduction of more than $168,000,000 than the appropriations of the 51st congress.

Washington will have to worry along with only one senator, owing to the foolishness of their legislature. The state could have accomplished little enough for itself with a full quota, but now it is reduced to a political cipher in the national congress. How will it look to Senator Squire, who has remained in Washington working like a beaver, while John B. Allen, who should have been there also, and who has been drawing pay for being there, has been at Olympia engaged in a senatorial fight, the most disgraceful and persistent in Washington history?

The governor of Washington today appointed John B. Allen U. S. Senator. Another page is thus added to the chapter of indecency on the recent senatorial squabble at Olympia. Allen will now present the pitiful spectacle of whining at the doors of the senate where once he entered as a sovereign. There is little doubt that his credentials will be refused, but if they are not his tenure will cease in two years and that will end his career forever, so far as figuring as a Washington senator is concerned. The republican party of the state has received a blow which will take many years of good behavior to make whole.

A Spanish American city like Buenos Ayres, with a population of 525,000, pays about $100,000 a year for its fire protective service, and although the largest and richest city of South America the latest statistics obtainable give the loss by fire in 1888 as $423,000.

As much sport as Oregon has over the eccentricities of her governor, Penoyer can give McGraw pointers on common sense.

Up with the Times.

In an East Ninety-first street flat there lives a West street business man and his family.

"It is a queer fancy," he remarked; "it's a funny superstition, but we've all got it; every member of my family feels the same about it."

"It was this way. In the year 1871 we moved to New York. We lived in Seventy-first street. Next year we moved up to Seventy-second street, and in another year we moved still one more street up town."

"This we continued to do for several years. During the time I was prospering wonderfully in my business. Our children were bright and healthy. We got to thinking about our even fortunes one night at Christmas time, and it suddenly occurred to my wife that we were literally keeping pace with the time—that we had lived, since first coming to the city, in the street which corresponded to the year of the century. Well, we came to grow superstitious about it, and kept on moving up one street each year. We are nearly ready now to move to Ninety-second street. If anything should delay us we would not be able to sleep until we had caught up with our century."—New York World.

The Gutta Percha Tree.

The steamer Cachar, which recently arrived from Tonguin at Marseilles, brought back M. Serullaz, who went out two years ago on a mission from the French minister of posts and telegraphs in search of the Isomandra gutta percha tree in Malaysia. The disappearance of this tree threatened with great embarrassment, if not extinction, the submarine cable manufacture. But M. Serullaz has discovered large forests of these trees, and has hit upon practical ways of collecting the gum without destroying the trees, as the natives inevitably do. M. Serullaz has been allowed to transport several hundreds of the trees from ten to fifteen years old to Algiers, and their cultivation will be attempted also in Guiana. M. Serullaz has left for Algiers with his cargo, which is artificially warmed on board the Cachar.—Philadelphia Ledger.

A new man can be made out of one that's "used-up," bilious and dyspeptic. It's done by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It starts the torpid liver into healthful action, purifies and enriches the blood, cleanses, repairs, and strengthens the system, and restores health and vigor. As an appetizing, restorative tonic, it sets at work all the processes of digestion and nutrition, and builds up flesh and strength. It's the only Blood and Liver Remedy that's guaranteed, in every case, to benefit or cure. If it doesn't do all that's claimed for it, the money is promptly refunded. But it keeps its promises—that's the reason it can be sold in this way.

"Discovery" strengthens Weak Lungs, and cures Spitting of Blood, Shortness of Breath, Bronchitis, Severe Coughs, and kindred affections. Don't be fooled into taking something else, said to be "just as good," that the dealer may make a larger profit. There's nothing at all like the "Discovery."

The suit of A. S. Collins and Mrs. A. S. Collins against H. Herbring of this city, which was to come before the jury yesterday morning, was again postponed. This suit against one of our oldest and best-known dry goods merchants creates considerable comment in commercial circles. It appears that Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Collins obtained under false pretenses and promises at the end of the year 1891; goods to the amount of $50.80 from the defendant; but instead of paying the bill, as agreed, they shortly afterwards left the city by night and moved to California. Last spring Mr. Herbring learned that all their household goods, etc., were in the hands of the sheriff of Wasco county, and consequently placed a second attachment upon the goods held by the sheriff. compromise could be obtained by defendant.

And now come the plaintiffs and sue through their attorney, Judge A. S. Bennett, the defendant, for the sum of $175.00. We will watch this suit when it comes before the jury, as we think it is one of great interest to storekeepers.

From the Daily Times-Mountaineer of Feb. 24th.

Razor-Edged Technicalities.

The case of A. S. Collins vs. H. Herbring was on trial in the Circuit Court today, and the jury empaneled were E. W. Trout, Geo. Joles, A. Bettingen, Jr., Geo. W. Miller, S. B. Adams, James Harper, W. C. Hansell, John Wood. Argument was had this morning on a motion to non-suit, made by defendant's counsel, which was taken under advisement until afternoon, when the Judge overruled the motion. The facts appear to be that the plaintiff left this city owing Mr.

Herbring, and he attached property for the debt. After the sale of the attached property the defendant attempts to set aside the sale and sue Mr. Herbring for damages, claiming that the proceedings were not technically legal. The razor-edge technicalities of law, we presume, will always remain, but it works great hardships on creditors, in many instances, to be debarred from collecting their just claims from the commission of a clerical error or the misinterpretation of a dubious statutory provision.

From the Daily Chronicle of Feb. 25th.

The suit of A. S. Collins and Mrs. A. S. Collins vs. H. Herbring came to a termination yesterday afternoon, the jury rendering a verdict in favor of the plaintiff. Mr. Herbring considers his defeat as a full accomplishment, and is now more than ever convinced that he has to stick to his old rule and motto—to sell dry goods cheap and for cash only.
