A Washington dispatch says that notwithstanding the fact that the Oregonian democrats have put in their applications early and are standing around waiting for positions, it becomes more and more apparent that they will wait some time before they are recognized. It is well to remember that when Cleveland was president eight years ago he did not make any effort to turn out the republicans in any portion of the United States, unless they were convicted of "pernicious activity" or were pronounced and bitter against the democratic party. It is also well to remember that nearly all the democrats in Oregon remained in office until their terms were about to expire, when President Harrison appointed their successors, and in many instances these did not occur until nearly a year after Harrison became president. It is not at all probable that Cleveland will break through the rule which he has established of allowing officers to serve their terms of four years. He will therefore allow the Oregon democrats to knock at the door as soon as they choose, and then will appoint whoever he desires and whenever he is good and ready. It is difficult to say who will be the democratic boss. Those men who are endorsed by Governor Penneyer will probably not be considered. It is curious to note that the democrats from Oregon who have thus far come to Washington are all pronounced anti-silver men. They all agree, without regard to their past convictions, that Cleveland's idea of finance, whatever that idea may be, is just what this country needs. Some fun has been poked at the democrats now in Washington by telling them that, inasmuch as Lotan was appointed collector of the port of Portland only a little while ago, that Cleveland will not take into account the fact that a republican served several years before Lotan's time, but that Lotan will be allowed to remain in office four years from the time he was appointed, and the men who are hungry for his place will be obliged to wait until the four years are up. The democrats, in reply to this, say that they can very easily convict Lotan of "pernicious activity" and rank partisanship, and for that reason they have no hesitancy in saying that they can turn him out.

One of the important bills that failed to pass the late congress was that for the segregation of the northeast corner of Yellowstone Park, in order to allow a railroad to be built to the rich mining regions around Cook City. There has been before nearly every session of congress a proposition looking to the granting of a right of way from the Northern Pacific road to the Cook county district, but so far every bill has failed. It is possible that something ought to be done, and now it seems that there is an opportunity for the Cook City district to be reached by some road coming in from Wyoming. In that event it will not be necessary to segregate any portion of the Yellowstone Park. It has always been believed that there was more or less jobbery connected with the right of way privilege across the park, and generally those wanted to get on the inside used every effort to defeat any proposition unless they were taken in. The opening up of that portion of the Yellowstone park proposed to be thrown back into the public domain would result in giving to the speculators a great opportunity in the way of mineral finds, as the part of the park to be opened is said to be very rich in minerals. Whether anything will be done at the next session of congress remains to be seen, but it is probable that the usual lobby will be retained and be at work trying to have this corner of the park cut off.

The Guests Were Under the Table. Sothern gave a dinner to Florence at a London club and invited him for half an hour later than any of the other guests. He said to his guests, who were eminent men in literature and politics and in the nobility: "When Florence comes suppose you all get under the table? He'll think his lateness has caused you to leave." So when Florence was announced all except Sothern got under the table, and the tablecloth hid them from sight. As Florence entered he saw Sothern alone and said: "Has nobody come yet?" "Oh, yes," said Sothern in a loud voice. "They've all come. And as soon as you were announced they hid under the table, though why they did it I can't imagine."

One by one the guests crawled out, looking red and ashamed.—New York Sun.

Men's Clothes.

"Men are becoming as bad as women for the adoption of strange and uncomfortable fashions in clothing," said a Fifth Avenue custom tailor, "and they need dress reform preached to them almost as much as the feminine sex. Take the high collars that are in vogue, and which are worn higher than ever this fall. They almost strangle one and chafe the skin until it is sore. Between the heavy, hot beaver hat and the tight collar, baldness is becoming rampant in our cities. The high, tight collar has as much to do with causing baldness as any other one thing. Then the modern style of fitting the clothes forces us to make them tight and snug all around, and this prevents one from really enjoying life. "Tight patent leather shoes sweat and pinch the feet until walking is a painful exercise. Every time I see a dude with all of the latest style of modern clothes I pity him, and wonder that he submits to such voluntary torture. I can assure you that if his clothes fit him he is miserable. The old adage that 'if a man's clothes don't fit him he is uncomfortable' has been reversed."—New York Times.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.
The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction, or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Snipes & Kinnersly.

Sad Looking Author of a Merry Book.
One who once set type in a great English establishment remembers the time when that most fascinating of nonsense books, "Alice in Wonderland," was put into metal from young Dodgson's manuscript. "As you saw the writer, a grave almost sad looking young man, going in and out of Worcester college, or at the office about the proofs, you scarcely think such melancholy looking authorship could produce so merry a book."—Writer.

"The people of this vicinity insist on having Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and do not want any other," says John V. Bishop, of Portland Mills, Indiana. That is right. They know it to be superior to any other for colds, and as a preventive and cure for croup, and why should they not insist upon having it. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Good Looks.
Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look, if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look, and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure your health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and tonic acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at Snipes & Kinnersly's drugstore, 50c per bottle.

The Sailors' Friend.
Mr. Samuel Plimmsoll still keeps to his house in Park Lane, and is far from well, but he has sufficiently recovered himself to be able to write a letter claiming one result—or rather the want of result—of the recent storm to legislation. Has there ever been remembered, he asks, a gale of equal suddenness, violence and duration which was not the cause of very, very much greater loss of life than that recorded of the gale which has recently passed away?
A year and eight months ago, when he was fervently urging the government to assist in passing the load line bill, it was shown that the deplorable loss of life at sea from overloading was entirely preventable, and that the passing of the bill would immediately check it, while, when the act was steadily and uniformly administered, this head of loss would disappear. He points triumphantly to the recent gale for confirmation.—Liverpool (Eng.) Mercury.

It isn't done by others—that's why the guarantee of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription should command attention. It's a guarantee that means something. If the medicine doesn't give satisfaction, in every case for which it's recommended, the money is promptly refunded. Remarkable terms—but it's a remarkable medicine. All the functional irregularities and weaknesses peculiar to womanhood are cured by it. For leucorrhoea, periodical pains, weak back, prolapsus and other displacements, bearing-down sensations, and all "female complaints," it's an unfailing remedy. It is a powerful, restorative tonic and nerve, imparting strength and vigor to the whole system.
Try it, if you're an ailing woman. If it doesn't help you, you have your money back.
As a regulator and promoter of functional action, at that critical period of change from girlhood to womanhood, "Favorite Prescription" is a perfectly safe remedial agent, and can produce only good results.

Of Interest to Merchants.

The suit of A. S. Collins and Mrs. A. S. Collins against H. Herbring of this city, which was to come before the jury yesterday morning, was again postponed. This suit against one of our oldest and best-known dry goods merchants creates considerable comment in commercial circles. It appears that Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Collins obtained under false pretenses and promises at the end of the year 1891, goods to the amount of $50.80 from the defendant, but instead of paying the bill, as agreed, they shortly afterwards left the city by night and moved to California. Last spring Mr. Herbring learned that all their household goods, etc., were in the hands of the sheriff of Wasco county, and consequently placed a second attachment upon the goods held by the sheriff. A portion of these goods were sold last December by the sheriff of Wasco county, as no compromise could be obtained by defendant. And now come the plaintiffs and sue through their attorney, Judge A. S. Bennett, the defendant, for the sum of $175.00. We will watch this suit when it comes before the jury, as we think it is one of great interest to storekeepers.

Razor-Edged Technicalities.

The case of A. S. Collins vs. H. Herbring was on trial in the Circuit Court today, and the jury empaneled were E. W. Trout, Geo. Joles, A. Bettington, Jr., Geo. W. Miller, S. B. Adams, James Harper, W. C. Hansell, John Wood. Argument was had this morning on a motion to non-suit, made by defendant's counsel, which was taken under advisement until afternoon, when the Judge overruled the motion. The facts appear to be that the plaintiff left this city owing Mr.

Herbring, and he attached property for the debt. After the sale of the attached property the defendant attempts to set aside the sale and sue Mr. Herbring for damages, claiming that the proceedings were not technically legal. The razor-edge technicalities of law, we presume, will always remain, but it works great hardships on creditors, in many instances, to be debarred from collecting their just claims from the commission of a clerical error or the misinterpretation of a dubious statutory provision.

The suit of A. S. Collins and Mrs. A. S. Collins vs. H. Herbring came to a termination yesterday afternoon, the jury rendering a verdict in favor of the plaintiffs. Mr. Herbring considers his defeat as a fait accompli, and is now more than ever convinced that he has to stick to his old rule and motto—to sell dry goods cheap and for cash only.
