MARCH MELANGE

Stray Bits of News Gathered From All Sources.

All day she hurried to get through, same as lots of wimmin do; netimes at night her husband said Sometimes at night her husband san "Ma, ain't you goin' to come to bed?" An' then she'd kinder gave a hitch, An' stop halfway between a stitch, An' sorter sigh, and say that she Was ready as she'd ever be, She reckoned.

An' so the years went, one by one An' so the years went, on by one;
An' somehow she was never done;
An' when the angel said as how
"Mis' Smith, it's time you rested now'
She sorter raised her eyes to look
A second, as a stitch she took;
"All right; I'm ready now," says she,
"As ready as I'll ever be,
I reckon."

Broke a Trail.

Mrs. Hattie Jones arrived from the Malheur country Saturday, ther experience being quite adventurous. It was 60 miles from where she started to Vail, a journey which she was compelled to take on horseback. She was accompanied to this point by her son, a mere boy. While crossing the mountains deep snow was encountered and the two were compelled to tramp down the snow which was about six feet deep, before they could proceed with the horses. seasons was given us yesterday by the They finally reached Vail, where the boy returned, Mrs. Jones proceeding by stage to the railroad and arrived at The Dalles without further event.

The Squirrel Crop.

The supposition entertained by many that the ground squirrels were killed by the cold, proves untrue. The miserable many of them can be seen scampering about in all directions, and the present little scamps are out again. A great indications are that they will be very numerous. London as a Center.

The city of London is put down by geographers as the center of the landed hemisphere. In other words, a radius of about 6,000 miles on the curved surface of the earth, with London as a center, would describe a circumference inclosing more land than any 6,000 mile circle that could be drawn from any other city in the world.-Exchange.
