PARIS AGAIN EXCITED

Developments in the Panama Canal Scandal.

WASHED UP BY THE WAVES

A Life-Saving Patrolman at Long Branch Finds a Pocketbook Containing $45,000.

PARIS, March 13.—The approaches to the Palais de Justice were thronged to day by excited crowds. There has not been such excitement since the beginning of the Panama scandal. The crowd is composed of all classes, from the militant socialist to the wealthy merchant and financier. There was an ominous murmur of angry talk, and a menacing frown on the faces of the lower classes in the throng that reminded one of the days preceding the commune. The courtroom was thronged with as many as could obtain admittance. The prisoners seemed themselves revived by the new interest which their cases had awakened. Some thought the features of Charles de Lesseps bore a book of triumph, while even Balhut looked less crushed than at any time previous since his pitiful confession. The chamber of deputies was crowded with members and spectators in expectation of a division that would result in the cabinet crisis, but owing to the fact that Bourgeois, late minister of justice, had been summoned to give testimony in the trial of Charles de Lesseps and his fellow defendants, the debate on Panama matters was postponed.

Washed Up by the Waves.

LONG BRANCH, N. J., March 13.—It was reported here last night that Joel R. Wooley, a patrolman attached to life-saving station No. 4, between Long Branch and Asbury Park, had found a pocketbook on the beach containing $45,000. According to the story, he was patrolling the beach on his regular tour of duty early Friday morning when an unusually heavy wave swept far up on the sand. As the great wave receded, Wooley saw something black rolling over and over with the shifting sand. He picked it up and found it to be an old and fat leather wallet; opening it, he discovered a roll of bills which made his eyes bulge out. The money was principally in $100 and $50 bills, although there were some of smaller denominations. In commenting on his alleged good fortune, people recall the peculiar actions of Harry Tyrell, the variety actor, who owned a house in Asbury Park and lived there last summer before his mind gave way and he was taken to Bloomingdale asylum, New York, hopelessly demented. Tyrell was known to have a great deal of money in his possession, which mysteriously disappeared. He was caught one day burying a roll of bills in the ground near his home, and seemed to have a mania for secreting money in that way. It was believed that he buried large sums of money of which no trace could ever be found.

Special Session in Wyoming.

CHEYENNE, March 13.—Two of the leading newspapers of the state have come out in advocacy of a special session of the legislature. Many public men are in favor of it. Scarcely any of the politicians believe that A. C. Beckwith, the gentleman favored by the governor when the legislature failed to elect a senator, will be admitted to the senate. The extra session would be somewhat different in composition from the regular. A democratic senator was unseated the last day, and a republican senator left his party and went to the populists.

There would be an equal number of democrats and republicans and six populists. Both republicans and democrats will hope to capture the prize, and the fight would be exceedingly warm. John Charles Thompson would be the candidate of the democrats, and F. E. Warren of the republicans.

A Ghastly Discovery.

ABIQUIU, N. M., March 13.—A party prospecting in the old Spanish copper canyon came upon the skeletons of 43 soldiers in Devil's gulch. A company has been missing from Fort Mary ever since the Apache raid on Espanola, September 9, 1879. It was supposed they were slaughtered by Indians, not one ever having returned. It seems, however, that all had died from drinking from poisonous springs, where the skeletons had lain bleaching ever since. The skeletons of some were still encased in uniforms, and the guns were stacked as they left them. A lot of ammunition and the skeletons of 45 horses constituted the ghastly discovery.

Fugilism Doomed.

NEW ORLEANS, March 13.—Pugilism is done for in New Orleans. Fitzsimmons will not get his $37,500. He will get $15,000 or $20,000 in cash, all that is available, and good paper for the balance. There will be no more contests in the Crescent Club ring, and perhaps no more in that of the Olympic Club, though the Bowen-Burke match is scheduled for the first week in April. The clubs will go at general athletics and rowing, and die unless their social sides are strong enough to bear the financial loss of such shows, which have long ago ceased to pay in richer towns than New Orleans. The women of the city are organizing an anti-pugilistic league as they did an anti-lottery league, and the leading papers editorially denounce the contests. The next legislature does not meet until May, 1893, and the city authorities are with the clubs, both Presidents Noel and Dickson being members of the city council; but the best opinion is that neither club will fly in the face of public opinion, and that pugilism in New Orleans is done.

The Senate This Week.

WASHINGTON, March 12.—The session of the senate tomorrow will probably be brief and confined mainly to the reception of nominations from the president. Within a day or two following, the committee, however, will be appointed and the body in working order, so far as the business for which it is called together is concerned. Members of the committee on privileges and elections are already devoting attention to the study of the precedents and law affecting the gubernatorial appointments of senators from Wyoming, Montana and Washington and will doubtless be ready to make reports soon after their credentials are presented. As the points involved are many and the question itself complex, it is expected a debate will ensue in the senate upon the presentation of the report of the committee that may occupy several weeks.

The Railroad Strike.

TOLEDO, March 13.—A new complexion is put on the Toledo & Ann Arbor strike this morning, by an order issued by the United States district court at Cleveland, directing that all connecting roads continue to receive freight from the Ann Arbor road regardless of the fact whether it is handled by non-union men or not. Chief Arthur hurried over from Cleveland to look over the situation. The order makes it very awkward for him. If he orders a general refusal by brotherhood men on connecting roads to haul Ann Arbor freight, he lays himself liable to being hauled up for contempt of court. He called the heads of the local committee on adjustment together, and after a long secret conference it was decided to make overtures to the Ann Arbor road for an adjustment of the differences. A conference with the officials will take place this afternoon. It is believed the trouble will be settled.

Small Notes for Gold.

WASHINGTON, March 13.—The treasury department continues to receive offers of gold from the west in exchange for small notes, for which there is at present an increasing demand. Several offers had to be temporarily declined, as it was found the gold was all light weight, and until those who offered it made up the deficiency in weight the government could not accept it. In this connection it is interesting to note that the government requires absolute accuracy before it will accept for light-weight coin.

Attempted Suicide and Murder.

DETROIT, Mich., March 13.—An attempted murder and suicide took place at a late hour last night in a disreputable house on Gratiot avenue. Joseph Esser, clerk in Black's house-furnishing establishment, shot and seriously injured Anna Shea, an inmate of the place, and then blew his own brains out. The girl will recover. The affair was the result of a quarrel.

Another Highbinder War.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 13.—The highbinder war has broken out afresh. This morning Buck Chew, a Chinese laborer, was shot five times and killed by Si Gym, a highbinder. The murderer has been arrested.
