The Exact Points of Contention in the Behring Sea Dispute.

CLAIMS OF CONTENDING PARTIES

Both Freely Admitted a Destruction of Seals, but Attribute it to Far' Different Causes.

NEW YORK, March 25 .- At the meeting Thursday of the Behring sea arbitrators, it was decided the sittings would not be held behind closed doors. This permits the making public of the exact points of the contention. Briefly stated, the case of the United States is that Alaskan fur seal is begotten, born and reared only upon Pribyloff islands, to vidual of it is the property of the United | can for him. States, The method employed by open sea sealers is attacked by the American government as destructive, wasteful and exterminating. It is claimed a large percentage of the seals killed by open sea hunters are females, a majority of which are about to become or are mothers. The destruction of the pregnant female causes the death of the unborn young. The death of the mother seal, Through daily service (Sundays excepted) between The Dalles and Portland.
