LIVED IN THE DALLES

Terrible Crime in Chicago of a Former Resident of This City.

SHOT HIS LADY LOVE AND HIMSELF

The Young Girl Died Instantly and the Doctors Say His Condition is Critical.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Miss Effie Clark, of Spokane, Wash., a member of the freshman class of the Northwestern university, was tonight shot and instantly killed by E. Ross Smith, aged 26. Until recently Smith was also a resident of Spokane. Smith, after shooting Miss Clark, shot himself in the head, inflicting a fatal wound. The cause of the murder was the refusal of the young lady to entertain Smith's proposal of marriage. Smith had been an ardent suitor for the hand of Miss Clark, but his attentions were repulsed by her parents and herself. He was so persistent that, in a final effort to escape his attentions, Miss Clark, who was 19 years old, was sent to the Northwestern university. Shortly after her arrival in Evanston, Smith put in an appearance, and had been tireless in his attempt to win the young woman for his wife. This evening he called upon Miss Clark and persuaded her to take a walk with him. She was accompanied by her roommate, Miss Abernathy, who was the only witness to the tragedy. Smith urged his suit again, but without success, and tried to get the young lady away from her companion. She refused to go till Smith said he had something to tell her in confidence. They stepped off a short distance, and Smith at once drew a revolver and fired five shots at her. One bullet entered her left ear and another passed through her left side. Smith then turned the weapon against himself and sent a bullet through his head. Miss Clark was removed to a neighboring house, but expired in a few minutes. Smith was taken to the police station, where, before lapsing into unconsciousness, he said:
 "I shot her. She wouldn't marry me, so I shot her."
 The doctors pronounced the young murderer's condition as hopeless, though he may live a few hours.

SPokane, April 1.—A dispatch from Illinois, received tonight, reports the murder of Miss Effie Clark by a rejected suitor. Miss Clark, who was attending school at the university at Evanston, is a daughter of the Rev. Nelson E. Clark, a wealthy and retired minister of this city. A Review reporter who called at the home of Rev. Mr. Clark found the family in possession of the news of the tragedy. They were so grief-stricken that it was difficult to obtain information from them. It was learned that the young man who killed Miss Clark was E. Ross Smith, formerly of Portland and the son of Shipbuilder Smith, of the firm of Smith & Paquet. He is studying medicine in Chicago. The couple had been engaged until six weeks ago, when Miss Clark broke the engagement.

SMITH'S FATHER INTERVIEWED.
 The father of the young man referred to in the above dispatch is Benjamin F. Smith, a resident of Sellwood and a member of the ship-building firm of Paquet & Smith, of this city. He was on his way home about 11 o'clock, when his son, C. S. Smith, a conductor on the Sellwood motor line, handed him a dispatch, which read: "Your son, E. Ross Smith, dangerously shot. Can possibly live three or four hours." It was signed by the chief of police of Chicago.

"I went home and told my wife and then came down town with my son Charlie," said the almost heart-broken father, when seen a little later at the St. Charles hotel. "I at once telegraphed to Chicago for particulars," he continued after a slight pause, "and am now waiting for an answer."

He was at once acquainted with the full particulars of the affair. When he learned that his son had shot Miss Clark, he leaned against the wall for support and murmured:
 "My God! My God! and he shot the girl! How can I ever tell his mother?"

After the shock of the awful news had left him a little calmer he gave the following facts in regard to his son:
 "He was born at Milwaukee and had just entered his 26th year. He has always been a model boy and the pride of the family. He would never touch liquor or tobacco, and had not a single bad habit. For the greater part of the past fourteen years he has been attending school. He was our oldest and not very strong, so we let him do just what pleased him. He was greatly troubled with the asthma, and thought that the climate of Spokane would give him relief. He has resided there during the past few years and graduated from a college there. He always came home for his vacations. After he finished schooling I set him up in the plumbing business at Spokane with a man named Foot. He did well, but tired of it last August, and, selling out, came home.

"While he was home he made up his mind that he wanted to study medicine. He went to Chicago and entered upon a three years' course in the Chicago medical college. I paid all of his expenses and furnished him with all the money he needed. And now that it should come to this! My God! I can't understand it! The boy's mother told me that he was engaged to this Miss Clark, and he mentioned in his letters—for he wrote frequently—that he had called upon her there."

Mr. Smith telegraphed to Chicago that should his son die to have the body embalmed and sent home. C. S. Smith was almost heart-broken over his brother's awful crime. He gave the facts in regard to his brother substantially the same as his father has done.

The family is one of the best known in the Willamette valley.
 THE YOUNG LADY'S FAMILY.
 Nelson E. Clark, the father of the dead girl, is one of the best-known Methodist divines in the Northwest. He was an early settler, and has held charges in almost every town of importance in the Willamette valley. Seven years ago he lived in Eugene. About that time he retired from the ministry and removed to Spokane, where he has since resided. He has been very fortunate in his worldly affairs, and was reputed to be quite wealthy. Miss Clark was young when she left Oregon, but even at that time gave promise of developing into a more than ordinarily beautiful woman, being a decided brunette.

LATER.
 CHICAGO, April 2.—E. Ross Smith, the murderer of Effie Clark, died today in the police station at Evanston. He never recovered consciousness after he had shot the girl because she would not become his wife. The parents of the unfortunate pair have requested that the bodies be shipped to them at Spokane and Portland, respectively. They will be sent tomorrow after the inquest. Memorial services for Miss Clark will be held tomorrow at the Northwestern university.

There is one Belfast (Me.) youth who will make a general some day, if he properly develops his natural traits as they appear at present. He is but three years and eight months old, but showed engineering skill in getting out of a scrape last week that few big boys would have equaled. While at play in a camp with some other boys he was accidentally locked in, and his comrades all went off to school. Finding himself a prisoner, instead of sitting down and crying our youngster first built up the articles in the room until he could reach a window, which he promptly smashed. Next he threw out the various articles which he could lift until the pile outside was within safe dropping distance from the window, when he climbed out and dropped to the pile. He was nearly two hours doing the work, but says he wasn't going to take any chances of breaking his neck by jumping from that high window.

Writing Summary.
 A New York Congressman thinks their Writing Desks should be Taken Away. "There is but one way in which this can be made a decent legislative body," said a member from New York to a Washington Post reporter as he surveyed the house and heard one man speaking while one hundred and sixty-six others chewed gum or rustled papers, "and that way is to take from the members their desks. They should be given no opportunity to write while legislative business is on tap. If placed upon straight, hard benches with nothing to do save talk or listen they would know more of what is going on. Long ago the English realized this fact. In the house of commons there is never disturbance of any kind unless an extremely heated and factional debate is on. Everybody in the chamber hears what the man who has the right of way is saying. If the members wish to write or read the newspapers or swap yarns that used to be funny many years ago they go into a room provided for that purpose. I am not much of an Anglomaniac myself. In fact, I think that cockney immigration ought to be permanently barred. But there are things other than trousers that we might copy from England and be nothing the worse for it."
