OREGON AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The following is a list of the superintendents of the different departments of the world's fair commission. Anyone who has anything to exhibit should correspond with the proper officer, one of the following:

W. F. MATLOCK, department of agriculture, forestry and forest products, and live stock; Pendleton.
C. W. AYERS, department of mines, mining and metallurgy; Ashland.
DR. J. E. CARDELL, department of horticulture, including floriculture and viticulture; Portland.
GEO. T. MYERS, department of fishing and fishing apparatus, manufactures, electrical and mechanical inventions; Portland.

MRS. M. PAYTON, Salem, (until July 1, 1903) and MRS. E. W. ALLEN, Portland, (after July 1, 1903), department of woman's work, comprising the fine arts, household economy and products thereof.
E. B. McELROY, department of education, including educational exhibits, literary, special, general, music, etc.; Salem.
GEO. W. McBRIDE, department of civil government, including state and county; Salem.

WEIGH WELL THE CLAIMS.

A gentleman said yesterday that he believed the asylum commission had already made their determination as to the location for the asylum, but did not know which place was selected. The Chronicle believes that, while it is quite likely they have chosen one place as the best from the field they have already seen, they are too honorable to definitely decide while there are yet claimants in the field whose merits have not been investigated.

That the Irvine place would be a boon to insane patients is not a matter of doubt to all who are informed. This place is rarely gifted by nature. It is beautiful beyond all competition. It remains to show whether or not it is best for health, and whether good sanitation is possible. The Irvine place is 120 feet above sea level. Is a low altitude preferable to a high one for sufferers of this peculiar affliction? Then, our climate is shown by meteorological statistics to be dryer and better suited to those suffering from lung trouble, who constitute so large a per cent, of humanity. A breeze blows on an average 180 days in the year. Is not a slight wind calculated to dispose of malaria and all forms of malignant and contagious diseases?

The asylum is in one sense a vast prison house, wherein some of the inmates never see beyond the confines of their limited horizon. Would it not be merciful to show them as great a diversity of scenery as possible? We have the grand mountains, both in the near and far background, fields of grain, scores on acres of waving grass, all the varied native trees on the grounds; three miles away is the picturesque city of The Dalles, and nearer yet is the mighty river, bearing on its bosom all manner of boats and river craft, that the opening of the locks will bring.

What point offers the best sewerage? No point can compete with the Columbia river. The sewerage caused by 100,000 people is not sufficient to contaminate the tremendous volume of the Columbia after flowing three miles. A running brook purifies itself with twenty-five miles of flow. A natural and easy grade exists from the site to the river.

The Dalles is not in the geographical center of the region affected, but does this make a difference? For example, say three commitments are made, one from Baker, one from Pendleton and one from The Dalles. If located at Baker the fare would be $16.48, if at Pendleton $10.76, and if at The Dalles, $16.48. But it must be considered that The Dalles is the outlet for the whole of Crook and a portion of Grant county.

As we said before, The Dalles does not want the asylum unless it will be for the very best interests of the patients, and to assure those interests the claims of this point should be considered fairly, along with all the others.

GOOD SEWERS.
The Dalles needs a good sewer system—one of terra cotta. It never pays to do anything for temporary use that is required permanently, and particularly is this true of sewers. Where wooden sewers have been put in much expense has already occurred, especially on Court, Union and Washington streets. Liberty street has more recently been provided with the wooden sewer, but it, too, will soon need attention. This matter of re-excavating and patching up rotten sewers is expensive and not in the least satisfactory, and no level-headed citizen who gives the matter the proper amount of thought will permit wood instead of terra cotta being used. The Washington street sewer should be extended on up so as to drain the large residence portion in the neighborhood of the Mays, Sellick and Beezley properties, etc., and the Academy vicinity, where there is now a regular sink hole. To be sure the expense from the corner of Washington and Fifth to Laughlin and Fulton (or Fifth) would be considerable, these two blocks being very rocky, but the easy digging from there would compensate for it, if borne equally by all. The city council have the authority to enforce good sewerage, and it is gratifying to be able to state that they are also willing and anxious to do so.

While speaking upon this subject it would be pertinent to add that the main sewers leading down Washington, Court, Union and Liberty streets should lead clear through to low water, as the offensive accumulations at their present termini are nearly as bad, from a sanitary point of view, as if no sewers existed. There is no reason, it would seem, why the whole sewer problem could not be disposed of with the present administration. It is a Herculean task, we will concede, yet not too great for the capable men now composing the city council.

A DEAD SHOT
right at the seat of difficulty, is accomplished by the sure and steady aim of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Don't fool around with a pop-gun, nor a "Flint-lock," when this reliable "Winchester" is within reach!
Dr. Sage's treatment of Catarrh in the Head is far superior to the ordinary, and when directions are reasonably well followed, results in a permanent cure. Don't longer be indifferent to the verified claims of this unflinching Remedy.
The worst forms of Catarrh disappear with the use of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Its mild, soothing, cleansing and healing properties effect a perfect and permanent cure, no matter how bad the case, or of how long standing. It's a remedy that succeeds where everything else has failed. Thousands of such cases can be pointed out. That's the reason its makers back their faith in it with money. They offer $500 reward for a case of Catarrh which they cannot cure.
It's a medicine that allows them to take such a risk.
Doesn't common sense lead you to take such a medicine?
"An advertising fake" you say.
Funny, isn't it, how some people prefer sickness to health when the remedy is positive and the guarantee absolute.
Wise men don't put money back of "fakes." And "faking" doesn't pay.
