

"He stood upon the ocean's sandy beach,
 And with a reed he wrote upon the sand these words:
 [PRICES BEYOND COMPETITION!]
 But the winds came, and the waves rolled mountain high,
 And blotted out the fair impression.
 Cruel waves, treacherous sand, fragile reed,
 No longer will I trust to thee;
 But from the mountain peak I'll pluck the tallest pine,
 And, dipped in the crater of Vesuvius, with it I'll write Upon the high and burnished sky these tender words." PEASE & MAYS have the fairest priced goods in Dalles City; They are now offering their Spring line at such equitable Prices as would almost take your breath away, and I Would like to see any dog-goned wave wash that out!

Mary bought a fountain pen Which looked quite too delightful, But when she tried to write with it,
 The words also used were frightful.

Another beautiful day.

The fitful music of the steam woodsaw was again heard today.

The "Deestrick Skule" will have another rehearsal tonight.

Several loads of wheat were hauled to the Regulator wharf today.

The Methodist church roll was increased by ten names yesterday.

 morning on the Oregon side.

 documents.

 paid 75 cents per bushel for them at Eugene for shipment.

Two young ladies of the Dalles, accompanied by a male escort went across the river with a camera today and took views of the city opposite them and the river.

The Day brothers, who have the contract for completing the Cascade locks, state that the locks will be finished and boats running through the canal next year, says the Glacier.

Burt Bagley and Max Bartell, two boys, had a sanguine encounter in the East End yesterday, which was fought to a finish. They fought all round a block and both were badly bruised and discolored before they concluded the personal encounter.

Henry Lauretson has just put on the grounds three miles below The Dalles on the Washington side a number of piles which will be used in constructing a fish trap. Fishing will begin on the 15th on the Washington side.

Jacob Ohlgeschlegler arrived in town Saturday. He has just disposed of his farm in the Willamette river country for $10,000, and proposes to buy town lots in The Dalles. He states that some Portland parties are also looking to this field for investment.

The Wasco warehouse loaded six freight teams with merchandise for Prineville and Tygh Valley today.

Georgia is to send the best exhibit yet announced to the world's fair. It is a family where the husband and wife have been married only eleven years and yet have thirty children, the wife having borne triplets each time.

Baker's Jag.

The Salem Independent tells of a fearful spree lately indulged by Frank C.
 Baker, state printer, in which his wife fled for safety, while he was left alone in the house in monarchical possession.

He began picking up chairs and hurled them through the closed windows; then followed lamps, dishes, and everything on the lower floor that he could get his hands on. The front door sash is broken all to pieces, as are also the windows in the rear of the house; the floors of the rooms in the lower story are littered with broken glass, dishes and furniture, and the house looks as though it had been sacked by a mob.

Two years ago Mr. Baker went on a spree and raised "old Ned" generally.
 He smashed to pieces hundreds of dollars' worth of furniture, cut to pieces his wife's sealskin sacque, and upset nearly everything in the house. Not content with this, he slapped both his wife and stepdaughter, then took a canary bird from its cage, plucked out all the feathers and flung it into the yard to die in agony. For all this, Judge Goodell fined him $10 and costs, amounting in all to about $15. Such travesty on justice could probably not be found outside of Salem.

Ominous Warning.

Say, Hood River, look out for your Coon. Our dog Keno is loose. Git out.

ENTOMOLOGIST TO BE HERE.

Mr. Koebler Will Soon Address the People of The Dalles.

Towards the end of April Mr. Albert Koebler, a valuable special agent of the government in the entomological line, will visit The Dalles. Mr. Koebler is one of the most trusted agents of the government, possessing a love for his work, having traveled extensively and having been successful in finding and procuring parasites for many pests. He has the sincere confidence of Prof. C. V. Riley, United States entomologist at Washington, who sends him, and that gentleman asks the hearty co-operation and attention of all fruit-growers when he arrives.

Mr. Koebler discovered and was instrumental in introducing into California the famous Verdalis Cardinalis, or lady bird, which saved the orange trees of that state from the ravages of the Icerya purchasi, or cottony cushion scale. The government recently sent Mr. Koebler to Australia, Japan and other foreign countries to study and discover, if possible, other beneficial insects, and the result of this trip was the importation of many beneficial insects.
 Mr. Koebler has many charts illustrating various injurious and beneficial insects, with the assistance of which he will be able to give very interesting talks.
 Much information can be gained, not only regarding insects, but also in regard to the quarantine laws in other states, the mode of working orchards, curing and handling fruit, and working up a market. In a letter Mr. Riley states, as another object of his mission that Mr. Koebler will make observations on the hop plant louse and conduct certain experiments as a verification of results he has already had in New York, of which it is probable, the San Jose scale is one. THE CHRONICLE will give notice a few days in advance of his arrival when and where he will speak.

MOSIER MUSINGS.

Keno Mildly Criticised—Grover's Policy as Affecting Mosier, Etc., Etc.

It is refreshing to see the young orchards that are being started here.
 This is no doubt a choice fruit country, and upon this industry we must largely depend for success.

The old timers (mossbacks) have gone to work in earnest digging fish bait, and something will be done to benefit mankind if they don't tire out, or if the spring fever does not strike them.

The new comers (which includes us) are plowing and planting, grubbing and preaching, and otherwise tickling the earth and the inhabitants thereof in a way to obtain the smiles of Providence in a bountiful harvest, etc.

I congratulate you upon the improved condition of THE CHRONICLE. Editorially and typographically it is hard to beat. You are giving good satisfaction, and, with a slight effort, a large list of subscribers could be secured at this office.

Keno's items on candidates attending the cock fight in a barn near the town that is to "get a move on itself" and that is to be "strictly in it," and stating that as a liar he is not "in it," would be witty if the slang could be expunged from the otherwise pungent article.
 Slang, like bad spelling, will spoil the keenest wit. These particular expressions are too old for further use; they are like ticks on a horse out of tick season, really no ornament in their time.

The second reign of Grover the first is not giving entire satisfaction among the faithful here. He gives his party less satisfaction than any president who has ever ruled over this nation. This dislike does not spring from his veto of the widow's pension bill, nor from his doffing his hat to a rebel flag, for these things were known before his election, but it springs from the fact that the democratic king proposes to appoint to office men who are qualified for the office, according to Grover's own individual ideas.

Fuse must not have riz' under this free trade administration. A Singleton, a poor, but highly respected homesteader near here, improvised a fuse with a honeyuckle filled with black powder, which he connected with the main charge, and after properly tamping it, he ignited the fuse with a match and retreated, but not in good order.
 Not being quite as quick as lightning he did not reach a safe distance before the explosion. When consciousness returned he was pleased to find neither eye out. This is one instance where ignorance was bliss-tered.

Cholera is the latest fashionable epidemic spoken of here for the coming summer, and if we have anything in the line of internal bacteria this summer it is cholera; it is ultra fashionable.
 Heart failure and blood poisoning are obsolete.

THROTTLE AND CAB.

Meaty Morsels of News and Gossip for Tratumen.

Ollie Barrett is on the sick list.
 Engine 546 is laid in for a few repairs.

Joe Reedy is running the 560 during Barrett's illness.

Engineer Erhart is running the 380 instead of 546. Joe says the 380 is a noble machine.

Jim Nickle and Joe Wilson came in with the 520 off of the work train at Viento to have some work done on Saturday eve, and returned this morning.

The roadbed between this place and Portland will soon be the most substantial in the state. The company have two work trains filling in trestles and will not take them off until all trestles are filled.

The boys on the work trains at Viento are very fortunate in securing such an excellent cook as they have. She serves up a dish for dessert the boys call "opidil-doc" that cannot be beaten for its excellent flavor.

Fireman Brown is back on his run again after an extensive lay-off. He says there is no place like home, and that he shall be contented to remain at The Dalles and not roam again in southern latitudes. And Smokey says "I am with you."

The following verses were written for Braekman J. F. Shannon at Viento, whose dog was killed by No. 8 on April 1st, 1893. The boys all feel very sad and try to console Mr. Shannon in his hours and days of distress.

Dog Shannon now is dead,
 Of course this you all know,
 And this is what makes my pard sad As we to work do go!

Now, Doggy Shannon she did go A-walking on the track, When Curtis and his 'finc' came by And broke her little back.

When Jack first discovered her She was lying on the rail, Her head was prostrate on the bank And on the track her tail.

Now, Jack went to the section boss, And unto him did say:
 "Won't you be kind enough, dear sir, To bury her today."

The day was very stormy,
 The songs and words were few,
 And Frank did gently bury her Without much ado.

Now, Jack, I know you won't be mad,
 It would not do, you know, You saw the piece I wrote for Boozie About a year ago.

You laughed at me about the bird That wouldn't go to church, And little did I then expect To get you in the lurch!

But now, dear Jack, we'll call it square, That is, if you so choose, I mean this for a memorial Just like I wrote for Boozie.

CANNING COMPANY.

A Long-Needed Industry to Be Established in The Dalles.

Articles of incorporations were filed today by The Dalles Fruit Drying and Packing Co. with head office at The Dalles. The capital stock is $5,000.
 The incorporators are S. B. Adams, C.
 E. Chisman, Hugh Chisman and W. K.
 Corson. They are already busily engaged working up the trade, and securing fruit. One man's crop has already been engaged at a cent and a half per pound. S. B. Adams will shortly go to Portland and Salem to look over the modus operandi of like establishments here one of the most thorough-going in the Northwest. The famous Chisman fruit dryer will be used, which is the best model so far known.

The Dalles has long wanted an establishment of this kind, and THE CHRONI-CLE is very glad to announce its inception, which bids fair to assume colossal proportions. Its incorporators are men of well-known business capacity and financial ability, and the way they are commencing is an earnest of the substantial and reliable business they are sure to build up. It is refreshing to chronicle an event of this kind, in view of the many enterprises, started with flattering promises only to collapse in the years ago.

Look Over Your County Warrants.
 All county warrants registered prior to June 1, 1889, will be paid if presented at my office, corner Third and Washington streets. Interest ceases on and after this date.

Dog Fennel.

The very common and much despised, but odoriferous dog-fennel is not indigenous to Oregon soil. The Guard accounts for its presence in the Yamhill valley by the fact of a farmer receiving a package of seed from a friend in the East, who insisted that it would produce "beautiful flowers." The seed was sparingly divided around the neighborhood, and a grand crop of dog fennel was the result, much to the disgust of the ladies.

Patent medicines differ—One has reasonableness, another has not. One has reputation—another has not. One has confidence, born of success, another has only "hopes." Don't take it for granted that all patent medicines are alike. They are not. Let the years of uninterrupted success and the tens of thousands of cured and happy men and women, place Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription on the side of the comparison to which they belong. And there isn't a state or territory, no—nor hardly a country in the world, whether its people realize it or not, but have men and women in them that're happier because of their discovery and their effects.

Think of this in health. Think of it in sickness. And then think whether you can afford to make the trial if the makers can afford to take the risk to give your money back, as they do, if they do not benefit or cure you.
