THE BIG STRIKE IS ON

Four Thousand World's Fair Workmen Walk Out.

EVERYTHING IS QUIET SO FAR

The Greatest Struggle Will Probably Begin Tomorrow—Trying to Prevent Men Working.

CHICAGO, April 10.—At the most critical time possible for the world's fair the big exposition today encountered its first great strike. One thousand union men in the various building trades quit work, with the prospect that 4,000 more might join them before night. The men contend some of the exposition officials have recently shown a disposition, now that the fair is nearly completed, to deny point blank anything asked, and that this has notably been the case in the carpenter troubles, which have been pending sometime. On behalf of the exposition officials it was claimed that the workmen were taking advantage of the last few days of the hurry in the completion of the work to squeeze the exposition management and to violate the agreement hitherto made by insisting that only union men be employed on the grounds. Pickets were placed at all the entrance gates early to warn union men that a strike was on, and to labor with the non-union men to join them. They labored assiduously, and nearly all the union men obeyed the order to strike. By 1 p. m. fully 4,000 men were out, including probably over a dozen trades. To make matters worse, at this juncture one-third of the employes of the installation department, 200 in number, knocked off. They were teamsters. They have been getting $1.60 per day and demanded $2, which was refused, and they quit. President Higginbotham thinks the places of the strikers will be quickly filled, and that little delay will result. The latest estimates are that 5,000 men struck.

alleged crime. Clara Bullock, a pupil in Jennings' school, disappeared recently, and it was suspected she had given birth to a child at Jennings' house. As a consequence of these reports, Jennings was obliged to resign as principal of the public school. His house was searched and the Bullock girl was found there. She admitted the birth of the child, and said she had given it to her father. Yesterday the house was searched again and the bones of the child found in the fireplace.

ELECTRIC FLASHES.

Three persons died of cholera yesterday in Lorient, France.

The Southern California world's fair exhibit was wrecked this side of Albuquerque Wednesday night.

Minister Lincoln will sail for the United States April 23d. Secretary White will be in charge of the legation till Bayard arrives.

Two Oregon men filed applications at the treasury department yesterday: Hyman Abrams, of Portland, to be collector of customs, and M. J. Clohesy, of the same city, to be collector of internal revenue.

Richardson, the professional train saver, is in hard luck. He has been identified as the man who "detected" Chinese smuggling opium in Astoria, and now an effort is being made to convict him of participation in the Lake Labish disaster.

Forest fires in Ohio have been the worst in twenty years, owing to a drouth and high winds. On the West Virginia side the fire spread from the burning of Clifton to the hills, and burned miles of fences and hundreds of acres of woods.

Dr. Haffkin has written from India to Russian papers that he has conquered cholera by his inoculation method. He says he has inoculated hundreds of persons with positive results and promises to give his method to the world on his return from India.

The men who went out at Chicago yesterday morning went back to work again today, at the same rate of wages and the same number of hours as before. The strikers gained nothing, as the authorities have settled the point that they will not discriminate against non-union men.

THE BRITISH EXHIBIT.

Sir Henry Trueman Wood, Secretary of Her Majesty's Commission.

The exhibit of Great Britain at the Columbian exposition will be the largest it has ever made at an international fair. Besides the exhibit in its special building, there are promised excellent contributions to the department and classified exhibits. Sir Henry Trueman Wood, secretary of the royal British commission, who is now in Chicago, announces that many of the articles for exhibition are now on the way, and gives assurances that the entire exhibit under his care will be in place by May 1.

Sir Henry Trueman Wood is one of the most experienced and efficient men connected with the world's fair. His first work in this field was in connection with the health and invention exhibitions which were held respectively in 1884 and 1885. When the British government refused official recognition to the Paris exposition in 1889, Sir Henry, as secretary of the Society of Arts, accomplished such admirable results in surmounting the difficulties in the way of exhibiting that he was made an officer of the French Legion of Honor, and a knight by his sovereign. The work of supervising the British exhibit during the absence of the secretary of the commission was in the hands of Col. George E. Grover, who died suddenly in Chicago recently.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease is one of the phenomenal developments of the great west and of modern political unrest and demoralization. Like Minerva from the brain of Jupiter, she suddenly sprang full-armed from Kansas some three years ago. An obscure farmer's wife she suddenly blazed forth and astonished the country with her grasp of political issues, her aggressiveness and bitter political invectives in the campaign of 1890 in her state. She is skillful in tactics and resources and can hold her own against old leaders and campaigners. She was a prominent factor in defeating Ingalls for reelection to the United States senate, and when, after his defeat, she gloried in it, his characteristic and biting sarcasm uttered to a friend was: "Tell her that men's enmity ends with the battle; only women and savages scarp the dead." Mrs. Lease was a member of the national convention at Omaha which nominated Weaver and temporarily scattered the Greshamite column there with a telling shot. Mr. Taubeneck read a telegram saying that if Gresham was unanimously nominated he would not decline. Mrs. Lease was quickly on her feet and said she had a message authorizing her to say that if Benjamin Harrison was nominated unanimously he would not decline. After Weaver's nomination she accompanied him in his campaign south and spoke there, abating none of her vigor of attack and scathing denunciation of old parties. Mrs. Lease is a member of the Wichita (Kan.) bar.

Philip Geyer, a German who made an ineffectual attempt to kill his stepdaughter, Pauline Fredricks, January 22d, was arraigned in the criminal court at Portland yesterday morning under indictment for assault with intent to kill, and created great astonishment by entering a plea of guilty. He was promptly sentenced by Judge Munly to 18 months' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regularly she was soon able to get up and attend to her house work. E. H. Johnson, of C. J. Knutson & Co., Kensington, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.
