SALISBURY'S EVASIONS Argument Resumed in the Behring-Sea Case.

AMERICAN SIDE OF THE ISSUE Mexican Villagers Will Fight Rather Than Pay Taxes--A Bloody Battle Looked For.

PARIS, April 13.—Upon the resumption of the sitting of the Behring sea court of arbitration today, James C. Carter continued, in behalf of the United States, the presentation of the American side of the case, commenced yesterday. He read letters bearing upon the question at issue, sent by James G. Blaine when secretary of state to Sir Julian Pauncefote, then British minister at Washington. After reading these letters, Carter lengthily commented on them. He contended that Blaine's communication to the British representative showed that the basis of negotiations for the regulation of the sealing industry was to preserve the species, and this was apart from the question of rights. Lord Salisbury, Carter further contended, in his dispatches to Pauncefote in response to Blaine's letters, had ably and ingeniously evaded rather than answered Blaine's argument, that pelagic fishing was contra bono. At this point Senator John T. Morgan, one of the arbitrators on the part of the United States, inquired whether Canada had approved the draft of the convention before Salisbury had made his suggestion relative to the 10-mile limit. This question led to a discussion, in which Carter, Sir Charles Russell (counsel for Great Britain), Sir John Thompson, of Canada (one of the British arbitrators), and Senator Morgan took part.

A Bloody Battle Looked For. ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 13.—Telegraphic advices were received yesterday by an Albuquerque gentleman, who has interests in that country, that troops have just been sent by the Mexican government from Chihuahua to Temobich to exterminate the friends and sympathizers who are emulating the example and seeking to avenge the extermination of the Spartan band of Aztecs in September last. It was the last known tribe of the Aztec race, and their village near Temobich is situated about 100 miles from Chihuahua. This little band, fortified within the walls of their village, slaughtered 1,000 Mexican soldiers before the last one of themselves succumbed to the rifle and the bayonet. The natives of the surrounding country, who have followed their example in refusing to pay taxes, are now up in arms. The battle will be a bloody one.

The Farmers' Warehouse. TACOMA, Wash., April 12.—Senator McCroskey, president, and William English, secretary of the Farmers' Terminal Warehouse company of Eastern Washington, are in the city today to sign final papers, locating in Tacoma the 1,000,000-bushel warehouse which the farmers will build on tidewater. Work is to be begun in May.

The Run of Salmon. ASTORIA, April 12.—The run of salmon continues good, and all the canneries are putting up fish, but in not very large quantities at present. The fishermen's union has called off the fishermen until satisfactory arrangements are made with the canners, by which they expect to get $1.15 per fish.

Turkish Mission Went to Texas. WASHINGTON, April 13.—The president has sent to the senate the following nominations: A. W. Terrell, of Texas, minister to Turkey. This is the position that was sought by Robert Miller. J. W. Hawkins, of Arizona, associate justice of the supreme court of Arizona. J. H. M. Wigan, of Wisconsin, United States attorney for the eastern district of Wisconsin.

The Flag Taken Down. SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The stars and stripes, which for two months have floated from above the government building, have been hauled down, and the remaining forces from the United States cruiser Boston have been sent aboard that vessel. Nothing indicative of American authority remains in Honolulu, save Minister Stevens and Commissioner James H. Blount, of Georgia. The latter sits in his easy chair at his cottage at the Hawaiian hotel cogitating no one knows what. Probably no more distasteful task ever fell to the lot of a gallant American seaman than was imposed upon Lieutenant Draper, of the United States marine corps of the Bos-

Another Large English Failure. LONDON, April 12.—The English, Scottish & Australian chartered bank has failed, with liabilities amounting, it is said, to £8,000,000, or $40,000,000. No estimates of the assets has as yet been made, but they are supposed to be large. The bank was incorporated by a royal charter in 1852, and claimed to have a paid-up capital of £200,000 and a reserve fund of £310,000. It transacted a banking and exchange business between Great Britain and the Australian colonies, and had large deposits. The only reason given for the failure is that there has been for several weeks a steadily increasing withdrawal of deposits.

ABE LINCOLN'S CARD. A Relic Showing the Great Man's Business Methods. The Pasteboard Used by Abraham Lincoln After His Return from Congress--Some Characteristic Announcements.

The business card of Abraham Lincoln, reproduced here from the Chicago Inter Ocean, was not an advertisement, but a small glazed card, on which are printed his name, business, address and comments, as reproduced in the facsimile here presented. The lettering is plain on the card, and under "To whom it may concern," the letters are small and humorously set forth the following:

"My old customers and others are no doubt aware of the terrible time I have had in crossing the stream, and will be glad to know that I will be back on the same side from which I started on or before March 4 next, when I will be ready to Snag Horses, Dispense Law, Make Yokes, Split Rails, and perform other matters in a small way."

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL. Brief Sketch of the Career of Hon. Richard Olney.

Richard Olney, who has been selected for attorney general in President Cleveland's cabinet, is one of the best known corporation lawyers in New England. He has been for several years attorney for the Boston & Maine railroad and is consulting lawyer for many other corporations. His fitness for the position to which he has been appointed is unquestioned and his personal character commands respect from men of all parties. His appointment was a surprise to democrats, as Mr. Olney has always refused to accept public office, but it cannot be objected to by any faction of the democratic party, as he has been recognized as a leader in that organization. Mr. Olney is a man of large wealth and his income from his practice is believed to be fully $50,000 a year. His winter residence is in the fashionable part of Boston and he has a summer place near Gray Gables on Buzzard's bay, where he has been the friend and companion of President Cleveland. Mr. Olney has twice refused the proffer of a seat on the supreme bench of Massachusetts. One year, merely to oblige his party friends, he accepted the democratic nomination for attorney general, but was defeated. The only time he went outside of party lines was when Butler was nominated for governor and he refused to, support him. When the vacancy occurred in the office of chief justice of the United States Mr. Olney's name was presented to Mr. Cleveland, but the appointment went to Melville W. Fuller because he was a western man. In addition to being counsel for the Boston & Maine system, Mr. Olney is general counsel of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy roads.

Too Mean to Be Saved. A big bear chased Peter Hanes, a man of sixty years, through the woods in Clarke county, Washington, the other day and was close at his coat tails when he ran into the clearing of a neighbor named McCoy. As both neared the house the door opened and Mrs. McCoy appeared with a rifle in her hands, promptly let drive at the bear and bowled him over dead. Then the ungrateful Peter claimed the hide, as the finder of the bear, and insisted on his demand until as a compromise it was agreed that he and his rescuer divide the proceeds of its sale.
