PROSPECTUS OF OREGON.

A meeting of citizens is urged for tomorrow night to discuss and act upon the matter of furnishing funds for the Prospectus of Oregon. Fifty thousand copies of this valuable book are to be printed and circulated in Chicago during the world's fair. Of all the plans for advertising our state and securing immigration this seems to be the most sensible and feasible. This book is to be no gaudily-covered affair on cheap paper, nor even a brochure, but a handsome, large-sized book of the best enameled paper, filled with half-tone illustrations and choice reading matter—the nearest example of which we can think, but which is yet better and larger than the one in mind—being "Astoria" by Col. Pat Donnan. As notwithstanding the immense edition of this work, it will cost in the neighborhood of 40 cents each, it will be seen that it will be a rare treasure, and will not be subjected to the careless indifference of the thousands of publications of like intent that will undoubtedly be circulated during the great fair. It will reach the family and find a place in the library or on the center table, and throughout the years to come will do its own work in inducing settlement and immigration to our state. Astoria has already subscribed $1,000 to the enterprise, Eugene $800, Salem $1,200 and now it is The Dalles turn to see what will be done about it. THIRTY CHRONICLES does not believe The Dalles will be unrepresented, when we have attractions to offer second to none for immigrants, and as long as our wool, fish fruit and grain interests are in their present undeveloped state. Let there be a full attendance, notwithstanding the fact that our board of trade is deficient.

A letter has been received from New Jersey asking us to handle counterfeit money. The letter encloses a purported clipping from the New York Times, telling of its remarkable likeness to genuine money, and the great trouble it is already affording the authorities. It is needless to state that this letter is as insincere as the nefarious scheme it suggests. It is also one of the oldest of chestnuts and has been exposed in newspapers and books for at least thirty years. The victims who it attracts go to New Jersey and give up from $500 to $5,000, thinking they are to get ten times that amount in spurious bills, but they get sawdust or blank paper. They cannot well complain to the authorities that they have been swindled, and the best thing for them to do is to maintain a discreet silence. Of course they are served right, after believing they are to be swindled. It is probable that several of these letters have been sent to The Dalles, but it is extremely unlikely that any one would pay any attention to them. Yet they must once in a while catch a sucker, else the business would be dead.

There will be used in the Spectatorio, "The World Finder," which is to be given in "The Chicago Spectatorio," three caravels that will be exact reproductions of the three vessels of Columbus' fleet. These vessels are constructed from the best historical data obtainable and will in themselves form an interesting historical feature. They will be manned by able bodied seamen and will show all the seaman's manipulation of the three famous boats.

The more Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used the better it is liked. We know of no other remedy that always gives satisfaction. It is good when you first catch cold. It is good when your cough is seated and your lungs are sore. It is good in any kind of a cough. We have sold twenty-five dozen of it and every bottle has given satisfaction. ## Crop-Weather Bulletin.

No. 4. of the Oregon State Weather Service, for the week ending Tuesday, April 14th, 1893. B. S. Pague, local forecast official, weather bureau.

APRIL IN PAST YEARS.
In 1886 frosts occurred throughout the state as late as the 18th, the rainfall was in excess, the ground was very wet and the spring was very late; warm, dry weather did not begin until May 15th, and on the 29th was one of the warmest days on record.

In 1888, April 1 was warm and dry. Damaging frosts occurred as late as the 8th. Strawberries were ripe on the 25th and new potatoes were dug on the 30th. May was warm and dry, while June was wet.

In 1889, April was warm and dry, the season was well advanced. Fruit trees were in bloom in March. The winter preceding was very mild; May followed with rain up to the 21st and normal temperature.

In 1890 the spring was cold and backward, similar to the present year. April was cold, rainy, and vegetation backward up to the 30th when the rain ceased and warm, dry sunshine prevailed. Frosts on the 11th and 12th damaged the peach crop slightly. May followed warm and dry.

In 1891 April was normal. Vegetation was somewhat late, but it was healthy and prosperous; the season of 1891 was one of the most favorable and the harvest was the best on record.

In April, 1892, frosts continued up to the 20th. The season was late; but earlier than the present for the 15th fruit trees were in bloom throughout the state, except in the counties south of the Columbia river valley.

WESTERN OREGON.

WEATHER: Cloudy weather, rain, low temperatures and occasional frosts have been the marked characteristics of the past week. The amount of sunshine was decidedly deficient. The mean temperature was from 42 to 54 degrees, which is from 4 to 6 degrees below the normal. The winds have been south to west and chilly. The rainfall was heaviest in the central portion of the Willamette valley. Thin ice formed in many localities on the mornings of the 15th and 17th.

Crops, etc. There has been but little growth in vegetation during the week. The peach, pear and cherry trees are unusually late in coming into bloom; the buds are swelling, but it is only in favored localities that they are in full bloom. The frosts of the past week are not supposed to have done injury to the buds, though the continued cool weather will certainly be of some injury to them. Apple trees are beginning to show leaf, as well as varieties of shade and ornamental trees, as the madrone, maple, elm, dogwood, etc. Grass has good growth and is becoming very luxuriant. Plowing has been greatly retarded and spring seeding continues to be delayed. Fall sown grain has little upward growth, but it is rooting and stooling very well. Many farmers are becoming discouraged with the lateness of the season. The present season somewhat resembles that of 1890, in which year spring weather began on April 20th. The present atmospheric conditions do not indicate an immediate clearing of the weather, yet their formation is such as to lead to the belief that within the next ten days more favorable weather will prevail.

EASTERN OREGON.

WEATHER: Lack of sunshine, cool weather and occasional rains with frequent frosts have prevailed during the past week. Snow has occurred on the higher elevations south of the Columbia river valley. The mean temperature has ranged from 38 to 46 degrees which is about six degrees below the normal. The amount of rainfall has varied from .10 to .44 of an inch.

Crops, etc. The cool weather retards the growth of all vegetation. Fruit buds are swelling in the Columbia river valley, and a few peach trees are in bloom about The Dalles. Grass is growing fairly well. Plowing and seeding has progressed and is about 85 per cent. done. In localities the ground freezes at night. Strawberries are beginning to show blossom in northern Wasco county.

The increase in acreage is quite considerable. Reseeding of winter sown grain is almost completed. Sheep shearing will begin as soon as the weather settles. Throughout the state there is a unanimous desire for less rain, more warmth and bright sunshine.

STOCK.
From thorough reports the following information is compiled by the Oregon weather bureau relative to the number of cattle, etc., in the state on April 1, 1893.

Number of cattle, 888,293; horses, 299,463; sheep, 2,456,077; hogs, 204,809. Estimated value of cattle $14,811,291; of horses, $13,715,842; of sheep, $5,903,182; of hogs, $912,700, making a total value of the above named varieties of live stock in Oregon of $35,343,075. In making the above estimate horses have been averaged at $45.86 apiece. Cattle at $16.87 apiece. Sheep at $2.40 apiece and hogs at $4.46 apiece.

Considering that the sheep will clip seven pounds of wool to the fleece; we have over seventeen million pounds of wool for sale within the next three months. The condition of the stock is generally weather has not been favorable to the lambing season, yet so far it has been very successful, the increase being generally estimated at 90 per cent. The sheep are in good condition and the fleece to be heavy and of quite long staple.

MOSIER MUSINGS.

Keno's Grape Shot Hits an Unoffending Target.

A young fellow here, rather contrary. Objects to our style, literary. For he'll "whip us, by gum. For the barn we've him done, So prepare for an obituary.

Trout fishing is fine. The sun smiled on us a few moments recently.

The Hunter brothers have gone to Portland to engage in the tomallie business.

Rev. Frank Ireland preached to a crowded house in school district 52 last Sunday.

The furies of snow on the mountains farther back beautifully suggests to the casual mind that spring is a heartless lassie.

A. M. Creed is expecting a carload of fruit box material for the coming season's strawberry output.

Some excellent work has been done on the wagon roads in this district the past week, Supervisor Reno working the east end and Mr. La Pierre working the west.

A dance was given at Mr. and Mrs. Young's Tuesday. The usual good time was had by all, and the reminiscence of another social gathering which made life's journey more pleasant, will be jotted down on memory's tablet.

Ye correspondent went trout fishing last week and caught a severe cold and two fish. Nothing surprising about the latter—only to ourselves. Its a mean man that would take all the speckled beauties from their native element. We left some. This may seem surprising to those who know us, but come and see.

The X Z base ball club gives a picnic on their ball grounds on the 1st of May, to which all are invited. A match game of ball with the boys from over the river will be played. A good time is anticipated if it don't rain or snow.

"Who steals our purse steals trash," but who appropriates our fair head, "Mosier Musings," as was done last week, puts a paragraph or two below it, and sets it up as a target for "Keno" to blaze away at, treat us "wuss and wuss." To begin with, we don't allow squabbling on our premises; quarreling is bad business any way. Boys, remember Esops quarrelsome cocks and draw a moral therefrom. This time you are forgiven, but "go way chilluns" and scrap no mo'.

Friendship ceases in a horse trade, as was evidenced here last week. Squire Davenport purchased a span of horses from a particular friend of his living at Prineville. The squire hadn't seen the horses; he didn't want to see 'em. He had confidence in his friend and knew he would get a good team, so he left orders at one of The Dalles stables to have the animals duly received. The horses came down as leaders on the Prineville stage last week, and the stage had hardly stopped when one of the horses dropped, never to go again. The other animal was brought home, and is certainly a beauty—ful object of charity; hide-bound, hoof-bound, ring-boned and spavined. Add to this the fact that it utterly refused to work, in the harness or out of it, and you have a good idea of the Squire's brag team, and a fair illustration of the perfidious horsetrader.

The Women's Convention.

The several unions of the W. O. T. U. of Wasco county, Oregon, met in annual session at 2 o'clock p. m. in the M. E. church of this city. The convention was called to order by Mrs. S. French, the president.

By request of the president, Mrs. Riggs, the state president, took charge of the convention. Mrs. O. D. Taylor was appointed secretary. After organization, Mrs. Riggs gave an interesting account of the workings of the subordinate unions and various county conventions which she has recently attended. The various local unions then made reports.

In connection with her report of Hood River union, Mrs. Rigby gave an account of the efforts of the union to prevent the location of a saloon at Hood River.

The treasurer of Dalles union made a financial report, and Mrs. S. French made a general report of the work during the past year. Convention adjourned. Benediction by Rev. Whistler. Mrs. O. D. TAYLOR, Secretary.

Insurance Against Bike Thieves.

The latest thing in the insurance line is a scheme for the insurance of cycles against robbery, which has been brought out by G. McKay Morat, of London. This enterprising broker is willing to indemnify the owner of a machine of a value not exceeding one hundred dollars for a single premium of about eighty cents, or above one hundred dollars and not exceeding two hundred and fifty dollars for a premium of one dollar and twenty-five cents. The only particulars required are the name of the maker, the description of the cycle and the number of the machine. The conditions of insurance are very simple, the chief stipulation being that the insurer shall exercise reasonable care for the safety of the

The hoisting works at the Gold Bank mine at Forbestown have been destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $15,000. Seventy-five men are thrown out of employment.

Don't be a spider and crawl in these days! Why not keep up with the nineteenth century? You would not buy a steam engine made like those of a century ago. Then why should you buy the old-fashioned, big, drastic pills that gripe and debilitate your system? As great improvements have been made in pills as in steam engines. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are tiny, sugar-coated granules, or pills, are easiest to take, and never gripe or shock the system. They are purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. One little Pellet's a laxative, three to four are cathartic. They regulate and cleanse the liver, stomach and bowels—quickly, but thoroughly. They're the cheapest pill, sold by druggists, because you only pay for the good you get. They're guaranteed to give satisfaction, every time, or your money is returned. That's the peculiar plan all Dr. Pierce's medicines are sold on.
