ENGLISH FAIR PLAY Counsel Carter Calls the London "Times" to Account. MISQUOTED HIM IN HIS SPEECH. Exclusion of Supplementary Evidence Vexes Canada--Had Built Great Hopes Upon It.

PARIS, April 19.-Carter, of counsel for the United States, in the proceedings before the Behring sea tribunal of arbitration, makes a request that publicity be given the following statement: Yesterday Carter complained to Baron de Courcelles, president of the tribunal of arbitration, of misrepresentations of his remarks in the report of Friday's proceedings as published in the London Times. In this report Carter was represented as referring to American Judge Dawson as a two-penny, half-penny judge. Carter explained he had said nothing in the least disparaging of the distinguished and very worthy judge. What he really said was the United States could not be held responsible for the reason which judges assigned for their decisions. If it were so, the United States might be held answerable to the decisions of any two-penny justice of the peace. He (Carter) never said the judgment given by Judge Dawson, condemning the British schooners seized in Behring sea, was incorrect. On the contrary, he believed that judgment sound, and he should endeavor to defend it. The judgment spoken of by Carter was that delivered by Judge Dawson in the United States district court of Alaska in the case of the schooners Dolphin, Anna Beck, Grace and Ada, which opinion was widely reviewed. It claims the relation of Behring sea and the evidence was in support of those claims, and directed a judgment of forfeiture issued against the vessels. In resuming his argument before the tribunal of arbitration today Carter claims seals are not ferre nature, but private property when nourished and tended by man. Carter quoted cases in support of this contention, notably the case of Morgan vs. the Earl of Abergavenny, which resulted in a decision that deer were private property similarly to bees and swans, being wild until cultured. Seals frequenting the Pribyloff islands were, Carter contended, guarded and cherished by the United States, and therefore a species of husbandry was formed giving a property right in the seals. The line of argument presented by Carter in support of the claim of American ownership in the seals was so intricate and technical the president of the tribunal frequently questioned him in regard to his statements made.

THE PORTLAND SUICIDE. Name of the Man Who Threw Himself Under the Wheels. The name of the man who suicided yesterday morning in Portland, some of the details of which were given in last night's CHRONICLE, is A. Bevan. He was a civil engineer and had a round-trip ticket from Philadelphia, touching at Portland. Bevan engaged upper berth No. 10 in tourist sleeper No. 9013, which he occupied from Oakland to Portland. He conversed freely en route with the other passenger in the car, and the porter, whom he told he was a civil engineer. Yesterday morning he rose early and went from the sleeper into the smoking car, which was directly forward, and occupied a seat in this car until the arrival of the train at the union depot. Here the gateman found him when he entered the smoker a few minutes after the train reached the depot. He was informed that the train went no further, and would at once be taken to the coach-cleaning yards, and he was asked to leave the car, which he alone occupied at the time. He replied he was waiting for a friend, who would return to him. Being asked where his friend had gone, he pointed to a gentleman standing on the platform of the baggage car, who was, he said, the man for whom he was waiting. The gateman spoke to this gentleman, and the latter said he did not know Bevan, who was then put off the car. He walked over to the side of the depot and stood just outside the telegraph office for a few minutes until the train started. He then ran forward and threw himself under one of the cars of the train, which was on the second track east of the depot. Falling under the car, he dragged his body half across the track, where he was lying on his face when the first trucks struck him. The trainmen on the platform at once signaled the train to stop, but this could not be done until eight car wheels had passed over him and life was extinct. The train was then uncoupled, the body covered with a blanket, and Coroner Hughes notified to take charge of the remains, which were conveyed to the morgue. When searched the railroad ticket above mentioned was found, together with six blank postal cards, $2.85 cents in money, and a locket containing the pictures of himself and a lady, while on the second finger of the left hand was a plain gold ring. Nothing else of value was found. He was dressed plainly and had the appearance of a laboring man. He wore a light, almost sandy, mustache, with about two days' growth of beard. His appearance indicates his age to be from 35 to 40 years.

ANOTHER SUICIDE. At 5:55 o'clock yesterday morning William Malcolm was found dead in James W. Linnehan's barn, a few feet north of the Clinton Kelly schoolhouse at Woodlawn, with his throat cut, and the razor with which he committed the desperate deed was lying in a large pool of blood surrounding the corpse. Malcolm was lying on the floor, face downward, and he apparently passed away without a struggle. The suicide, before cutting his throat, was considerate enough to almost deluge a portion of the barn floor with water, so as to prevent it from being stained with his blood.

QUESTION OF ANNEXATION. Opposition Sentiment Stirred Up by British Residents.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., April 19.-Officers of the revenue cutter Richard Rush, which has arrived at this port 13 days from Honolulu, are confident that there will be no disturbance there so long as negotiations are in progress. Lieutenant McConnell says: "There is one strong determination among all Americans who have interests there, and that is, that they will never submit peacefully to the re-establishment of a monarchy under any conditions. There will surely be bloodshed if any attempt is made to re-seat the queen. Springfield rifles are kept loaded to resist such an attempt, and Commander Blount is fully aware of this fact. The sentiment against annexation is fomented almost entirely by British residents, but they are few and have not much power. The natives as a great body do not seem to know or care how the thing goes. The Japanese were talking of a side sensation, but not much attention was paid to them." Being asked if there was any probability that the English would attempt to raise their flag during the progress of negotiations with this country, McConnell said: "No, there is no probability of that though the British were anxiously awaiting her majesty's ship Hyacinthe, which was expected to arrive, and they may have something in view. But they are in the minority and are not expected to interfere." The Rush will remain in port for several days and orders are expected to proceed to Behring sea.

The Choctaw Troubles.

PARIS, Tex., April 19.-There is no guessing the situation in the Choctaw nation. Both factions are bitter and stubborn. L. M. Loche, the leader of the Jackson, or national party, has addressed a letter to governor Jones, requesting that he resign in the interest of peace and harmony. The letter charged that Jones' administration had been fruitful of nothing but strife. Governor Jones replied that he had been legally elected governor, and the constitution of the Choctaw nation required him to enforce the law; that Loche was in armed resistance against the Choctaw government, and had persistently misrepresented the Choctaw authorities. He declined to resign, and advised Loche to keep the laws of his country. Loche is at Antlers, under protection of the United States soldiers.

No Change at Omaha.

OMAHA, April 19.-There is no change in the Union Pacific strike. No men went out, and only three or four of those out returned. The strikers claim, however, that they will be joined by a large number of molders' apprentices and gang bosses tomorrow.

WINTERS BADLY LEFT

May Osmun Has Obtained a Verdict for $10,500.

ANOTHER BIG DAMAGE CASE

Trial of Kern's Suit Against Nathan Merritt for $5,000--Demurrers and New Trial Motions Argued.

PORTLAND, Or., April 19.-The jury in the breach of promise case brought by May Osmun against H. D. Winters for $50,000 damages reached a verdict at 9 o'clock last night, and left it sealed to be opened in court this morning. At 9:20 o'clock this morning the jurors took their seats in the box. Both plaintiff and defendant, with their attorneys, were present when the document was opened and read by the clerk, announcing a verdict for plaintiff in the sum of $10,500. Mr. Winters was much affected for a moment. He turned white as a sheet and sighed bitterly. Counsel for defense then asked 10 days in which to move for a new trial. The request was granted, and the motion will be argued in a few days.

"We could not believe those witnesses who had sworn to have sustained improper relations with Miss Osmun," said one of the jurors to a reporter. "No truthful man would swear to such statements even if they were true."

Canadians Were Disappointed.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 19.-The government here, it is learned, had built great hopes upon the supplementary evidence fixed in the Behring sea cases which has not been admitted. The supplementary report, it is claimed, contained strong evidence in support of the Canadian cases. It included a report of Superintendent Sherwood, who was sent up the Pacific coast to interview a number of Indian hunters, who, it is alleged, while under the influence of liquor, were induced to sign false declarations relative to seal fisheries by officers of the United States cruisers. Sherwood also visited San Francisco, where it is stated he secured some most important evidence for the Canadian government. In addition to this the Dominion government sent Professor McCoun to the seal islands in a gunboat specially detailed for that work, after the securing of evidence had practically been closed. McCoun claims to have secured valuable information in rebuttal of some of the contentions filed on behalf of the United States. This also is embraced in the supplementary report.

A Noted Mexican Criminal.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 19.-The noted Mexican criminal, Amaria, recently arrived from the United States into the district Guerrero, state of Chihuahua. There he organized a band to waylay parties carrying silver from the mines. He and his party were surprised by a detachment of 243 troops, and a fierce fight ensued. The bandits finally took refuge in a building, where, at last accounts, they were still besieged by the troops. Amaria has with him 82 men. He is wanted in the United States for several crimes.

Specimen Cases.

S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him. Edw. Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold at Snipes & Kinersly's drug store.
