OREGON AT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

The following is a list of the superintendents of the different departments of the world's fair commission. Anyone who has anything to exhibit should correspond with the proper officer, one of the following:

- W. F. MATLOCK, department of agriculture, forestry and forest products, and live stock; Pendleton.
- C. W. AYERS, department of mines, mining and metallurgy; Ashland.
- DR. J. R. CARDWELL, department of horticulture, including floriculture and viticulture; Portland.
- GEO. T. MYERS, department of fishing and fishing apparatus, manufactures, electrical and mechanical inventions; Portland.
- MRS. M. PAYTON, Salem, (until July 1, 1893)
- MRS. E. W. ALLEN, Portland, (after July 1, 1893), department of women's work, comprising the fine arts, household economy and products thereof.
- E. B. McELROY, department of education, including educational exhibits, literary, special, general, music, etc.; Salem.
- GEO. W. McBRIDE, department of civil government, including state and county; Salem.

VIOLATED THE LAW.

The CHRONICLE does not believe, simply because it is a newspaper, that it has any right to publicly air the grievances of any of its individual members, nor has it done so. It is within its province, however, to expose any act of mal-administration of the city, county or state officers, and this it has fearlessly done in the past and will continue so to do in the future. Neither has THE CHRONICLE so far said anything about the impossibility of securing an item of news at the county clerk's office, although the law is plain that reporters, in common with any private citizen, may learn upon application of any real estate transfer, incorporation, marriage license, etc., which events have to do with this department of our county officers. Fortunately, through the efficiency and vigilance of THE CHRONICLE's corps of reporters, it has so far got the most important of this kind of news from other sources. But let this go. It is of a flagrant violation of law we would speak, a case of pure gall, without any show of palliation or excuse.

THE CHRONICLE is the official paper of Wasco county, was so declared by the county court at a regular meeting. This decision carries with it the exclusive right to publish all official reports which are to be paid for from the county funds. THE CHRONICLE was the only paper which complied with the law requiring the newspapers who wish to compete for the county printing to file with the county court a sworn statement of their circulation, and was declared the official paper of Wasco county. Hence the semi-annual statement of the county clerk published in the Sun of the 19th inst., was illegally given. THE CHRONICLE will protest the action.

It is a wise law they have in Michigan, allowing 90 days grace for banks to pay savings depositors. The banks of Lansing have just been subjected to a panic, when they took advantage of this provision of law and thereby saved themselves from bankruptcy and their patrons from loss. A solvent bank is often short of ready money and in case of a sudden and unusual draught upon its resources could not meet the demands. This has caused the collapse of hundreds of good banks in the past, but the Michigan law will decrease the per cent. amazingly.

An Oregonian correspondent at Washington telegraphs that Oregon democrats are becoming more and more discouraged and now talk ugly. Some of them realize that they made a mistake in swarming here, but they think they will hang on a while longer and wait for appointments to come their way. J. E. Sperry, of Portland, filed an application at the treasury department for collector of internal revenue.

Yesterday's action of the chamber of representatives in granting universal suffrage has completely allayed the industrial uprising. The strikers at Belgium, Antwerp and at other places generally resumed work this morning. No further trouble is anticipated.

The decision of Judge Fee, at Union, Or., in the circuit court, in the important suit between Fred Nodine and J. G. Shirley, two wealthy land owners, involving a large sum, was handed down today. It gives Nodine judgment for $17,350,060 and costs.

From present appearances the Behring sea arbitration will result favorably to the United States. The English supplementary evidence, upon which great hopes had been placed, has been barred out.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly.

The Brilliant Student's Dilemma.

A Harvard student told me an amusing story about himself the other day. It seems that recently his mother had a young lady guest at their home on the Back Bay, and when he came from college in the afternoon he was introduced to her. At dinner also she sat opposite him at the table. He paid little attention to the fair visitor, as his mind was engrossed with a problem in his lessons. However, his brothers were as assiduous as possible in entertaining her. As it happened, the latter had engagements out that evening, and, as Mrs. A. had promised Miss B. to have one of her sons take her to the theater, it fell to the lot of my friend George, the Harvard man.

He accepted the situation gracefully, and in due time the young couple set off for the theater. Arriving, George left his companion at one side of the lobby while he stepped up to the box office and purchased the tickets; then, turning about, he looked toward the place where he had parted from the young lady, and was surprised to see half a dozen there, and—yet gods! it is possible—he could not tell which was his precious charge! Here was a dilemma.

George said he immediately decided that rather than risk speaking to the wrong person, he would stand still till the young lady spoke to him. So he gazed at his tickets for what seemed to him an age, but was probably only a minute, when Miss B. came up and said, "I fear you did not recognize me." "Oh, yes—yes—" stammered George, equivocating—"yes, I did; I thought they had not given me the seats I asked for, and was considering what was best to do in the matter."—Boston Herald.

A Rich but Unapproachable Country.

There are said to be five counties in Missouri and eleven in Arkansas, comprising a strip of country 135 miles square, that have no railroad communication with the outside world, and are yet wonderfully rich in zinc ore. This section of the country lies south and west of the Memphis railroad, north and east of the St. Louis and San Francisco and north of the Arkansas river. The zinc carbonates of this region yield 83 per cent, and the "jack" 60 per cent. of pure zinc ore.

A traveler, Mr. W. E. Wisner, of Kansas City, says that he found in the mountain a cave even larger than the Mammoth cave. The manner of life of the people is extremely primitive. They live in log houses without windows. Bacon is their main staple of diet and tobacco their only solace. They seldom work so long as they have food and tobacco in the house. But they are virtuous, peaceable and kindly disposed to the stranger.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

The man who buys shoestrings and other small articles from street fakirs doesn't always do so because he gets them, or thinks he gets them, cheaper. It is chiefly because men engaged in business are usually so absentminded that trifles of everyday use are never thought of unless they are pushed right under the business nose. As a rule the stuff bought of street vendors costs two to five times as much as it would in a legitimate store. But it is on this single weakness of mankind that the street fakir lives and thrives. A man will fool with a broken shoestring a dozen mornings before he will remember to get a new pair. Then suddenly during a busy day he runs against a shoestring peddler and buys a pair on the spot, paying double price for what his dealer would give him for nothing.

The fakirs thrive best in the closest and most busy centers. Down in Wall and Broad and New and Nassau streets, among the bankers and brokers and lawyers, who are too busy to think of suspenders and shoestrings and lead pencils, etc., the street fakirs fare well, for amid the roar of clashing millions the absentminded man clutches hastily on what comes uppermost, knowing that otherwise he'll forget all about it.

A Copper Plated Ceiling.
The use of copper in decorative metal work is largely on the increase, by reason of the ease with which it can be used in various electroplating processes. The electrotyping of metal has been carried so far that entire shop fronts are constructed by this process. One of the ceilings of the Equitable building is made of electroplated copper on wood, which exhibits the capabilities of this beautiful method of interior decoration.—Decorator and Furnisher.

A Curious Funeral Ceremony.

It is said that when Alaric, the conqueror of Rome, died that "a river was turned aside to make place in its bed for his grave, and when he was buried the water was again let into its former channel, and the prisoners who had helped to bury him were killed so that no one might find out where the conqueror of Rome was buried.

The river thus turned was the Busento, and the place near Cosentino, Italy.—St. Louis Republic.

A Singular Cripple.

A singular story comes from Russia of a young man, known as the "Dying Prophet," who for several months past has died, to all appearances, every Saturday and returned to life every Monday. This person, by name Tagarelli, was born at Tiflis, in the Caucasus, and has been bedridden since early childhood. At the first of these singular phenomena his body was prepared for burial, which was to have taken place on Monday, on which day he returned to life. He declares that he really does die, and is obliged to look upon the book of the recording angel and see on its pages the names of his acquaintances, with the list of their evil deeds and thoughts. These he tells to those of their perpetrators who visit him, and it is said, never makes a mistake.

Among others who visited him was a newspaper reporter, who went with the avowed purpose of exposing a fraud, but he rushed from Tagarelli's room with a white face, exclaiming to his friends: "Take me away! I have lived an hour in the day of judgement."—Public Opinion.

ELECTRIC FLASHES.

The treasury financial condition shows, if any change, a slightly easier feeling.

Gaudaur, the sculler, is seriously ill, and all his matches at the world's fair and with the Australian champion may have to be declared off.

The debate on the second reading of the home-rule bill will be concluded tomorrow. In the morning Gladstone will deliver a speech, followed by Balfour, the conservative leader. Balfour will be the last speaker before taking a vote.

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell, by their feelings, when to expect an attack. If Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, they can ward off the disease. Such persons should always keep the Remedy at hand, ready for immediate use when needed. Two or three doses of it at the right time will save them much suffering. For sale by Blakeley and Houghton, druggists.

Edwin Booth.

NEW YORK, April 19—Edwin Booth, the tragedian, is lying at the players' Club 16 Gramercy Park, suffering from paralysis. It is feared that this second paralytic stroke, which the famous actor has been stricken with, will prove fatal.

The more Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used the better it is liked. We know of no other remedy that always gives satisfaction. It is good when you first catch cold. It is good when your cough is seated and your lungs are sore. It is good in any kind of a cough. We have sold twenty-five dozen of it and every bottle has given satisfaction. Steadman & Friedman, druggists, Minnesota Lake, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

Yesterday was the 12th anniversary of the death of Disraeli and was duly observed in London.

Gone—all the painful disorders and chronic weaknesses peculiar to the female sex. They go, with the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Periodical pains, weak back, bearing-down sensations, nervous prostration, all "female complaints" are cured by it. It is purely vegetable and perfectly harmless—a powerful general, as well as uterine, tonic and nerve, imparting vigor and strength to the whole system. It costs you nothing if it fails to give satisfaction. It's guaranteed to do so, in every case, or the money is refunded. It can be guaranteed—for it does it. No other medicine for women is sold on such terms.

That's the way its makers prove their faith in it. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.
