A KANGAROO COURT.

How They While Away the Time at the County Jail.

Perhaps our readers would like to know what is a "Kangaroo court." There is one in this city in full blast, and has intermittent sessions whenever a prisoner is landed behind the bars at the county jail.

Today a Chinaman was arrested on a charge of selling liquor to Indians and as soon as the door was locked upon him he was promptly re-arrested on the inside by Sheriff Allison. He was brought before the court in the person of Judge Thomas and a venire of three jurymen drawn. These were three other prisoners in the jail. The defendant was represented by counsel, and witnesses for and against the prisoner were not lacking. After the evidence was all taken and the learned speeches made, the jury retired and brought in a verdict of guilty. The court fined the prisoner $3, but as an inventory of his possessions showed them to be only $1, the court reversed its own decision so as to cover the amount. It was collected and the prisoner released and his name put in the box for the next venire.

Shade and ornamental trees, flowering shrubs and vines, hedge plants, etc., cheap at Mission Gardens.

Large Acreage.

The Arlington country and the region up to Ballocks and Grants have the largest acreage ever before known. Standing at a point near Arlington where the hill-sides can be seen in grand review, farm after farm, as far as the eye can reach, is covered with fields of waving grain. The whole country is hopeful of a bountiful harvest, made certain by the late heavy rains. The largest farm is that of Smith Bros., seven miles southwest of Arlington, consisting of 1,200 acres of as pretty grain as ever was seen. D. D. Garrison has planted ten acres to melons, in rich sandy soil. The large prune orchard near Ballocks is in full bloom. Grass is abundant and stock generally look well.

The Next Encampment

The next G.A.R. encampment, department of Oregon, will be held at Roseburg. The encampment will probably be held in April, 1894, and will bring representatives from all sections of the state to Roseburg. Governor Pennington's selection of the soldier's home commission, and indirectly a site for the home itself, no doubt cut quite a figure in the case, and the people of this county in general, and of Roseburg especially, are grateful to the governor herefor. —Plaindealer.

If you want fishing tackle, Mays & Crowe is the place to buy it. They have a large and well assorted stock to select from at prices to suit all.

Local Maxims.

The gardner is a vegetarian. A fish pole and a liar go hand in hand. Read your Bible first and the CHRONICLE next. Give your girl an engagement ring and the whole town will talk. It is better to be supported by a cane than by your relations.

Talking of patent medicines—you know the old prejudice. And the doctors—some of them are between you and us. They would like you to think that what's cured thousands won't cure you. You'd believe in patent medicines if they didn't profess to cure everything—and so, between the experiments of doctors, and the experiments of patent medicines that are sold only because there's money in the "stuff," you lose faith in everything. And you can't always tell the prescription that cures by what you read in the papers. So, perhaps, there's no better way to sell a remedy, than to tell the truth about it and take the risk of its doing just what it professes to do. That's what the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., does with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If they don't do what their makers say they'll do—you get your money back.

Douglas S. Dufur recently wrote 9,000 words on the type-writer in 2 1/4 hours, which is considered very fast time.

Twelve thousand names of world's fair exhibitors have been set up for the official catalogue and 4,000 more are in readiness.

The alleged swindling operations of Early, clothing merchant of Boise, have convinced the creditors that "the Early bird catches the incautious worm."

The competition between Eastern Oregon cities for the new insane asylum is matched by the contest of Upper Willamette valley towns for the soldiers' home.

Chas. W. Adams has just opened up a shoe shop on his own hook, being that formerly occupied by G. A. Phirman in the building back of Newman's bakery. Adams does good work.

At Ricketon, Mr. Watson's son, about five years old, was leading a horse, and it is supposed fell down. The horse stepped on his head, crushing it. The boy was still alive, but without any hope of recovery.—Arlington Record.

Another carload of Japanese passed through today for Union Pacific points. They got on at Portland and in that short distance succeeded in filling the car with that odious smell sometimes noticed on "washee" from the laundry.

F. E. Wilmarth retires from the Prineville News, and says: "Having got through with attempting to run a newspaper, we want a job of herding sheep. Have had lots of experience, and know how its done." D. W. Aldridge is now sole proprietor.

Invalids going to Chicago this summer "to drink the waters" are advised to put powerful, patent clothes-pins on their noses before they get within ten miles of the Chicago river. The most of the residents of Chicago drink the kind of water that has foam on it and is commonly called beer.

Two real estate dealers were last night discussing gigantic transfers when one inquired of the other: "Do you know when the greatest proposed deal took place?" "No," was the reply. The other—"That shows you have not been a close student of the Bible; it was when the devil proposed to Jesus to take the earth."

The sheriff's office is busy on the delinquent tax rolls. If you, gentle reader, come under this category, you may by a quick flank movement prevent being captured. The time has already been extended several weeks, but the time is at hand when it must be presented to the county court.

An advertisement appears in an eastern paper and reads thus: "If George William Brown, who deserted his poor wife and babe twenty years ago, will return, the aforesaid babe will knock the stuffing out of him." George William is doubtless aware of the fact, therefore will continue to make himself conspicuous by his absence.

The funeral of Martin Schroeder took place at 2 o'clock today. In honor of the little unfortunate the flag on the school building was placed at half mast, and in the funeral procession marched the Juvenile Temple, the school children of the room to which Martin belonged, and the German Lutheran Sunday school.

Recorder Menefee returned from a three days' trip to Salem and Portland last night. In his absence two bad Indians, arrested by Marshal Page, had been calaboosed, but after having been in twenty-four hours were released. They were drunk and flourished knives, being probably aggravated to some extent by boys.

Rev. Jel. R. Hicks, the widely known weather prophet, in McLane's "Book of Useful Information," says: "From the 25th to the 28th of April look out for much the same results (storms) as during the last two periods. Vernal equinox on the 19th will affect storms and temperatures all the month." He hit the good weather here today exactly right.

To Be Repaired.

The county court proposes to order the road improved on this side of the free bridge crossing the Des Chutes. It is gratifying to learn that the county court of Sherman county has authorized the supervisors on those roads injured by the waterspout including the free bridge road, to employ labor in repairing them and the court will meet on May 15th to pay all expenses thereof. The expense for repairs will cost Sherman county several hundred dollars.

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell, by their feelings, when to expect an attack. If Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, they can ward off the disease. Such persons should always keep the Remedy at hand, ready for immediate use when needed. Two or three doses of it at the right time will save them much suffering. The Locks Contract.

From the following clause in the contract between the United States and Day Brothers, it will be seen that they must accomplish certain objects within a certain time and if they fail they will forfeit considerable time and expense.

"The work must be commenced within ten days from the date of notification of the approval of the contract, and must be so conducted that the contractor may earn in carrying out the work prescribed by the engineer officer in charge, each of the amounts that may be appropriated for this work, within one year from the date of approval of contract or within one year from the date of the act appropriating each amount. In case the contractor should so elect, he may be permitted to proceed with the work in accordance with a prescribed order to any extent he may desire beyond the amount at the time available, provided that always the cost of this work does not bring the aggregate cost of the whole work to be done under this contract beyond the limit prescribed by law. Estimates can be made for such work, but no payments can be made until funds are appropriated by law. No additional expense is to accrue to the government because of work so done.

"In case the contractor does not earn the amounts as prescribed above, the United States shall have the right to annul the contract and finish the work, and the contractor and his bondsmen shall be liable for any increase of cost to the United States over that proposed and agreed upon for the entire work specified. In case the contract is annulled as described above, all amounts that may be due the contractor at the time shall be forfeited to the United States.
