PRINCESS MARIE LOUISE.

The Young Lady Who is to Marry Ferdinand of Bulgaria.
The coming marriage of Prince Ferdinand of Bulgaria and Princess Marie Louise of Bourbon excites much interest abroad. The princess, who in all probability will be a queen some day, recently celebrated the twenty-third anniversary of her birth. She is the eldest daughter of the duke of Parma, who, with his family, has lived at Schloss Schwarzau, in Lower Austria, for the last four years. The princess is noted among her relatives and friends for her striking resemblance to the famous duchess of Berry, the mother of Count de Chambord. A portrait of the duchess in her youth, preserved at Frohsdorf, could well pass for that of the young bride were it not for the difference in costume. She has the same great blue eyes and the characteristic Bourbon nose which was a prominent feature of the duchess.

PRINCESS MARIE LOUISE OF BOURBON.

Princess Marie is a clever young woman and takes an active interest in all that happens in the worlds of literature, science, politics and art. She is an artist of no mean talent; is a linguist, commanding a half-dozen languages; is witty, and a good and entertaining talker. She is proud of her voice, which is lovely and soft in speaking and of good soprano quality in singing.

For many years the princess has been in charge of an English governess, Miss Mary Fraser, who has become with the passage of years so popular with the members of the family that she has been promoted to the rank of lady-in-waiting. The princess is so attached to her that she will probably take her to Sofia when she goes there to share the throne of Bulgaria.

The bride has been brought up in a simple fashion, as her parents are averse to undue pomp and formality. She will win the hearts, it is firmly believed, of the gallant Bulgarians, who longed, when Prince Alexander was their ruler, to see a princess at his side.

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell, by their feelings, when to expect an attack. If Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, they can ward off the disease. Such persons should always keep the Remedy at hand, ready for immediate use when needed. Two or three doses of it at the right time will save them much suffering. For sale by Blakeley and Houghten, druggists.

Talking of patent medicines—you know the old prejudice. And the doctors—some of them are between you and us. They would like you to think that what's cured thousands won't cure you. You'd believe in patent medicines if they didn't profess to cure everything—and so, between the experiments of doctors, and the experiments of patent medicines that are sold only because there's money in the "stuff," you lose faith in everything. And you can't always tell the prescription that cures by what you read in the papers. So, perhaps, there's no better way to sell a remedy, than to tell the truth about it and take the risk of its doing just what it professes to do. That's what the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., does with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. If they don't do what their makers say they'll do—you get your money back.

A bill asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Toledo, Ann Arbor & North Michigan railroad was filed in the United States court at the instance of the Craig Shipbuilding Company.
