CHICAGO'S GREAT FAIR

The Reproduction of La Rabida One of the Popular Sights.

WHERE COLUMBUS SOUGHT REFUGE

Hotel Charges Doubled and Open Insolence Responsible for Advice to Stay Away at Present.

CHICAGO, May 1.—One of the most popular sights on the grounds today was the reproduction of the convent at La Rabida. This is a fac simile, as nearly as may be, of the historic structure in which Columbus sought refuge after being repulsed in his efforts to gain the assistance of the Portuguese court. The electric age was ushered into being in this last decade of the 19th century today, when President Cleveland, by pressing a button, started the mighty machinery of rushing waters and revolving wheels in the world's Columbian exposition. The president said:

I am here to join my fellow citizens in congratulations which befit the occasion. Surrounded by the stupendous results of American enterprise and activity, and in view of the magnificent evidences of American skill and intelligence, we need not fear that these congratulations will be exaggerated. We stand today in the presence of the oldest nations of the world and point to the great achievements we here exhibit, asking no allowance on the score of youth. The enthusiasm with which we contemplate our work has intensified the warmth of the greeting we extend to those who have come from foreign lands to illustrate with us the growth and progress of human endeavor in the direction of higher civilization. We who believe that popular education and a stimulation of the best impulses of our citizens lead the way to a realization of the proud national destiny which our faith promises, gladly welcome the opportunity here afforded us to see the results accomplished by efforts which have been exerted longer than ours in the field of man's improvements, while in appreciative return we exhibit the unparalleled advancement and wonderful accomplishment of our young nation, and present the triumph of vigorous self-reliance of an independent people. We have built these splendid edifices, but we have also built the magnificent fabric of a popular government whose grand proportions are seen throughout the world. We have made and here gathered together for object use the beauty and products of American skill and invention. We have also made men who rule themselves. It is an exalted mission in which we and our guests from other lands are engaged, and, as we co-operate in the inauguration of an enterprise devoted to human enlightenment and in the undertaking we here enter upon, we exemplify in the noblest sense the brotherhood of nations. Let us hold fast to the meaning that underlies this ceremony, and let us not lose the impressiveness of this moment. As by a touch the machinery that gives life to this vast exposition is now set in motion, now at the same instant let our hopes and aspirations awaken the forces which in all times to come shall influence the welfare, dignity and freedom of mankind.

General Nelson A. Miles, a prominent figure in the world's fair opening exercises, was born at Westminster, Mass., in 1839. He entered the volunteer service in 1861, as lieutenant of infantry, and in 1862 was commissioned colonel. While with the army of the Potomac he was several times injured. He was brevetted brigadier-general for meritorious conduct at Chancellorsville and in the Wilderness. He was mustered out of the volunteer service Sept. 1st, 1866, became a colonel of the 40th regular infantry in 1866. In 1867 he was brevetted brigadier-general of the U. S. army. His campaigns against the Indians have always met with success.

During the dedication ceremonies there was a fearful crush in the crowd in front. Those in the rear pressed on those in front to get within hearing distance. These in turn pressed harder on those before them, and so on until near the front the jam was terrific. The Columbian guards were utterly unable to cope with the surging mass, and those in front were pushed into the reporters' quarters. Finally came cries of rage and pain, and then the head and shoulders of a woman in a swoon, with ashen lips and disheveled clothing, was upborne above the heads of the throng; then the fainting form of a boy held aloft in the sinewy arms of a stalwart negro. It was becoming a serious matter, and the blind persistence of the eager throng threatened death and a panic. The attention of the people on the stand was attracted to it. President Cleveland watched it narrowly. Finally a mounted cavalryman made a difficult passage through the throng for egress with the fainting ones, and a battalion of United States regulars widened the space, pushing the crowd back with the butts of their muskets. Meantime the proceedings ended and a serious disaster was averted.

PERTINENT ADVICE.
G. V. Calhoun, executive of the Washington commission, wired the following to the Spokane Review: "Would not advise any one to visit the fair for the present. Nothing ready, weather bad, everything confusion and insolence."
MISS COLUMBUS.
The daughter of the Duke of Veragua, is a tall, dark haired, dark eyed girl of eighteen. In Spain she is called Dona Marie Del Pillar, but her family name on her father's side is Columbus, and while in this country she is generally called "Miss Columbus." She is just beginning to speak English, and is delighted with America. The senorita is a very accomplished girl. She paints very well indeed, loves books, and is a good musician. She is also very fond of out-door sports, such as tennis, driving and hunting.

A Singular Accident.
New York, May 1.—The case of Miss Mary McCann, in the Memorial hospital, in Orange, N. J., is attracting widespread attention among medical men. The girl was on a South Orange electric car, near the Orphan asylum, at Vailsburg, April 13th, when she became frightened by the speed of the car and jumped off. She was severely cut and bruised by the fall, and was taken to the hospital unconscious, and has remained in that condition ever since. She seems strong and takes nourishment naturally, but all attempts to restore her to consciousness have failed. Dr. Thomas W. Harvey thinks a blood vessel burst in her brain and a clot of blood formed. He thinks this will be gradually absorbed, and that the girl will regain consciousness.

Four Killed.
New York, May 1.—Details of a riot on the British island of Dominica say a bailiff endeavored to eject defaulters from taxes whose property had been bought in by the government, but was resisted. The British warship Mohawk arrived from the neighboring island of Antigua with the British governor, Sir William Haynes Smith, who conferred with the rioters. He subsequently landed 20 bluejackets to enforce the bailiff's order. A fight ensued in which four rioters were killed and many wounded. Captain Bailey, of the Mohawk, four police and many bluejackets were hurt.

Gambled a Fortune Away.
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 1.—Leta Jackson, a daughter of Sam Small, the evangelist, has brought suit against Arthur and Luther Wright to recover $10,000, which she alleges her husband, James Jackson, had lost in gambling. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson were married about a year ago. Soon afterward Jackson's mother died, leaving him $40,000 in cash. He began going the pace then, and is now nearly penniless. The couple have not lived together for some time.

Action of the Spanish Government.
MADRID, May 1.—It is announced officially that three columns of troops are pursuing the Cuban rebels between San Augustine and Lastunas, and that two Spanish gunboats will cruise along the coast. The creole societies have visited the Cuban governor and assured him of their fidelity.

THE CUBAN UPRISING.

Its Magnitude Recognized by the Spanish Government.

KEY WEST, Fla., May 1.—The schooner Lille arrived today from Gibira, Cuba, and reports the Cuban flag floating over the fortress. The revolutionists number 1,100 and are in possession of the city. A schooner arrived there from San Domingo April 29th, with men and ammunition for the revolutionists. Expeditions are being fitted out in Jamaica and San Domingo under the direction of General Quezadt for the southern provinces. General Rufol is here, and it is believed he will direct the expeditions from the Florida ports for the northern provinces. The Cubans here are enthusiastic over the news, and it is believed that many of them are anxiously awaiting an opportunity to get to the island. Spanish papers endeavor to suppress the magnitude of the revolution. One Havana paper admits that 1,500 men are in the revolutionary army in the province of Vuelta Abajo and 2,000 in Santiago province. A council of war was called by the captain-general yesterday and manifestos issued promising pardon to all who will lay down arms within ten days. Spanish troops are moving actively enough to indicate that the Spanish government believes strong measures are necessary to suppress the uprising. Troops which left Havana for Puerto Principe received their month's pay in advance. Cubans here believe every province will join in the revolution in a few weeks. The federal officials here are using every precaution to prevent any expedition from leaving here. The cutter McLane is the only government vessel here at present.

The Disturbance Quelled.

BRUSSELS, May 2.—The disturbance in Belgium which threatened to end in a revolution, has been quieted by the passing of the Nysson suffrage bill. It is said that the deputies were moved to this action by King Leopold's threat to dissolve the chamber. Leopold II is a nephew of Queen Victoria, and succeeded to the throne upon the death of his father, about 25 years ago, when he was 35 years of age. In 1853 he married the Archduchess Marie Henriette, of Austria-Hungary. As a ruler King Leopold is generally liked. He strongly urges the abolition of the death penalty, and said that "not a drop of blood should be spilled in the kingdom with his consent."

Suppressing Mexican Newspapers.

CITY OF MEXICO, May 1.—The government has begun to suppress all newspapers in Mexico which are pronounced in their opposition to the Diaz administration. Nearly 100 newspapers, including El Democra, one of the leading dailies of this city, were forced by the authorities to suspend publication last week.
