A NEW PARISIAN GAME.

It is a Combination of Billiards and Skittles.

Gamblers Employ the New Game, Which is Called "Cardinal," to Fleeced the Public-It Saves a Trip to Monte Carlo.

It is a long way from Paris to Monte Carlo, and the cost of traveling thither is not conspicuous for cheapness; so, possibly, says the London Telegraph, this may be one of the reasons for the sudden outbreak in Paris of a new gambling craze, of which the curious manifestation is a game called "cardinal." At one of the most fashionable cafes of the boulevards this game, which appears to be a combination of billiards and skittles, is played night after night; and to this establishment all the professional gamblers in the French capital are said to be flocking. "Cardinal" is not a very intricate method of gambling. A billiard table is provided, and at one end of the green cloth are ranged in rows thirty-one small ivory "quilles," or skittles, the central one being red and the remainder white. A red ball is placed on "spot," and the play is made with one white ball, which is projected by the cue from the cushion about half way down the table. It has to careen off the red ball, and, rolling across the table, to knock over a certain number of quilles. If an even number are knocked down the bank wins all the money that has been staked, but if an uneven number of skittles are over set the punters, or "gallery," win, and the bank has to cover their stakes. On the other hand, if in the number of skittles reversed there is included the red skittle, or "cardinal," the bank wins and sweeps the board, whether the number be odd or even. The billiard player's interest is to play so that the bank should win, as the syndicate to which he belongs receives a commission on each successful "coup." It must be understood that the public have nothing whatever to do with the actual play. That business is undertaken by a confederacy of billiard sharps who call themselves "professors," and, forming themselves into a syndicate, come to an arrangement with the proprietors of the cafe for the privilege of converting a billiard room into a public hell, and, to judge from a sketch of a game of "cardinal" published in an illustrated contemporary, ladies as well as gentlemen are permitted to stake their money against the bank.

That this obviously gambling game is altogether unjust to that portion of the public who are silly enough to risk their louis or their five-franc pieces at "cardinal" is sufficiently plain, seeing that the punter has only one chance—the odd one—against the bank; whereas the bank itself has another chance, the red quille, or "cardinal" itself, and an expert "professor" might very easily train himself to knock over "cardinal" in at least three out of five "coups." It is not, again, very probable that anything approaching a long run upon odd or even would take place, and the bank may therefore rely, first, on the chance of the professor knocking down "cardinal," and next on the folly of the punters who, having won say twice on odd, will very likely back their luck and double their stakes in the anticipation of odd again occurring. The bigger their stakes the more perilous it will be, of course, to them, seeing that there is not only the risk of even turning up, but the continuous danger of "cardinal" being knocked down. There is, again, no kind of guarantee to the public of the "professors" playing fairly.

We'll write it down till everybody sees it
Till everybody is sick of seeing it
Till everybody knows it without seeing it—

That Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of chronic catarrh in the head, catarrhal headache, and "cold in the head." In perfect faith, its makers, the World's Dispensary Medical Association of Buffalo, N. Y., offers to pay $500 to any one suffering from chronic catarrh in the head whom they cannot cure.

Now if the conditions were reversed—they asked you to pay $500 for a positive you might hesitate. Here are reputable men, with years of honorable dealing; thousands of dollars and a great name back of them, and they say—"We can cure you because we've cured thousands of others like you—if we can't we will pay you $500 for the knowledge that there's one whom we can't cure." They believe in themselves. Isn't it worth a trial? Isn't any trial preferable to catarrh?

Obeys the regulations.
A west-bound train on the Fitchburg railroad had just drawn out of Athol not long ago, says an exchange, and as the conductor entered one of the cars he found among the new passengers a young man respectably dressed, and apparently of ordinary intelligence. The conductor halted to take up the young man's fare, and the latter handed him a ticket to Miller's Falls, and with it a cent. For a moment the conductor suspected a joke, but a look at the passenger's face convinced him to the contrary. "What is this cent for?" the conductor asked. "Why, I see," answered the young fellow, "that the ticket isn't good unless it is stamped, and as I don't happen to have a stamp with me, I give you the cent instead. You can put it on, can't you?" The good-natured conductor handed back the coin with a smile, remarking that it was a small matter and he would see that it was all right.

The promptness and certainty of its cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy famous. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping coughs, and is the most effectual remedy known for these diseases. Mr. C. B. Main of Union City, Pa., says: "I have a great sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I warrant every bottle and have never heard of one failing to give entire satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best liniment I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

While Mr. T. J. Richey of Altona, Mo., was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drug store to get some medicine and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy so highly he concluded to try it. The result was immediate relief, and a few doses cured him completely. It is made for bowel complaint and nothing else. It never fails. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. 1m
