When you've got a thing to say,
Say it! Don't take half a day.
When you're tale's got little in it, Crowd the whole thing in a minute!
Life is short—a fleeting vapor—Don't you fill an eight page paper With a tale which, at a pinch, Could be cornered in an inch.
Boil her down until she simmers, Folish her until she glimmers,
When you've got a thing to say,
Say it! Don't take half a day.

Klosterman, learning that a warrant was out for his arrest, voluntarily surrendered himself at Tygh Saturday. It is thought by his friends that at the most it is only possible to convict him of disposing of mortgaged property.

A valuable consignment of Alaskan furs has just been received at Seattle, which includes, among others, 2,500 mink, 500 martens, 100 black bear, 1,000 deer, 200 otter, and a few wolf skins.
The value of the furs is about $6,000.

A warrant was issued Saturday from Justice Davis' court for John Prall, charging him with unlawfully taking and attempting to take trout, by means of a trap, in Chenoweth creek. Defendant was arrested and placed under $50 bond for his appearance on May 16th at 10 o'clock a. m.

The attendance at the German picnic yesterday was about 400 men, women and children from The Dalles, and probably 100 more from Hood River and Mosier. The Regulator made two trips, and her carrying capacity was almost reached on both occasions. It was a very successful affair.

The curiosity aroused as to the comparative attendance at the commencement of the centennial and the present exposition is gratified by the publication of official figures, which show that the attendance at the world's fair during the first eleven days was nearly 219,000 greater than at the centennial at a corresponding period.

Chestnut Social.

A very pleasant affair was the surprise tendered the Alki club at the residence of Mrs. J. T. Peters Saturday evening by a number of the young men. After a short musical program a chestnut hunt was indulged in, two hundred chestnuts being hidden about the rooms.
Miss Kate DeHuff found the largest number of any of the ladies and was awarded the lady's prize. Messrs. Balfe Johnson and John Booth each found an equal number and had to draw lots.
Booth drew the lucky straw and received the prize. Dancing was then indulged for a time, after which a delicious luncheon was served. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Peters, Misses Maybel Mack, Ruth Cooper, Alma Schmidt, Caddie Booth, Laura Thompson, Nona Ruch, Nellie Michell, Kate DeHuff, Etta Story, Grace Williams, Grace Marden, Jessie Lown, Min-

A False Report.

Owing to a refusal of the dock owners and lessees in permitting The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation company's steamer Dalles City the privilege to land at any of the wharves, she is unable to carry any of the freight offered to or from Vancouver.—Goldendale Courier.

The above is a mistake, as the D. P. and A. N. Co.'s steamer lands passengers and freight in the morning and also in the afternoon each day without hindrance at Vancouver. The Courier should be more careful in giving credence to every informant, as, in cases like the foregoing, an injury is done.

"Beef, Lemons and Cheese."

An American naval officer says that once, when a great function took place in the harbor of Cherbourg, several vessels of our American squadron were present and were drawn up in line to salute the empress' yacht as it passed, says an article on the navy. The French sailors manned the yards of their ships and shouted: "Vive l'Imperatrice!" Knowing that he could not school his men to repeat those words in the brief time left to him, the American admiral ordered his crew to cry: "Beef, lemons and cheese." The imperial yacht came sweeping on, and as it reached the fleet a mighty roar went up of "Beef, lemons and cheese" that entirely drowned the voices of the Frenchmen. And the empress said she had never been so complimented.

FLOOD POSSIBILITIES.

The Columbia Will Probably Be the Highest on Record This Year.

The following is a circular of information concerning probable flood in the Columbia and tributary rivers from the weather bureau at Portland under the date of May 11th.

A circular letter was issued from this office on April 29th, and sent out to persons living in the mountain sections of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, which are drained by the Columbia, Snake, and tributary rivers, asking for information concerning the amount of snow now in the mountains and the probabilities for a June rise in the rivers. The letters were most thoroughly and intelligently answered, and from every correspondent came about the same reply, to wit: "The snowfall of the past winter has been heavier than it has been for many years. At the present time the snow is melting in the lower foothills but several feet yet remain higher up where, at this date in May, it is usually bare. The small streams are rising rapidly, and all persons in this vicinity anticipate high water."

The cool, cloudy season has been very favorable to high water, but no serious flood, but the snow in the foothills has commenced to melt and it is flowing to the sea gradually, though already filling the smaller streams bank full. A continuation of temperature below the normal to June 15th, which is hardly possible, will, to a great extent, lessen the height of the water; should a warm period occur, the snow will be melted more rapidly, and in that event a more severe flood would occur. There is yet an immense amount of snow in the Cascade and Coast ranges of mountains, and this is liable to melt when the Columbia rises, in which event the probable flood condition in the Willamette, at Portland, would be intensified. It should be borne in mind by all those liable to be affected that the snow conditions now in the mountains make a flood possible and that a flood will probably occur.

The following statement of the height of the Willamette at Portland in feet and inches since 1878 will in this connection prove to be interesting. The rise from January to April is due to the conditions existing almost entirely in the Willamette valley, and the rise from May to July is almost entirely from the rise in the Columbia and consequent backwater in the Willamette.

Year	Height	Date	Year	Height	Date
1878	20.6	June 9	1884	20.2	June 15
1879	20.6	June 9	1885	20.2	June 15
1880	20.6	June 9	1886	20.2	June 15
1881	20.6	June 9	1887	20.2	June 15
1882	20.6	June 9	1888	20.2	June 15
1883	20.6	June 9	1889	20.2	June 15
1890	20.6	June 9	1891	20.2	June 15
1892	20.6	June 9	1893	20.2	June 15

The public can gauge their opinion relative to high water, by the temperature condition from now on. If the temperature should be high, or even normal, higher water may occur from June 10th to July 10th than if the temperature should remain below the normal. In any event it is perfectly safe to say that the river, at Portland, will be by June 20th, up to the 22-foot mark on the river gauge at the foot of Stark street, and may be higher.

The Columbia is rising rapidly, having gained nearly eight inches last night, and all the experienced river men here predict the highest water known for 20 years.

FRIGHTENED BOLIVIANS.

They Thought an Electric Light Was a Spirit.

The Bolivian government recently attempted to establish a telephone line between Lapas and Lake Titicaca, forty-five miles apart, says the Washington Star. It was torn down and destroyed so frequently by the Indians that the government was compelled to abandon it. The electric light plant in Lapas was preserved by adopting an ingenious method of overawing the natives. After the plant had been in operation but a few nights it happened that there was an eclipse of the moon.
The superstitious Indians believed that the electric light was absorbing or swallowing the moon. They gathered in a large body at one quarter of the town and moved upon the plant to destroy it. It was saved only by the intervention of a large body of troops.
The government the next day selected several representative Indians, took them to the power house, shocked them severely, then took them out along the line and informed them that the electric light was an evil spirit and that they had better leave it alone. Since then they have had no trouble on that score.

Finger Nail Statistics.

The average person trims off the thirty-second part of an inch from each finger nail a week, or about an inch and a half every year. The average of human life all over the world is 40 years. There are 1,000,000,000 people in the world who, therefore, shed on an average 38,400 miles of finger nail in a generation.
