abilities as a speaker have borne her along; the people have rallied to her side, and she may justly be called the mother of the Australian W. C. T. U. of which she is now president. While in Chicago she will speak on her six years observations of women in Asia, Africa and Australia, and will also hold conferences in the interest of the World's W. C. T. U. Miss Ackerman will remain to participate in the World's and National W. C. T. U. conventions, beginning October 16th, in connection with the Columbian exposition.

ROBERT BONNER.
The Famous Horse Man Who is President of the S. I. Society.

The president of the Scotch-Irish society, which held its fifth congress at Springfield, Ohio, recently, is Mr. R. Bonner. He is the founder and former editor of the New York Ledger. He has retired from business, leaving the conduct of the Ledger in the hands of his sons. His interests chiefly center in his famous racing stable, and the possession of such record breakers as Mand S and Sunol, continues to keep him prominently in the public view. His name is conspicuously associated with the early history of advertising in this country. Mr. Bonner's wealth has been estimated at five million dollars.

Sunday School Convention.
NEWBERG, Or., May 18.—[Special.]—The second day's session of the Oregon Sunday school convention opened with bright sunshine, the beautiful weather continuing throughout the day. At the morning session C. W. Wasson of Chemawa, superintendent of the Harrison institute, spoke for thirty minutes upon "Training for Service." He is a very entertaining talker, and earnest in the cause of Christianity. Other interesting topics were "The Teacher," by Mrs. G. H. Collier, Eugene, and "Management of the Sunday School," by Rev. J. E. Blair, Salem. The question box contained a good many leading questions, which were spicily answered by E. W. Allen of Portland, who is very quick-witted and always an admirable hand at repartee. "Temperance," by Mrs. A. R. Riggs, was well handled. She is a modestly-quiet, though forceful speaker, and her argument was well timbered with statistics. She mentioned how Russia would be vastly more prosperous if her grain were used to feed the hungry instead of being converted into alcoholic drinks. "Sunday School Finances," by Rev. H. L. Bates, did not show, claimed the author, as large a sum in the treasury as he might well hope for, still every pressing debt was fairly met, and, considering the steady increase of supplies, there was little to regret in the past and much to hope for the future.

Italian Immigrants as Slaves.
The brutality of the contractors toward their subjects baffles description, writes Dr. S. Merlino in the April Forum. The contractor is a strongly built, powerful man; he has acquired the habit of command, is well armed, protected by the authorities, supported by such of his employees as he chooses to favor, and, sad to say, by the people, who are hostile to the laborers. He often keeps guards armed with Winchester rifles to prevent his men from running away. His power has the essential characteristics of a government. He fines his men and beats and punishes them for attempted resistance to his self-constituted authority. On Sundays he may either force them to attend church or keep them at work. I have been told of contractors who taxed their men to make birthday presents to their wives. A feudal lord would not have expected more from his vassals.

CHICAGO, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—Miss Jessie Ackerman of Sydney, Australia, is expected to arrive for the session today of the Women's Congress. She is one of the most unique personalities who will be present, by birth a native of Boston. She is capable and adventurous in spirit, and the California women sent her out in 1887 to develop the white ribbon movement in the Sandwich Islands, Anstralia, New Zealand, India, China, Japan and all "along shore." She has never received a penny from the organization, but her excellent

ENDERSBY ETCHINGS.
Thinks the Rock Crusher Will Be a White Elephant.
ENDERSBY, Or., May 16, 1893.
The weather for the past week has been more than lovely, which accounts for the neighboring hills and fields looking so green. It seems all nature has put forth her grandest effort for an abundant crop of vegetation all over the face of this fair land, with the help and assistance of man who, with untiring effort from morning till night, is stirring the soil, sowing and planting. Therefore it remains for some one to give the increase. The fruit trees are all in bloom, which indicates a big fruit crop, to say nothing of the gooseberries.

And now, since our seeding and planting is about done, and we have no hopes of the branch insane asylum, and Carlye Harris was struck by lightning, we will turn our attention to the Chicago fair, Penoyer and Grover Cleveland, and figure on the chances of America being annexed to the Sandwich islands. By the way we have noticed in the last issue of the CHRONICLE that Dalles City and Wasco county had invested in a white elephant in the shape of a rock crusher which is liable to become a public nuisance. It may be all right for Dalles City to own and operate a rock crusher, but we fail to see where Wasco county can benefit anything by it. The city will have the benefit and the county the experience. Paying the streets of the city with crushed rock is all very good but, crushed rock would be time and money wasted on the roads of Wasco county. There is no rock as good for roads as Wasco county soil. The farmers of Wasco county are already overburdened with high taxes without the additional cost of a rock crusher, and the men and means to operate one, to say nothing of the yearly amount it will cost for horse-shoeing during the year to travel those flinty roads. A farmer can't drive his team the year round without shoes, as he does now. Wasco county can now boast of her sound horses but when the rock crusher jubilee comes the sound horses will disappear.

A WASCO FARMER.

LONGEST TUNNEL ON EARTH.
Now Under Construction Through the Simplon Mountain.

The longest tunnel in the world will be that now to be constructed through the Simplon. According to the final plans adopted it will have a length of 12.6 miles, or 3.1 miles more than the St. Gothard tunnel. The northern mouth will be situated about 2,300 yards south of Brieg, at the little village of Im Raffi, and the southern 600 yards beyond Ivelle, just below the present wall gallery. About one-half of the tunnel facing north will have an incline of 1.5 per 1,000 yards, just sufficient to cause the water to run off, while the southern portion will have an incline of 6.5 per 1,000 yards. The process of boring will be the same as that followed with the Arberg tunnel, says the New York Advertiser. Workshops and depots are to be established on the right bank of the Rhone, close to the northern entrance, at a cost of 4,000,000 francs. The power of working required is estimated at 1,450 horsepower, viz.: 520 for boring purposes, 780 for ventilation and 300 for electric lighting, etc.—i. e., at the end of the tunnel alone, for which purpose the River Massa is to be dammed up. At the southern side a similar station is to be established, which is calculated to cost 3,000,000 francs and to furnish 2,760 horse power, derived from damming up the River Cairasca. The total cost of the remaining works is estimated at 80,000,000 francs, of which 30,000,000 francs are contributed by the various states interested in the scheme. In order to facilitate the undertaking a track is to be laid on the road between Dornodossola and Iselle, while in the borings are to be used Brandt's rotary boring machines. It is calculated that the work will occupy eight years and a half.
