A new "History of Oregon" is out.
It is a good deal like its predecessors, more than half biography, at a pro rata per line.

First street merchants in Portland say that if the water rises as high as predicted they will lose upwards of $50,000 in removing their wholesale stocks.

Hood River expects to market from 200 to 250 tons of strawberries this year, which will be twice as much as last year, the revenue from which will be about $50,000.

Frank Gilling, who was run over with today. No bones are broken though he was seriously injured internally. He is not yet out of danger.

The Christian church is rapidly nearing completion, and the finishing touches are being placed on the Baptist church, which, it is expected, will be dedicated in a few weeks.

Mr. J. O. Warner of Nansene called on the CHRONICLE office today. At his place he formed to the thickness of one-fourth of an inch last night. It is not thought that it did any injury to the wheat or any vegetation.

fluence of liquor, walked up to Tom Mc-Coy, who was standing on a corner in the East End, with the purpose of striking him with some rocks, which he had picked up in the street. Tom promptly reached out and knocked him down.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Emmons, of Michigan, who are visiting their old-time friends, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Brown, of this city, called on the CHRONICLE office today. They will remain in the city several days and visit different places of interest, taking a trip to the Cascade Locks by steamer Regulator.

Hon. Robt. Mays sold two span of fine roadsters to the Winans Bros. this morning. They are matched dapple greys and weigh over 2,600 pounds to the span, and are as fine teams as a rein ever was drawn over. Wasco county horses are in good demand any and all times, owing to their superior excellence.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The Trial of Allison the Feature of the Day.

In the circuit court this morning the case of the State vs. D. S. Allison was taken up, and after a lengthy examination the following jury was empaneled:
G. H. Riddell, W. H. Williams, J. C.
Egbert, Patrick Brown, B. H. Thurston, C. Deathman, E. Schanno, W. J. Harriman, J. Clarno, J. P. Abbott, P. A. Cox, John Brown, W. H. Sharp was the first witness called by the state, and his examination was still in progress at the time of going to press.

Allison, it will be remembered, is the man who was arrested in Kansas on an indictment, which charges him with having sold a quantity of wheat for Sharp and pocketing the money. He was arrested in Kansas and brought to Oregon by Deputy Sheriff Phirman. His trial promises to be an interesting one.

Illegal Fences.

In Justice Davis' court about a month since, in the case of R. Dinsmore vs. R.
Hardwick, the jury gave Mr. Dinsmore judgment for $40 and costs, amounting altogether to $106.90. This case was all about a mare valued at $75, which ran into a wire fence belonging to Mr. Hardwick, and was killed. He has just paid the full amount of judgment and costs.
As there are very few legal wire fences in this region, this case should be a warning that it would be much cheaper to make your fence as the law directs.
$106.90 in cash would buy material for considerable good fence. Poor fences always create ill will among neighbors.

STATE GRANGE.

The Twentieth Annual Session Held in The Dalles.

The twentieth annual session of the Oregon State Grange met in this city today. This is the first time the State Grange has met east of the Cascades.

It was called to order about fifteen minutes past 10 o'clock this morning by the W. M. R. P. Boise.

An enjoyable song service was the first thing on the programme.

The report of the committee on credentials was to come next, but as the committee was not ready, the Grange took a recess to give it more time.

After the report of the committee on credentials came the roll call which showed the following officers and members to be present:

OFFICERS.

M. R. P. Boise,
O. John Medlar,
L. H. E. Hayes,
S. J. D. Chitwood,
A. S. G. R. Stephenson,
T. J. B. Stump,
Sec. W. M. Hilleary,
G. K. J. M. Kees,
P. Lillie J. Searcy,
C. Carrie M. French,
L. A. S. Mary Cooley.

DELEGATES.

Henry Black,
Joseph Casto,
J. E. Coleman,
J. M. Curl,
L. J. Edelman,
Thos. Froman,
Henry Freerksen,
R. Goucher,
M. W. Gardner,
J. C. Howd,
A. C. Huff,
A. C. Jennings,
Samuel Ornduff,
Jas. W. Swank,
Chris Simpson,
J. H. Spares,
A. B. Mott,
John Whiteaker,
Mrs. C. F. Ligard,
C. M. Vanderpool,
The remainder of the forenoon was spent in making arrangements for the afternoon.

AFTERNOON.

Two more delegates, viz: F. A. Clark, and Louise Clark, came in on the noon train. When the meeting convened there were at least three hundred persons in the spacious hall of the Knights of Pythias. Mayor Mays delivered the address of welcome, which was responded to by the lecturer of the Grange, H. E. Hayes. The following is the full text of the address:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN OF THE OREGON
STATE GRANGE:

It is with pleasure that we greet you today. It is always pleasant to meet intelligent representatives of the agricultural interests of our country, and especially when they come from so many different parts of the state in which we feel so much interest; but you, gentlemen and ladies, who are the chosen representatives of your subordinate granges, we take the greatest pleasure in welcoming to our city. Our citizens appreciate very highly this unusual opportunity of meeting so many masters of the different granges, not only of our own state, but also of our sister states, upon whom we depend so much for the future welfare and prosperity of Oregon, our first love, as well as of the great Pacific Northwest in general.

The services of the pioneer farmers in home-building and laying foundations upon which are built the beautiful and comfortable homes both on the farm and in the towns and cities which have sprung up as the result of their labor, is a part of the history of this country.

When I reached this place in September, 1852, after a six-months' journey across the plains, and for several years afterwards, almost all the territory west of the Rocky mountains, north of California, and extending to the British line was included in what was then Oregon Territory. Think of being in Oregon at once on reaching the western slope of the Rocky mountains! Out of this territory many grand states have been carved, leaving still our Oregon, the grandest of all.

The whole population of Oregon territory in 1852, including the large immigration of that year was less than 15,000 people, and they were scattered from Puget sound on the north to Jacksonville on the south. Portland was then a village of less than 1,000 people; Oregon city was the capital of the territory; Salem was an embryo village, while Albany and Corvallis, the latter then called Marysville, were small trading stations; Eugene City was then un-thought of. All this great country east of the Cascade mountains and on to the Columbia river was without a score of permanent white settlers.

It is very pleasant indeed to those of us who have witnessed the great changes and the rapid advancement that has been made in this country, who have followed lives of manual labor, to know that this manual labor and honest toil have been the principal factors in producing such satisfactory results.

Forty years ago many of us old men were grappling with the privations and hardships of a new country. But we had come to Oregon to make a home for our wives and little ones; and the hardships of a six months' trip across the deserts had aroused sufficient pluck and energy in us to prevent us from being discouraged by any trifling inconvenience while such great odds were against us for many years. Thanks to the producers of this beautiful state we are now reaping the reward of our pioneer privations. Beautiful towns and magnificent cities have sprung up all about us and villages are now found as frequently as stock ranches used to be; our rivers and harbors are being vigorously improved and our railroad facilities are remarkably good; but of most importance of all to us are the beautiful homes and productive farms where the husbandman can enjoy the fruits of his honest toil.
Agriculture is the first and most noble of occupations; history proves that where agriculture has been fostered and encouraged by the people that nation has prospered and reached a high degree of perfection; we should apply therefore the means that we may receive the benefits.

Gentlemen and ladies, we are pleased to see you meet in fraternal conference.
We know that you will profit by such meetings and that you will be better able to perform your duties as good patrons of your order. You are looked to by your membership for counsel and instruction and both morally and intellectually you are expected to be strictly exemplary; your meeting will enable you to cultivate socially and intellectually that which will be of much worth to you when you have returned to your brotherhood at home.

We are pleased to have your meeting so near the great falls of the Columbia river; they are great obstacles to the progress of the Inland Empire; we hope your meeting here will give you additional information and further cause to aid us in securing an open river.

To each of you I now in behalf of our citizens extend the freedom of our city.
I regret that the great fire from which we have not yet entirely recovered makes us unable to accommodate you as we would wish: but we trust your meeting may be none the less pleasant and beneficial, and that when you go it will be to retain pleasant recollections of our town and people.

The response was by Grand Lecturer Hayes, who responded in very fitting terms.

Judge Boise followed with a speech of great merit, which cannot help but be of great benefit to the order, but owing to the lateness of the hour it is impossible to give even an epitomized version.

WOLVERINE CAPTURED.

Besides Other Prey Upon Sheep Near Endersby.

A large wolverine was caught in a trap near here last week by a trapper.
This is the first of the species ever captured here. They are a strong animal, and have been known to attack a man.
They resemble a bear a good deal, and indeed are known in some quarters as the Hudson bay bear. Sheep are their legitimate prey, and if they abounded in any number would prove a very dangerous, as well as destructive foe, but the latitude is too far south for them. Mr.
W. H. Burt has also caught twenty-four lynx this winter, besides numerous coyotes. Altogether our trappers are proving quite a blessing to sheep men.

A SUB.

ENDERSBY, May 22d.

It is a well-deserved victory for them.
The way they throw their entire stock before the public, they cannot help but sell lots of goods, as we saw with our own eyes goods going out at 50 per cent. less than they can be bought elsewhere.
We have learned that there is no less than 20 cases on the way of assorted
