There is at least one member of the president's cabinet, who, being a democrat, carries democratic methods into the daily conduct of his business. He is Postmaster-General Bissell. It would be hard to imagine any high official in any government of the world more accessible. He is to be reached as promptly by the mechanic as by the capitalist who is able to draw his check for a million. Employes of the postoffice department, who have noted the simplicity of manner of their chiefs, are predicting that before the end of August Mr. Bissell, who is quite fleshy, will receive his callers in his shirt sleeves, making himself as comfortable as possible while transacting the public business. He is said to explain his methods by saying that the work of the department is very heavy, and he has no time to waste on flummery. He also expresses the belief that, being a servant of the public, every one who wishes to see him about affairs of any importance, no matter whether to the visitor or to the government, has the right to demand and secure entrance during the hours set apart for that purpose.

No greater mistake was ever made; no greater sin that disease at the advanced age of against God and man than the treaty that brought them to our shores. That dreaded scourge, the leprosy, like an unseen monster greaning through our land seen monster creeping through our land, it is only a question of time until it will be as prevalent as the measles.

The evil effect of taking the tariff off of wool has already developed itself throughout this section. Stock sheep have declined from $3 to $2 per head, and the desire is general to sell in wholesale lots. So valueless has wool become already that buyers are doing good business in buying sheep to ship to eastern markets for mutton. It this policy is to be kept up it will be a death blow to Oregon wool interests, and today they are in a badly crippled condition on this account.

An exchange says that "Infanta Eulalie put her foot on American soil last Thursday." It does not appear in any of the reports that the soles of her slippers have yet come in contact with the soil of the continent which her ancestor enabled Columbus to discover, this contamination having been averted by "two breadths of carpet" spread for her to walk upon when she moves by her own native means of locomotion.

In South Carolina the bartenders are not permitted under a new law to assimilate any of the liquor they serve to customers. They are not to drink behind the bar, nor in front of it either. They must be sober, but patrons may be drunk. It is a case of sobriety ministering to drunkenness-a modern illustration of the tortures of Tantalus.

The distressing computation is made that the human system contains 10,000, 000 nerves. What is the use of letting the nervous man know that he is really about ten times worse off than he though? There will be no living with him if he finds out the real gravity of his condition.

HE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large sightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil, pure cold water and shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort and for all Oregon, being the nearest town to Mt. Hood. It is also unparalled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse power in its dashing streams and waterfalls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufactories will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment
