MAY MIÑORS.

Billed Newslets to be Digested at the Supper Table.

He asked the policeman his No. When he woke from a much-needed slumber. But the copper got hot. And clubbed him a lot. Then hid in a big pile of logs.

The Washington State Grange will be held June 6, at White Salmon.

Miss Mand Condon, while hunting for arrow points yesterday, uncovered a $5 bill.

Saltmarsh & Co. shipped last night two carloads of sheep for the Victoria market.

If the farmers don't have big crops this summer it will not be from lack of moisture.

Mounts for photographic views can be had at the CHRONICLE office, cut to any size desired.

The fish catch is improving a little. Winans reports a very respectable number yesterday.

The Mignonettes will give an entertainment tonight at Fraternity hall. The music will be the best of the season.

Two crates of strawberries, the first of the season, were shipped by Leslie Butler to Portland, yesterday from A. Field's farm.

Yesterday afternoon's train from the east did not arrive until 2 o'clock this morning caused by a land slide near Hilgarde, Union county.

The Regulator will make a round trip to the Cascades Saturday. Excursion rates (50c) will be charged, thus furnishing a good opportunity for all those who have never visited the locks to do so.

Ripe strawberries of home growth were in the market today. They are very large and handsome and retail for 35 cents. One box of them is worth a dozen of the early California varieties.

Mr. Geo. Blakeley has been tendered an invitation to attend the forty-first annual meeting of the Pharmaceutical Association, which convenes in Chicago August 14th. Mr. Blakeley will accept.

Judge Burnett, after questioning the attorneys at considerable length relative to the different points of their contention, resulting in a pretty free discussion of the matter till nearly 4 o'clock, took the Soldiers' Home injunction case under advisement yesterday.

A house-warming at the new residence of C. L. Phillips last night proved a very enjoyable affair. The spacious parlors furnished room for three sets of dancers beside numerous card tables. Over sixty guests were present, who enjoyed themselves until a late hour. The mandolin club furnished entrancing music, and an elegant supper was served.

The brick yard of Max Blank on the hill back of the brewery is running at full capacity. The yards are pretty well covered with new brick and present a very busy appearance. Eight men are constantly employed. The output is from 8,000 to 10,000 brick per day.

Old man Cottingham, who was locked up in the calaboose for getting drunk, showed his contempt for the inferior bars to liberty by kicking his way out of jail, also wrecking an iron bedstead before he departed. Cottingham has served a term in the penitentiary, and has no respect for jails that are so much inferior to these.

ALLISON FREE.

The Jury Instructed to Return a Verdict of Not Guilty.

D. S. Allison is again a free man. At the opening of court this morning the court announced his decision on the motion of Judge Bennett, Allison's attorney, for a dismissal. The court held the indictment good, but that the facts proven did not constitute a bailment. That "the question is whether or not the facts in this case show a bailment so as to bring the case within the provisions of the indictment. The testimony in this case shows that on the delivery of the wheat to defendant he stowed it in a warehouse, and received receipts in his own name. This is conclusive evidence of the title of the property, as to whether there has been a sale or a bailment. While the conduct of the defendant may have been villainous and his transactions dishonest in the extreme, yet, unless the case comes within the provisions of the statute, the court is not authorized to put a man upon trial. The testimony in this case shows a conditional sale, and the conditions were such as to preclude the idea of any bailment. He had a title to the property vested in him to that extent that he could convey and transfer and not be accountable to the bailor for the return of the property at all. While the evidence in this case develops a very crooked and vicious transaction on the part of the defendant, yet the court rules that these facts constitute no bailment in this case, and without which no conviction could be had under the indictment."

The court then instructed the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty.

Crushed to a Pulp.

Oscar Kendall, a resident of Benton county, was assisting Jacob Modi to fell a tree. Just before the tree showed signs of falling, Kendall moved his coat to a place of supposed greater safety. Modi suggested that the tree might fall that way and Kendall replied that if it did he could get the coat and get out of the way before the tree could fall. It went straight toward the coat, and Kendall started on the rash attempt to save it. Just as he reached it he slipped and fell, and before he could rise the immense tree, four feet in diameter caught him. It fell squarely across his body, and the stomach and abdomen were crushed to a pulp. He never spoke. Death was instantaneous. The deceased was 65 years of age and an Oregon pioneer. His parents located on the Kendall donation claim, 10 miles south of Corvallis, in 1864.—Corvallis Times.

Money to Loan.

I have money to loan on short time loans. Geo. W. ROWLAND.

"Poverty Party."

A very unique performance is promised tonight at the Methodist church, where poverty is at a premium and any evidence of prosperity is assessed for fines. Circulars have been distributed, printed on poor paper with poor ink and in poor spelling, under the impression that ignorance and poverty go hand in hand. Diamonds are fined 3 cents each, which is the highest with one exception, the wearer of "krinlin skurts" having to pay 25 cents for the privilege. The following program has been prepared: Song..... Mrs. Grace Condon Recitation..... Jennie Russell Music, Harmonica and Guitar..... H. Esping Recitation..... Georgia Sampson Solo..... Mrs. Boyer "John Chinaman's Lament"..... By Six Boys Recitation..... Mabel Riddell Reading..... Rose Mitchell

THE GRANGE.

State Lecturer Hayes' Response to the Mayor's Welcome.

The remainder of the session of the State Grange will be secret. The response of H. E. Hayes to the mayor's address of welcome was briefly as follows:

Patrons of Husbandry means agriculturists. Upon agriculture depends the welfare of all classes. The future welfare of this great section depends not on the great corporate thoroughfare, but upon the development of its great river, and all are interested in its being speedily opened.

The Grange is a school, the farmers' school, in which they are learning rapidly. Among the farmers are found the grandest statesmen of the times, and in the Grange is where they are educated. As farmers we want such laws as will leave a margin of profit in the hands of the producer. The people must have some power of veto. At the present rate of appropriation the tax rate is liable to reach almost three per cent., leaving little or no margin of profit.

In our Grange we discuss our monetary system, our taxation system, the transportation question, and, indeed, all questions that affect our prosperity as a people.

We must see to it that those who till the soil have a title to the same, for when the tillers own the soil, they will defend their country, educate their children and assist in making the whole country prosperous.

There is no class more to be depended upon for an open river than the agriculturists.

After listening to Mayor Mays' eloquent address of welcome, Lecturer Hayes' response, and Master Boise's annual address, the Grange took a half-hour recess. After recess the Grange met in secret session and listened to the report of the treasurer, committee on woman's work, committee on credentials, and the committee on agricultural college. Dr. Casto, in making the report of the agricultural college committee, said that there has been 281 students enrolled in the institution this year. Ninety-six of the students are young ladies, while 185 are young men. One hundred young gentlemen live at the Canthorn hall, and 20 young women room at the girl's hall, while 161 find board and lodging in the city of Corvallis or on adjoining farms. Forty-two are taking the agricultural course, and 49 are taking the mechanical course. Sixty-eight are taking the household economy course.

After listening to some suggestions from John Medlar, the Grange proceeded to consider some financial business, and afterward heard the reports from the several counties which were referred to the proper committees.

Several resolutions favoring the free and unlimited coinage of silver were referred to the committee on legislation. A resolution favoring a law that will allow women the privilege of signing petitions for or against saloon licenses, was referred to the same committee. A resolution favoring the re-enactment of the mortgage tax law, another favoring the election of U. S. senators by direct vote of the people, and many similar ones were offered.

The Grange then took a recess until 7 p. m., at which time the unwritten work of the order was exemplified.

WEDNESDAY MORNING.

After opening exercises, considerable time was absorbed by the reading of the minutes, secretary's report, reports of committees, and the Lecturer's report.

A resolution favoring no exemption from taxation, and others were laid on the table. Hilliary's resolution regarding free coinage of silver called forth several eloquent speeches.

Some committees on condolence were appointed, and some standing committees made reports.

Friendly greetings from the W. C. T. U. were read by one of the sisters. It was ordered that the greetings be spread on our minutes and that a suitable response be made.

Some amendments to the by-laws were offered by different members.

After considerable profitable discussion the Grange took a noon recess.

The face of William Muldoon, as pictured in current lithographs, has a family likeness to that of the famous Greek pugilist represented in a plaster cast of much interest at the Metropolitan museum of art. Nose, lips and brow are strikingly alike in the Greek and American professors of the manly art.

Antique Church Plate.

St. Peter's Episcopal church in Albany has a silver communion service one hundred and seventy-eight years old which is a companion set to that held for the descendants of the Mohawks by a clergyman in Canada. It seems that Queen Anne sent two services over, one for the Mohawks then living in the New York colony and the other for St. Peter's, Albany. The Mohawk service followed the Indians into exile, and has been carefully preserved by the persons to whom it has been intrusted by the councils of chiefs from time to time.

Good Job Printing.

If you have your job printing done at THE CHRONICLE you will have the advantage of having it done with the most modern and approved type, with which we keep continually supplied. All jobs under the direct supervision of one of the most successful and artistic printers in the Northwest.

It is a well-deserved victory for them. The way they throw their entire stock before the public, they cannot help but sell lots of goods, as we saw with our own eyes goods going out at 50 per cent. less than they can be bought elsewhere. We have learned that there is no less than 20 cases on the way of assorted
