THREE NOTED MEN
A Trio of Prominent Oregonian Democrats Who Want Office.
MURPHY, MARKLEY AND WAIT
District Attorney, District Marshal and Postmaster at Portland Are the Offices Sought by Them.

WASHINGTON, May 24.—Three men who were prominent in the last campaign in Oregon hope to be rewarded by the present administration, and are seeking offices which will be given to Oregon men. Dan Murphy wants to be district attorney, John Markley expects to be made district marshal, and Chas. N. Wait postmaster at Portland.

Dined by the President.
The dinner given on the 23d by President and Mrs. Cleveland to Infanta Eulalia was made an occasion of much dignity. The white house conservatories were fairly depleted to furnish rare flowers for the decoration of the table and apartment where the dinner took place. The large state dining-room was used, and it never looked so brilliant or so tastefully arranged.

The entire lower floor of the white house was decorated profusely. Stationed in the main hall was the marine band, and along the walls were a few spectators. At 8:10 the band rendered the Spanish national air, and the guests marched down the private corridor to the state dining hall, where 38 covers were laid. At the center of the table sat President Cleveland, with the princess on his right, and opposite sat Mrs. Cleveland and Prince Antonio. On the right of the president and princess were Secretary of State Gresham and Marchioness of Arco Hermosa. The others, in the order named, were Senator Sherman and Mrs. Bissell, Secretary Herbert and Mrs. Johnson, the Spanish minister and Mrs. Fuller, Secretary Lamont and Mrs. Olney, Secretary Morton and Miss Herbert, Chief Justice Fuller and Mrs. Gresham, Secretary Carlisle and Mrs. Lamont, Senator Gray and Miss Benedict, Duke de Tomanes and Mrs. Carlisle, Attorney-General Olney and Mrs. Smith, Postmaster-General Bissell and Mrs. Gray, Secretary Hoke Smith and Mrs. Townsend, ex-Minister to Spain Curry and Mrs. Davis, Don Pedro Tovar and Mrs. Curry, and Commodore Davis and Miss Riggs. The East room, where the president and guests repaired after dinner, was decorated profusely with plants.

An Incident That May Cause Trouble
SAN DIEGO, Cal., May 23.—An incident that may lead to a government inquiry is reported by the passengers of the Pacific Mail steamer City of New York, Captain Johnson, which arrived this morning from Panama, en route to San Francisco. On the passage down the steamer did not touch at San Juan del Sur, because of the revolution in Nicaragua. Entering the port of Corinto, the passengers were amazed to see soldiers training a big Krupp gun vessel from the government barracks, all ready, as was afterward learned, to touch off. This is in direct contravention of international courtesy. Government officers then boarded the vessel to search her, the supposition being that she had touched at San Juan, where the revolutionists are in control, and was bringing revolutionists to aid in seizing Corinto, which is very weak by reason of the able-bodied men being with the army on the frontier. It is further learned that the same gun had been trained on the San Jose, of that line, on the up voyage. During the search there departed the new American minister to Nicaragua, Salvador and Costa Rica, Hon. Louis Baker, of St. Paul, accompanied by his two daughters, who had come on from Panama.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego, Cal., says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50 cts. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly.
Special excursion, Dalles to Cascades and return, steamer Regulator, Saturday, May 27. Tickets, 50 cents. (No half fares.) Steamer will leave Dalles at 7 a. m. Returning, leave Cascade Locks at 3 p. m. D. P. & A. N. Co.
For best quality 10 oz., heavy riveted overalls at 50 cents per pair go to N. Harris.

MARKET REPORT.
THURSDAY, May 25.—There has not been much improvement in business circles since last report. Although the season is late, it may be said that the volume of trade is up to a standard of corresponding periods. Purchases of merchandise and provisions have been of a large character and confined mostly to stockmen.

The local trade does not change in its demands or requirements. The stringency in money matters, which has to a large degree checked the anticipated volume of business with our merchants, is apparently showing an easier tendency and consequently a better feeling prevails.
The markets are of their usual import in quotations. The only noticeable feature is that fresh butter is in large supply and the market is weaker.
The egg market continues unchanged as to quotations. The receipts are sufficient for all demands.
Potatoes have turned dearer, and it is said are golden, as $2.25 per 100 lb are offered for Eastern Oregon choice table potatoes; valley are quoted at $1.85 per 100 lb.

The wheat market is quiet. There are but few arrivals of wheat, and former quotations are chronicled.
Hay has declined and good timothy hay is weak at $12.
The wool question remains unsettled and the market is still lifeless, although several buyers are still in the city. There is a low temperature in offerings, and a very unsatisfactory condition is existing among wool men in futures.

The following from the Boston Advertiser of May 19th will give the colorings in eastern wool centers, which will be read with interest.
The market continues flat in nearly all departments, with the volume of business reported footing up even less than a week ago. Trade as a whole has been even less than the sales denote, as some of the business reported were sales made previously and only now given out. The market as a whole is in about as depressed condition as can be well imagined, and the future looks even worse than the present. Some new wools are coming in, but they attract no attention, and when sales of such are made it has to be at 20c less than old wools of the same grade are cleaned up for. Some manufacturers will not handle new wools, but they have no trouble to find all of the old wool they want. It now looks as though wools will have to be forced down to the "free wool" basis to attract attention, and even then the manufacturer will take only what he needs for immediate use.

What the final price of wool will be when the tariff has been adjusted it is now impossible to say, but there is no getting over the fact that while the change is being made the trade will be very much depressed. Woolen manufacturers are practically taking no orders at present, and have not taken any to speak of for the past two months. What is worse, they are experiencing some trouble in delivering the goods they have sold. The expectation of free wool and lower duties on goods is not confined to the clothiers and manufacturers alone, but extends as far ahead as the people who wear the clothing. Retailers are not putting in their usual supplies notwithstanding the cold weather last winter which allowed them to clean up close, but are buying sparingly for fall. This makes clothing manufacturers feel dubious regarding the free orders for woolsens that they have placed ahead, and some of them take every occasion possible to either throw the goods back on the mill agent, or make claims that have to be settled through liberal concession in price. This disturbs the woolen manufacturer and he does not feel very buoyant over wool, but forces down the price, where he is obliged to buy, and then gets along with as little as possible.

HON. W. R. ELLIS.
Member-Elect for the Fifty-Third Congress of the U. S.

A new law firm in Heppner is that of Ellis, Dawson & Lyons. The two last-named are new-comers and will be known in future by their merits. The senior member is the efficient member-elect of congress for the newly-formed seventh judicial district of Oregon. Mr. Ellis is a man of pleasing address, and is young enough, being only 43 years of age, to make for himself a great name, entering congress, as he does, at an earlier age than the great majority of national representatives. He is the son of James Ellis, and was born near Moreland, Montgomery county, Indiana, April 23d, 1850. His mother's maiden name was Susan Stone. Both father and mother were Kentuckians. His father died in November, 1851, and four years later his mother married Joseph Roberts in January 1855. In April of the same year the family removed to Guthrie county, Iowa. Here Mr. Ellis was brought up on the farm, doing farm work and going to school four months during each year until 18 years of age, after which time he taught school and worked on the farm until he was of age. He then entered the Iowa Agricultural college where he remained almost two years. He entered the law department of the Iowa State university in September, 1873, and graduated in the class of 1874. In January 1875, he began the practice of law at Padora, Iowa, and was elected and served as mayor of the town during that year. In June 1876, he removed to Hamburg, Iowa, where he followed his profession and engaged in newspaper work. He was elected city attorney in 1878, and served two years. Immediately after the expiration of the term he entered upon the duties of mayor, to which office he had been previously elected. He was married March 31st, 1880, to Miss Jennie B. Edwards, who died in January 1882. In March 1883, he came west and taught school in Walla Walla county, Wash., until 1884. He then went to Heppner as principal of schools. In April, 1885, he began the practice of law again. In March of the same year, upon the formation of Morrow county, he was appointed first school superintendent. In December of the same year he was appointed by Gov. Moody as district attorney of the newly formed seventh judicial district, was elected to the same position in 1886, and re-elected in 1888. He was nominated by the republican party in 1892, and elected as a member of the fifty-third congress. He married his present wife, Mrs. Ida J. Scott, at Walla Walla, Wash., June 16th, 1885. They have one child, a son, Edgar B. Ellis.

Specimen Cases.
S. H. Clifford, New Cassel, Wis., was troubled with neuralgia and rheumatism, his stomach was disordered, his liver was affected to an alarming degree, appetite fell away, and he was terribly reduced in flesh and strength. Three bottles of Electric Bitters cured him.
Edward Shepherd, Harrisburg, Ill., had a running sore on his leg of eight years' standing. Used three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes of Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and his leg is sound and well. John Speaker, Catawba, O., had five large fever sores on his leg, doctors said he was incurable. One bottle Electric Bitters and one box Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured him entirely. Sold by Snipes & Kinersly.
