One of the insane ideas of the age is the Columbian liberty bell, cast from valued relics of all kinds. One of these is a gold clasp belonging to General Robert E. Lee and Jefferson Davis, and Mrs. Elie, of Cincinnati, sends a silver spoon belonging to her mother, who was a cousin of General Lee. Heirlooms and valuable relics of all kinds are to be used for this work, the value of which will be practically destroyed after it is remelted. Their individuality is lost forever, the thousand chances of exhibiting them to friends and the pride of possession all gone. Besides there is omnipresent the tormenting fear that perhaps they didn't get into the bell after all. The whole scheme is as rank a proposition as the offerings of the heathen to their idols, the poor deluded mortals believing that they are necessary for the sustenance of their gods, but which are appropriated by the high priests through concealed doors.

J. C. Egbert, in conversation with a CHRONICLE reporter this morning, stated that the increase of fruit acreage this year throughout Wasco county is really prodigious, and will not be realized until the assessment rolls show in black and white the increase of improved acres. He says there are hundreds of small farmers, to say nothing of wholesale planters, who have planted young trees this spring and last fall, and who are planning to set out a greater number than ever the coming fall. One hundred thousand more prune trees are growing this year than last. The grape planting has increased as well, and two years hence there will have been at least 500,000 more plants from present orders. The volume of fruit for the coming year bids fair to be something tremendous.

Dr. Jacob L. Wortman, recently appointed to the chair of Paleontology in Princeton college, New Jersey, is an Oregonian and a former pupil of Prof. Condon, of the University of Oregon, from which he graduated in 1878. He afterward graduated from the Pennsylvania college of surgery and anatomy, and soon after was appointed anatomist in the Army Medical Museum at Washington. He has written some fine works, and his "Comparative Anatomy of the Teeth" is a standard authority among men of science. His success shows what Oregon push and energy can do.

A Trenton, (New Jersey) company will engage in the business of raising sunken vessels by a novel method. Large rubber bags will be placed in the hold of the sunken vessels by divers. The bags will be connected by a hose with air pumps on floats at the surface and air pumped into them. As the bags expand it is expected they will expel nearly all the water from the hold and give the sunken vessel sufficient buoyancy to cause it to rise to the surface. The company's first experiment will be made on the Oregon, sunk off Fire island.

Colorado Chinamen were the only ones who were cute enough to profit by the Geary registration law. They not only registered once, but several times, and then sold the duplicates to the Six Companies, to place in the hands of new imports, all of which shows that the cunning of the Six Companies is inferior to the aggregated intelligence of the Coolies. If all the Chinamen had done this the population could have been doubled. They lost the chance of a life time to get all their relatives out here.

Lawyer Bigger in the Soldiers' Home case scored Governor Penoyer hard for helping set aside the provisions of the constitution requiring all public institutions to be located at the seat of government, yet continually demanding the impeachment of President Cleveland for failure to enforce only a statute. —Salem Journal. The Salem fools are already beginning to be known by their comparative excellence, as Big, Bigger, Biggest.

Militia Encampment.
The state military board has decided to appropriate $300 each for 13 infantry companies, the battery and the troops to go into encampment. The troop and company D, of the Second regiment, stationed at Ashland, will camp together at Fort Klamath, provided the company is willing to accept the $300 in full of all per diem and ration allowance and pay its own transportation. The battery and nine companies of the First regiment and three of the second will camp together near Portland, at a point yet to be selected, and $200 has been allowed to pay the expenses of the companies up the valley. The three Second regiment companies will probably be selected from the military at Hubbard, Albany, Eugene and Salem, by inspection, the three best being chosen. All depends upon the waiving of pay and allowances, and the acceptance of the $300 in full for each company. The Third regiment is so scattered that no effort will be made to bring together its companies this year. —Salem Journal.

A Witty Rejoinder.
If the best interests of Eastern Oregon are consulted Pendleton will get the branch asylum sure. —Pendleton Tribune. It is generally understood that Pendleton, as well as Heppner, hasn't a ghost of a show. It's between The Dalles and Union. —Long Creek Eagle. Well, my dear friend isn't Pendleton between The Dalles and Union. —Pendleton Tribune.
