Excusable Ignorance. It is often said that one of the best ways of learning a thing is to teach it to others; but the rule does not always hold good.

"But Mrs. F.," said my brother, "it takes four pecks to make a bushel."

"Oh, does it?" said she. "Well, you see, I never had any experience in measuring grain before I was married. I always taught school."

WISDOM FOR WOMEN.

It is a suggestion worth noting at house-cleaning time to clean grained wood with cold tea.

FRESH pears sliced and sprinkled lightly with powdered sugar are a delicious breakfast dish served with whipped cream. This is exclusively for millionaires now; later in the season we may all try some.

If you can't have salted almonds try peanuts. Blanch, peel, and immerse in a frying basket, in hot olive oil, exactly like their betters, and when they are out, brown and crisp, and salted, they will taste about as well.

It is a well-deserved victory for them. The way they throw their entire stock before the public, they cannot help but sell lots of goods, as we saw with our own eyes goods going out at 50 per cent. less than they can be bought elsewhere. We have learned that there is no loss than 20 cases on the way of assorted
