THE SILVER STATUE

Its Unveiling the Event of the Day at the Great-White City.

MAJOR MAGINNIS LAUDS MONTANA

After the Exercises the Montana Commissioners Entertained Friends and Fair Commissioners.

CHICAGO, May 30.—Montana's famous solid silver statue of "Justice" was unveiled in the mines and mining building today. It is the statue for which the actress, Ada Rehan, stood as a model, and by so doing created great contention among her sisters of the profession. The unveiling of the statue was the event of the day at the White City, and the great building in which the statue stands was thronged with people eager to see the magnificent work of art. While the crowd was assembling, the Cincinnati band played national airs. The opening address was by Major Martin McGinnis. When he finished, Mrs. Rickards, of Montana, stepped forward, and, taking up a small silken cord, gave it a gentle pull, and the stars and stripes which enfolded the silver image of "Justice" fell away and exposed the statue for the first time to public gaze. The crowd gave vent to wild cheers, while the band played "America."

Washington News.

SEATTLE, Wash., May 30.—[Special to the CHRONICLE.]—The exercises of today have passed off very satisfactorily to all. The services were very imposing. The G. A. R. and Sons of Veterans marched in line, together with many prominent citizens, and other orders and officers. The only disagreeable feature was a slight shower of rain which dampened the plumes of the state militia.

The appointments of Judge Brinker for the position of district attorney and Mr. Drake for the position of U. S. marshal meets with great approval among all the well-wishing and good citizens whether they be democrat or republican. Both are men of unquestioned ability and will make efficient officers.

For two days the steamer Haytian Republic has been anchored in the harbor, undergoing a search by the custom officers, who have been informed that she has opium on board. The Haytian Republic is a beautiful ocean steamer, and is a decoration to the Sound trade. On Saturday evening when she hauled in at ocean dock, the U. S. officers were then ready to seize her, and since that time the officers have been at work on board, both day and night. So far but little opium has been discovered, and that which was found on board is supposed to belong to some of the workmen. Various telegrams and letters found in the office of the steamer made it appear for a while that she had on board opium, but a further search revealed that the communications, in cypher, referred to coal and not to opium. Just what will be done on account of this wrongful seizure, is not yet known.

The Alaska Tourist Season.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 31.—[Special.]—The steamer Queen left yesterday for Alaska. She will stop at Puget sound ports and start north June 7th. The demand for accommodations for the opening trip has been unusually heavy, and the Pacific Coast Steamship Company has only a very few staterooms remaining. From Southern California there will be a large delegation, and the number of Eastern tourists is also large.

Expects a Fall.

The established rates for world's fair passenger business are being maintained, contrary to the expectations of the general public, and even of railroad men. The actual number of world's fair passengers probably does not exceed 10 persons per day out of Portland. It is not thought, however, that this order of things can continue long. Different local passenger men estimate that not more than 15 to 20 persons have left Portland daily on all the lines to visit the fair, and a number of these would have gone in any event, as they desired to go east, and would have done so even had the fair not been in progress.—Telegram.

THE HORSE.

The Best Point in Support of the Evolutionist.

Written for THE CHRONICLE.]
An item in Saturday's CHRONICLE about the finding on Chenoweth creek of the tooth of an ancient horse, has suggested to me that perhaps it would be of interest to your readers to know something of the antecedents of that most useful and sensible of all animals. There is little doubt but the horse originated here, in our own country, as there are very many evidences to prove. It is also almost certain that his ancestors existed for long ages before his master, man did.

FOUND DROWNED.

An Unknown Man Drifting Down the Columbia.

Saturday evening as Turner Leavens was standing on his fish-wheel above the upper Cascades he saw the body of a man drifting past. At this juncture Louis Iman and James Shepherd, who were in a boat going to Geo. H. Stevenson's, were hailed and immediately went and secured the body, towing it to Powder island where it was made fast. Sunday morning Mr. Stevenson came down to Cascades on a hand car after County Clerk Carr to hold an inquest. Mr. Carr being the only officer at home, he accompanied Mr. Stevenson to where the remains were and an inquest held. The witnesses were Louis Iman, James Shepherd and Turner Leavens. There is no clue whatever to his identity, but the body is supposed to be that of a man who fell in the river at the rapids of Cello. As there was nothing on his person whatever to identify him, his name will undoubtedly never be known. There was no evidence whatever of foul play and his drowning was undoubtedly an accident. He was buried on Powder island.—Skamania County Pioneer.

President of the Santa Fe.

Joseph W. Reinhart, recently elected president of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad company, is one of the most successful railroad financiers of the country. He has had a long experience, having entered the railroad business in 1869. The new president, who is a native of Pittsburg, Penn., is a man of fine appearance and strong character. As auditor of the New York, West Shore and Buffalo Railroad he originated an accounting system that has been adopted on many others of the larger roads. In 1888 he became connected with the Atchison, giving his attention to its financial condition. Under his supervision as vice president a financial reorganization was effected, placing the company on a sound basis. He succeeds Allen Manvel, whose death recently occurred.

Moro News.

Moro, Or., May 30, 1893.

We have had more rain this spring than usual. Therefore, the grain is looking fine and everything seems prosperous. There is a large acreage of wheat sown, and if the prospects for a crop are realized Sherman county can stand on her feet again. Moro is building up some. Mr. Damon is building a residence near the Presbyterian church, and there are to be two or three residences built in Mowry's addition soon. Mr. E. M. Leslie was busy last week enclosing his lots with a fence. He has also planted shade trees and will have a very nice place to build. Mr. Adams' shade trees, which he set out this spring, are looking nice, and are a great improvement to his property. The Methodists are holding a meeting here, which brought a great many people from different parts of the county to Moro last Sunday. Mr. Peddicord will close a nine months' term of school Friday. Miss Belle Coleman's school closes today. More Anon. Dox.

Collector Phelps will undertake the contract of deporting seven Chinese under the provisions of the Geary act today.
