The sermon of Rev. W. C. Curtis yesterday would have been of a startling nature had his audience consisted of Presbyterians. Being a Congregationalist it is not likely he will be martyred for his opinions. He believes with Dr. Briggs on all principal points of dissension between that gentleman and his church, and further said that he stood on the same ground twenty years ago. He believed that the Bible was fallible because when two propositions were diametrically opposed, both could not be true, and the Bible contains many such instances. As regards the Presbyterians, the late discussion is bound to prove disastrous, and will split up the church badly if it does not totally disrupt it. The dispatches today bring the news that Rev. Dr. James Roseb, of the Second Presbyterian church of Albany N. Y., in his morning sermon yesterday renounced allegiance to the Presbyterian denomination because of the decision of the general assembly in the Briggs case. It is probable the church will support his action and leave the denomination with him.

It has been repeatedly stated that President Cleveland would recommend to the next congress the imposition of an income tax, but a number of congressmen, who have been to the White House day after day for nearly three months past, declare that nothing has developed to show that the president has ever declared himself specifically in favor of such a tax. They say that on the contrary, he has been careful to fight shy of the subject, preferring not to commit himself in advance of his message to the next congress. More than one of them has asked for an expression of his views upon this proposed piece of legislation, but failed to secure it. It is probably safe to say that there is not a man in Washington today who can say whether or not the president favors or looks askance upon the tax on incomes—barring Mr. Cleveland himself, and he has the faculty of keeping his own counsel in an unusual degree.

The following section of our treaty with China made 1880 seems to dispose of the claim that the Geary act is in violation of our treaty obligations:

"Whenever, in the opinion of the government of the United States, the coming of Chinese laborers to the United States or their residences therein affects the interests of that country, or to endanger the good order of the said locality within the territory thereof, the government of China agrees that the government of the United States may regulate, limit or suspend such coming or residence, but may not absolutely prohibit it."

The S. F. Wave tells a good story about the late Bishop Kip, whose sense of dignity were a humorous lining. "Can't spot the place, but I've seen you before. Where in h—ll did I know you, anyhow?" asked a Californian on meeting the bishop in an clerical garb at an auction. "I cannot say," replied the dignitary; "what part of hell are you from?"

The city democrats have taken steps to put a ticket in the field for the forthcoming city election. It has been a good many years since regular party tickets have been formed, but there can be no serious objection to them, and the democrats claim that the city's interests are better served, whichever ticket wins.

A Salem man says that the people of that city do not endorse the action of D. Sherman in bringing suit to restrain the board from locating the Soldiers' Home at Roseburg. He says that if Sherman does not withdraw the suit, that a mass meeting of the citizens will be called to denounce the suit.

Proprietors of beer gardens in Chicago stand in with Sunday closing of the fair. Recently one of them had signs reading: "Will remain closed until 8 p. m., as long as the fair is open on Sunday."

I will furnish ice to any and all patrons at 25 cents per 100 pounds. Leave orders at C. F. Lauer's, or on the wagon. C. E. ALLISON.

GOLD MINES IN THE SOUTH.

They Were Worked Quite Regularly Before the War.

Few persons have any idea of the quantity of gold that exists in the western part of Georgia, South Carolina and North Carolina. The majority of these mines were known forty or fifty years ago, but have been abandoned. In almost every instance a very significant amount of ore taken from them has been used. A short time ago Mr. C. B. Warrand, of this city, visited one of the most interesting and valuable of these gold-bearing quartz districts at the foot of the Blue Ridge mountains on the banks of the Broad river, in York county, S. C., near Smith's ford, and he gives an interesting account of his visit, says the Savannah News.

Forty-five years ago and up to the war, he says, the mines there were worked regularly with slave labor. A shaft was sunk on the veins, which vary from three to five feet in thickness and which are almost perpendicular. The quartz ore was roasted on the spot to make it more friable and was then carted often for miles to some water power, where it was run through a primitive stamp-mill. With slave labor these mines paid well, though less than one-half of the gold was recovered, probably twenty-five per cent. of the free gold being lost; the pyrites or gold sulphurets were entirely thrown away, being considered worthless. Still, with cheap labor it paid, and thousands of dollars of gold were sent to the United States mints annually. Since the war a number of spasmodic efforts have been made to work the mines, which invariably ended in a failure. As a rule the capital employed was entirely too small and labor-saving devices were either beyond the means of the operators or were unknown at the time. Lately this state of affairs has changed and the brilliant success made at the Hale mine in Kershaw county, S. C., in working up daily hundreds of tons of ore containing only two dollars and fifty cents of gold at a cost of forty cents per ton, and recovering ninety-five per cent. of the gold by the coronation process, seems to have demonstrated that with proper skill and modern mechanical appliances and sufficient capital many low-grade ores can be profitably mined. Such a substantial proof as a surplus of fifty thousand dollars accumulated in one year by the Hale mine is certainly a very convincing argument.

The time is near at hand, Mr. Warrand believes, when the value of our southern gold mines will be recognized, giving employment to thousands and adding daily to southern wealth. Gold mining in the south never will be in the nature of a bonanza, but if it is carried on like any other business, with only moderate expectations in proportion to the capital invested, and with the help of all improved methods and machinery, it will be found safer and more remunerative than the majority of ventures.

Making Glad the Waste (Waist) Places.

"That's what I call making glad the waist places," said Smithson as he put his arm around a lady's waist. But Lilly won't care much for this show of affection if Smithson doesn't get rid of that disagreeable catarrh of his. Won't somebody tell him that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy will cure him.

By its mild, soothing, antiseptic, cleansing and healing properties, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy cures the worst cases of Chronic Catarrh in the Head, as thousands can testify. "Cold in the Head" is cured with a few applications. Catarrhal Headache is relieved and cured as if by magic.

In perfect faith, the makers of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy—the World's Dispensary Medical Association, of Buffalo, N. Y., offer to pay $500 to any one suffering from Chronic Catarrh in the Head whom they cannot cure.

Now, if the conditions were reversed—if they asked you to pay $500 for a positive cure you might hesitate. Here are reputable men, with years of honorable dealing; thousands of dollars and a great name back of them.

They believe in themselves. Isn't it worth a trial? Isn't any trial preferable to catarrh?

WINANS

THE NEW TOWN has been platted on the old camp ground, at the Forks and Falls of Hood river, with large, slightly lots, broad streets and alleys, good soil and pure water, with shade in profusion, perfect drainage, delightful mountain climate, the central attraction as a mountain summer resort for all Oregon. Being the nearest town to Mt. Hood, it is unparalleled as a manufacturing center, being the natural center for 150 square miles of the best cedar and fir timber, possessing millions of horse-power in its dashing streams and water-falls, easily harnessed. Where cheap motive power exists, there the manufacturing will center, surrounded by soil and climate that cannot be excelled anywhere for fruit and agriculture, and with transportation already assured you will find this the place to make a perfect home or a paying investment.

See me on the ground, or address me at Hood River, Wasco County, Oregon.
