CAST UP BY THE SEA.

Strange Recovery of a Ship That Was Sunk Fifty Years Ago.

The Wreck Literally Incrusted with Sea Shells Presents a Picturesque Appearance—A Mystery of the Deep.

The Norwegian bark Elsa Andersen came into Galveston a day or two ago with a strange-looking vessel in tow. This was a very small brig of English build, dismantled and in need of repairs, which had been sunk more than fifty years ago, judging from its ancient appearance and awkward rigging, so sailors who have looked at it told a Philadelphia Times correspondent. On the afternoon of the 17th of February, off the coast of the Faroe islands, where the Elsa Andersen had been blown by a recent gale, there was a violent upheaval of the sea, about two miles distant from the spot where she was riding, that sent several waves sweeping over her which did much damage and threatened to submerge her entirely. When the alarm which this sudden sea had subsided there was seen about a mile off a wreck which had not been there before the upheaval of the bottom of the sea, a phenomenon corresponding to an earthquake on land. The wreck excited much interest among the officers and passengers of the Norwegian vessel, and an order was issued to approach the strange craft, when it was seen that the remains of her rigging, stumps of masts, and the hull itself were covered by thousands of sea shells, causing the wreck to present the appearance of the miniature ships of shellwork to be purchased at any seaside town. The leaks which had sunk the vessel were now stopped by an accumulation of barnacles, and the derelict rode the waves like a duck. A boatload of sailors was dispatched to board the wreck, and they found the hold and the under decks water tight, save for a few feet of water, which, covering the cargo, had sunk her. But this cargo and the other contents of the ship were entirely destroyed, most of the former having been devoured by the denizens of the deep. In what had evidently been the captain's berth were found several iron-bound chests, which had resisted to some extent the ravages of the time and the sea, but, on being opened, the contents were found to be reduced to a sort of pulp, with the exception of a leather bag. This had become hardened until it was necessary to break it open with an ax, when from it poured a quantity of rusty disks, which, being cleaned, proved to be golden guineas of the year 1800 and amounting to the sum of five thousand and twenty-five dollars. There were also several watches of gold and a stomacher of pearls; these, however, are valueless, having been blackened by the action of the water. The wreck was attached to the Elsa Andersen by a cable and towed to Galveston, where it attracted crowds of visitors. On the fourth day after its detachment from the bottom of the sea by the quake, the water was all pumped out of the derelict, when it was found to contain three skeletons, two of them of men and the other a woman's, this last being of a person of gigantic build, and in life of nearly seven feet in height. About the neck of one of the male skeletons was a chain of gold, to which was attached a silver crucifix and evidently a rosary.

The Roslyn Bank Robbery—Evidence From the District Where They Were Captured.
FOSSIL, Oregon, Dec. 2, 1892.
O. W. R. Mfg. Co., Portland, Oregon:
Dear Sir—Your Congo oil is the best medicine. I was recently kicked by a horse on the leg, and was hobbling around on crutches. I was induced to try a bottle of Congo oil, and after applying freely for one day I threw away my crutches. It works like lightning. Yours Truly, J. A. HARRISON, City Marshal, Fossil, Oregon.

The promptness and certainty of its cures have made Chamberlain's Cough Remedy famous. It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping coughs, and is the most effectual remedy known for these diseases. Mr. C. B. Main of Union City, Pa., says: "I have a great sale on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. I warrant every bottle and have never heard of one failing to give entire satisfaction." 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists.

SPINNING wheels are not altogether things of the past. Go into Cornwall or Wales or to the Scotch Highlands and you will find plenty of cottages where the spinning wheel is as much a piece of useful, household furniture as are the scrubbing brush and the kitchen broom.

Spots on the Sun Visible.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—Professor Holden, of the Lick observatory, telegraphs that it may be of general interest to know that a large group of spots are now clearly visible on the sun which can be seen with the naked eye by the use of smoked glass.

While Mr. T. J. Richey of Altona, Mo., was traveling in Kansas he was taken violently ill with cholera morbus. He called at a drug store to get some medicine and the druggist recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy so highly he concluded to try it. The result was immediate relief, and a few doses cured him completely. It is made for bowel complaint and nothing else. It never fails. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. Im

THE DALLES, Wasco County, Oregon,

The Gate City of the Inland Empire is situated at the head of navigation on the Middle Columbia, and is a thriving, prosperous city.

ITS TERRITORY.
It is the supply city for an extensive and rich agricultural and grazing country, its trade reaching as far south as Summer Lake, a distance of over two hundred miles.

The Largest Wool Market.
The rich grazing country along the eastern slope of the Cascades furnishes pasture for thousands of sheep, the wool from which finds market here.

The Dalles is the largest original wool shipping point in America, about 5,000,000 pounds being shipped last year.

ITS PRODUCTS.
The salmon fisheries are the finest on the Columbia, yielding this year a revenue of thousands of dollars, which will be more than doubled in the near future.

The products of the beautiful Klickitat valley find market here, and the country south and east has this year filled the warehouses, and all available storage places overflowing with their products.

ITS WEALTH.
It is the richest city of its size on the coast and its money is scattered over and is being used to develop more farming country than is tributary to any other city in Eastern Oregon.
