The magic lantern exhibition in the Chronicle hall Monday night for the benefit of St. Paul's Sunday school was quite well attended, and a nice program was well carried out. About 125 tickets were sold. The magic lantern used is a very fine one which was bought by several of the Eastern Oregon Episcopal Sunday schools. The entertainment was managed by Rev. Pototwine of Pendleton, who was on his way to Portland to attend the Episcopal convention now in session there.

We are in receipt of the first number of the first volume of McClure's magazine published simultaneously in New York and London. As a literary journal its announcement promises excellence of a high order. Its corps of contributors are headed by Prof. Henry Drummond, W. D. Howells, authors of worldwide reputation. The contents of the first number is an evidence of its literary merit. Hammond's article of "Where Man Got His Ears," and Thos.
A. Edison's "Edge of the Future," and "Count DeLesseps Today," by R. H.
Sherard, are of special interest. The magazine is illustrated and its terms are $1.50 per annum.

Oregon Medical Association.

The Oregon State Medical Association will hold their annual meeting in this city on next Tuesday and Wednesday.
The trustees of the Congregational church have kindly tendered the use of that edifice to the association. Dr.
Rinehart, president, anticipates a very large attendance, coming as they will from all parts of the state. At the last gathering of the medical profession it was decided to change the place of meeting from Portland, where they have always met, to a point east of the mountains. Our city is famous for its hospitality, and she will cordially receive this association, consisting, as it does, of men of acknowledged learning and ability, whose capacity of appreciation is parallel with their influence for good.
This meeting will be one of the most important ones ever held here or in the state.

A Singular Incident.

The old wood barge, which has been at Chenoweth landing for the purpose of piling cordwood upon for steamer use, broke away and drifted down the river unobserved some time ago, and it was thought it had gone over the Cascades.
About a week ago it was found in a lake near Viento, having in some mysterious way, with a favorable wind just at the right time, pushed its way through some willows and thence to the upper end of the lake, where it was concealed from view from any point on the river by large trees. It is one of the most singular incidents ever recorded.

Will Make an Example.

Mr. Wm. Floyd went to Hood River yesterday to take possession of a steer which had been stolen from him. The brand had been altered and the steer was sold to a Hood River butcher. Mr.
Floyd will bring the guilty party to time, he says. These suits cost him something, but it is due to the community that these thieves be prosecuted.

Memorial Day.

Memorial day of the Woodmen will be next Sunday, at which time services will be held at Sunset cemetery and the beautiful monument in memory of Wm. Michell will be unveiled. A choir program has been arranged.

WOOD, WOOD, WOOD.

wood, at lowest market rates at Jos. T.
Peters & Co. (Office Second and Jefferson streets.)

The Fruit Crop.

Now that a large fruit crop is assured, there should be immediate action in the matter of providing a first-class fruitdrier of sufficient capacity to dry the surplus product of the entire county, to be located at some point easy of access to the greater number of farmers of the valley. The establishment of such a plant will prove one of the most potent factors in the future progress of the valley in point of development and settlement, and there should be no delay in the matter.—Democratic Times.

There is nothing I have ever used for muscular rheumatism that gives me as much relief as Chamberlain's Pain Balm does. I have been using it for about two years—four bottles in all—as occasion required, and always keep a bottle of it in my home. I believe I know a good thing when I get hold of it, and Pain Balm is the best liniment I have ever met with. W. B. Denny, dairyman, New Lexington, Ohio. 50 cent bottles for sale by Blakeley & Houghton.

WASHINGTON GRANGERS.

The Meeting Opens Auspiciously at White Salmon.

WHITE SALMON, June 6, 1893.

The indications early this morning were not very favorable for a pleasant day for an outing, as there was every prospect of a windy day. Therefore the excursionists who left on the Regulator for White Salmon were not very numerous, being only about forty persons.
They were however reinforced at Hood River by about an equal number. Upon arriving at White Salmon they were met by the teams of the citizens of White Salmon, and the teams of their guests, and then commenced the pleasures of the day, which were conceded by all to be one of the most pleasant excursions on the river. The ride from the landing to the camp ground—about two miles—was up a lovely mountain road in almost a complete avenue of oaks, pines and maples.

Upon arrival at the grounds, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jewett, the surprise to those who had never visited them before was a grand one. Beautiful grassy lawns, flowering shrubs, roses and other numerous plants perfuming the air with their fragrance, the magnificent scenery both up and down the river, with Mt. Hood in the foreground, and the pretty little town of Hood River dotted the south bank of the Columbia, all united in making the first introduction to White Salmon an ever memorable one. One of the excursionists exclaimed; "There is no second place to this on the river." After feasting the eyes upon the lovely scenery, the party repaired to the commodious barn which had been festooned and adorned with evergreens and flags in a most artistic manner.

The following program was then rendered:

Words of Welcome..... Mrs. Jennie Jewett Response..... E. J. Mills
Music.
Welcome Address from Klickitat County.....
Response in Behalf of State Grange..... J. O. Wing
Music.
Annual Address of Worship Master, D. L. Russell
Reminiscences of Grange Work..... Mrs. E. L. Smith Song, "Who Will Reap?".....
Address..... J. M. Wagner
Volunteer Addresses..... H. M. Trenner and others Benefits of the Grange..... Jas. Nevin Song, "Where There's a Will There's a Way." W. C. T. U. Work..... Mrs. E. L. Smith Song, "The Farmer's Man That Feeds Us All"

A unanimous vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Smith for words of greeting and encouragement. Her address was very fine. The address of J. M. Wagner of Salem was an equally happy effort, well worthy of reproduction in printed form.

At 12:30 an adjournment was made and the guests of the White Salmon people strolled over the grounds, played croquet, quito, ball, etc., until 1:30, when a call was made to come and eat, for "all things were ready," and what a feast!—barbecued-beef, done to perfection, pies, berries and cream, etc., etc., enough and to spare, although over 300 people had partaken. Quite a number wanted Granger applications on the spot if that table was a sample of the way Grangers lived, and we understood it was the fifth degree of that order.
After spending another hour or two in social chattering, the whistle reminded us that we must leave this most enchanting place, Hood River and The Dalles joining in saying that never were guests more royally entertained, and especial thanks were due to Mr. and Mrs.
Jewett, whose untiring efforts and open-hearted generosity had made the day such a pleasant one to all who were there. That an exceedingly good time is in store for the members of the Washington State Grange, now convened there, is assured, if today is to be taken as a sample. The bright and happy faces indicated that they fully expect that it will be.

In closing will say that those who failed to avail themselves of the opportunity of taking this excursion missed the best of the season. COLUMBUS.
