JUNE JOTTINGS.

Fifth and Point Paragraphed by Our Pencil Pushers.

I pleaded long for the whispered "yes," which she long withheld; but oh, I sigh to think how her name I'd bless if she'd only stuck to "no!"

Saturday will hold the place of honor this month as evening star.

Arrangements have been made to test the legality of the cigarette law in Washington.

The U. S. Land office officials in this city have been as busy as it is possible for men to be for the past few days, receiving filings on the overlap of the Northern Pacific land grant in this district.

There will be a meeting of the Alumni of the W. I. A. at the residence of Mrs. L. E. Crowe this evening at 7:30 o'clock sharp. A full attendance is requested as there is important business to come before the meeting.

That road above the Methodist church, which has been the subject of so much talk, is in an almost impassable condition. It would improve it somewhat if the loose rocks, old tin cans, etc., were thrown out.

Engene A. Brackett, who was indicted by the grand jury in Grant county, quite a while since, for the crime of embezzlement, was convicted of the charge at the recent term of circuit court there. He was school clerk of Canyon City precinct and absconded after having squandered several hundred dollars of school money. Gambling was his ruin.

According to a law enacted by the last legislature it is unlawful to shoot upon or from the public highways. Another law not so apparently useless, is that persons driving stock along a public highway, leaving such road obstructed with stones, earth or other debris, leaving same to remain for twenty-four hours, is guilty of a misdemeanor, whose least punishment is $200.

The semi-annual session of the Sherman County Musical association will be held at Grass Valley on Tuesday and Wednesday, June 20th and 21st, 1893. The day session will be devoted to discussion of best methods of teaching, and other subjects relating to music. An instructive and entertaining programme consisting of songs, recitations, etc., will be rendered each evening.

STATE GRANGE.

The Washington Meeting Keeps up its Interest.

TUESDAY.

The fifth annual session of the Washington State Grange, assembled at White Salmon on June 6th, called to order at 10 o'clock a. m. A large delegation of Patrons of Husbandry were in attendance at the opening.

At 11 a. m. an open session of the Grange was had for the entertainment of invited guests, a large number of whom had responded to a cordial invitation given them by the Grange. Many friends from The Dalles and Hood River availed themselves of the excursion trip of the steamer Regulator and took the trip, grasping the hand and breaking bread with the Granger.

At 5 p. m. the genial agent of the D. P. & A. N. Co. announced that the best of friends must part, and, after many kind parting words, the teams conveyed the guests to the steamer Regulator, after which the sons and daughters of toil resumed their session.

EVENING.

Called to order at 7:30 p. m. A resolution was introduced to prohibit private corporations from using public highways for private purposes. Referred to committee on legislation. The reports of the different State Grange officers were received and referred to the proper committees. The reports of subordinate Granges were read. After some other detail work the Grange adjourned to meet June 7th, at 8:30.

More Trouble.

The little Inland Star is perpetually getting into trouble. In trying to make a landing recently a spring line rope caught in the propeller so as to render it unmanageable. It finally drifted down on to a rock, where at last accounts, it still remains, abandoned.

The Big Shows.

Sanger & Lent's Combined Circus, Menagerie, Hippodrome, Oceanic Aquarium and Congress of Living Wonders, will exhibit at The Dalles June 29th. Reports from all quarters pronounce the shows the leaders in tented amusements and cannot fail to interest the masses. That it possesses many rare animals never before seen in this country, the only real Aquatic Show of sea animals, a great Hippodrome, a Double Circus and many phenomenal living wonders is without question. Its career has been a triumphal success. It is enthusiastically received and immensely patronized everywhere it spreads its tents, and it is said to give more and better show than any other organization in America. The newspapers are unanimous in its praise. We look for a grand outpouring of the populace on show day.

There will be an excursion to Cascade Locks and return on Saturday, June 10th, leaving The Dalles at 7 a. m., arriving at the locks at 11:30 a. m., returning at 3 p. m. Fare for the round trip 50 cents, children 25 cents. As the Dalles City will commence running on Monday the 12th inst., this will be the last of the excursions. Everybody come and have a good time. D. P. & A. N. Co.

WOOD, WOOD, WOOD.

Best grades of oak, fir, and slab cord wood, at lowest market rates at Jos. T. Peters & Co. (Office Second and Jefferson streets.)

Go to N. Harris for fine prints; 20 yards for $1.

Will Be First-Class.

The concert to be given Friday evening, June 9th, by The Dalles string band will undoubtedly be the musical event of the season. The entrancing strains of the violin, as interpreted by Prof. Birgfeld, are well known to all of our citizens, and it is just as well known that there is no dearth of talent to make a fitting complement. The highest class of music will be rendered; in fact, nothing less is ever tolerated by this orchestra, and the concert will be equal to the best in any city.

The following program will be given:

PART I.
Overture.....Beatrice
Selection.....Faust
Cornet Solo.....On the Rhine

PART II.
Overture.....Nauvette
Solo.....selection from Offrette
Violin Solo.....Mendelssohn's Wedding March

The program will be followed by a dance.

PERSONAL MENTION.

N. Harris has returned from Portland. Messrs. Scott and Abel Erskenville of Grass Valley are in the city on land matters.

Columbia—J. E. Burnum, Eugene; C. J. Smith, L. J. Everett, H. Peary, Portland; Charles Seehafer, Heppner; Geo. Carl, Spokane; N. S. Sierer, Mosier; W. T. Wooden, Oregon City; E. L. Bottos, A. Hommer, Cascade Locks; D. D. Hoffer, Wm. Meseker, J. Mover, Vancouver; John Wilson, Alex. Sutherland, Salem.

The Coming Man.

"Got a pin?" The reporter looked down at the urchin from whom came the innocent inquiry and there met a look of solicitude that prompted him to ask what he wanted of a pin. "Why, then, you can see our show," said the little fellow. He was the spokesman, and the largest of a number of little boys ranging from 4 to 6 years, all of whom had more or less pins sticking in their pinafores. The pin was produced, and the show exhibited, which consisted of a number of pictures pasted in the bottom of a pasteboard box. Who will say that we have not in The Dalles growing business men?

OPEN COURT.

A Washington Judge Who Does Not Take All Day For a Ruling.

Attorney Riddell went over into Washington yesterday on court business before Judge Smith. Arriving at the justice dispensary he was directed to Smith's house for the missing judge, a short distance in the country. Here he was again referred to the field, where, the judge in his shirt sleeves, and a broad straw hat, perched on a mowing machine, was cutting hay. Riddell stated his mission and the judge said, "wait till I get to the corner." After driving to the corner of the field, and squaring around the machine ready for the next swath, the judge said, "now proceed." "Your honor," said Riddell, putting one foot on the circumference of the wheel, and looking up at the sweating court, "I wish to make a motion for default in the case of."

"Granted. Court's adjourned. Git up, you lazy brutes. What are you foolin' about?"

"Good day, judge."

"Good day," was the somewhat indistinct response, as the song of the sickle contended for auricular attention, and Riddell, with an amused smile, turned homeward.

Among the Antiquarians.

Many antique curiosities are to be found in The Dalles for a little searching. O. Kinersly recently exhibited to us a land patent for 160 acres in the territory of Arkansas, granted to Andrew Michael April 23, 1821, "in pursuance of the act of congress appropriating and granting land to the late army of the United States, passed on and since the 6th day of May, 1812." Attached is the bold signature of James Monroe, president of the United States.

S. B. Adams has in his possession a deed issued in the time of George III, which has been handed down through the successive generations. It recites that Noah Griswold releases 50 acres of land in the township of Windsor, county of Hartford, colony of Connecticut, to his son, "this 23th day of September, in the 13th year of the reign of our fore-foreign lord, GEORGE the Third, of Great Britain, A. D. 1773."

H. C. Nielsen, when a boy in Schleswig, Germany, dug up a number of old coins which are yet in his possession, some of which show evidence of great age. They are of brass and copper. One bears the impression of Frederick III, and dated 1660. Another has a representation of the sun, moon and seven stars and the inscription Alexius, as near as can be deciphered. This is thought to mean Alexander the Great. A number of others have the likenesses of the Roman profile, others the Greek, with their peculiar semi-circular head dress. They have been stamped upon dies by malleable force, the edges are rough and the coin unsymmetrical. They are probably of great value, though Mr. Nielsen has never taken the trouble to inquire.

Coroner's Inquest.

We the undersigned, the jury empaneled to inquire into the cause of the death of Amos Bills, after having all of the testimony offered before us, hereby find that the said Amos Bills came to his death by drowning while attempting to cross the John Day river in a small boat, and that no person is in any way connected with the death of said deceased, and that the drowning of said deceased was an unavoidable accident.
