Criminal Advertising.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 8, 1893. "Stickers" are giving the treasury department a lot of bother. They are circulating bits of paper with advertisements on the face and mucilage on the back. Made by a lick of the tongue to adhere to the reverse side of a silver dollar, one of these little plasters is just big enough to fit inside of the milled rim. They have been coming widely into use in the west and south. Every time a merchant receives a cart-wheel dollar in the way of business he slaps a sticker upon it which reads: "Take me back to Buggs' cheap furniture house, where you get the biggest value for cash;" or, "Return me to Snaggs, the dry goods man, and I will fetch a bar-This ingenious idea is copy-Remains of the Victims of Friday's Ac- righted by a western man, who prints and supplies the gum stickers to merchants at so much a thousand. THE FIRST LADY OF FRANCE.

Garacteristics and Daily Life of the Wife of President Carnot.

Mme. Carnot is a brunette, with dark blue eyes, a pale complexion, delicately molded features, and hair as black and glossy as black satin, says a writer in the Ladies' Home Journal. Her expression is at once intellectual and charming. Outside of her official duties, which are many, Mme. Carnot leads a very quiet and domestic life. She rises at eight o'clock, and her first breakfast, consisting of a cup of coffee and a roll, is served to her in her dressing-room. Until ten o'clock she occupies herself with her private correspondence, which always includes a letter to one or the other of her children, only her youngest son, Francois, who is at school in Paris, being at home. At ten o'clock she joins the president in his library and aids him in examining the voluminous mass of letters which arrives daily at the Elysee. Her thorough knowledge of modern languages and her intelligent and unfailing good sense make her a valuable assistant. The second breakfast, or lunch, is served at one o'clock in the breakfast-room of the palace and is usually a very simple repast. Guests are seldom invited to luncheon at the Elysee, as both the president and his wife prefer entertaining their friends at dinner. Lunch once concluded, Mme. Carnot, on the days of state dinner parties or balls, gives audience to her chief cook. Then she drives out, either to accompany her husband to the opening of an exhibition, or the inauguration of some charitable institution, or to some other official function. The ordering and superintending of her toilet absorbs a good deal of her time, and is really one of her official duties, the dress of the wife of the ruler of state exercising a widespread influence over the commercial interests of France. Then she is interested in a number of charities, and drops in from time to time to see how her proteges are progressing. When M. and Mme. Carnot cannot dine alone dinner is served at seven o'clock. Every year about the 1st of July the president and Mme. Carnot go to Fontainebleau to spend the summer, taking up their abode in a wing of the well known palace. Their quarters have been scrupulously arranged so as not to encroach on the historic portion of the edifice, and in that manner the convenience of the tourists and sightseers that come to visit it is fully respected. It was Mmc. Carnot who se lected, out of all the summer palaces that are placed at the disposal of the ruler Washington, June 10.—The report of Oregon State Grange, Patrons of Hus- of France, that of Fontainebleau, for she was so devoted and helpful a daugh-

Dead Men's Shoes.

It is not generally known that a special line of shoes is manufactured for the undertaking trade. In appearance they differ to only a slight extent from the shoes made for ordinary purshoes, and they are made entirely for ly from $1.50, and they answer every purpose as well as those costing five times as much. It is said there is only ceives all the year round, this is probably correct. It is well known that special lines are made for burial purposes in various articles of clothing, but it will be news to many that shoes with light pasteboard soles are made to
